AFRAID TO GO BACK TO WORK

EVEN THE WATCHMEN DESERT THE WARNKE WASHERY.

Fifty Men Were Engaged to Work There but Only Five of Them Reported for Duty, Because of the Fear Prevalent of the Duryea Strikers—District President Nichols Claims There Are No Union Men Working at the Oxford and Cayuga—Other Strike News.

No new colliers or washeries started up, yesterday, contrary to expectations. It was announced on Saturday that the Woodward at Kingston would resume operations, yesterday morning, but the effort was not made. Inquiry at the company's office elicited only the statement that it was not definitely known what day the start would be made.

Frederick Warnke had fifty men engaged to operate his washery at Duryea, but only five of them showed up for work. Some of the others sent word that they were afraid to work in Duryea on account of the bad name the place bears. Even the men employed at the Warnke washery as watchmen are deserting, through fear. Mr. Warnke and members of his family are compelled now to take turns at assisting the watchmen still on duty.

The Oxford and Cayuga continue to work, and according to the claims of the respective companies the forces at each place are augmented daily by desertions from the strikers' ranks.

District President Nichols claims there are no strikers back at work in these places. The claim is made in a lengthy statement issued yesterday.

President Nichols' statement follows:

NICHOLLS' STATEMENT.

Notwithstanding statements appearing in the press coming from officials of various coal companies, to the effect that they will not make any effort to start their colliers until the miners apply for their work again; we are daily notified that the best men in the industry are very actively engaged in trying to persuade the men to return to work.

The effort made to cause dissatisfaction with the present arrangement concerning the distribution of "relief" has been a complete failure; and we now fear no evil results from that source.

The miners decided that it will be safer to accept the plan of distribution as submitted by President Mitchell, than the equal distribution plan as suggested by some of the officials of the coal companies. They reasoned that President Mitchell would naturally plan to use the funds that the expenditure would bring in; while they also reasoned that the operators' plans would just as naturally be to have the money so expended that it would weaken instead of strengthening the strike and eventually break it, as they did in similar instances some years ago, when they were successful in getting the men quarrel among themselves.

The funds so far have been found sufficient to meet the actual necessities. While the number of them in need will naturally increase as time goes on; the increased necessities, which will commence with the beginning of next week, when the assessment levied on the bituminous miners will be forwarded to the national office. This, together with the aid we expect from the other labor organizations and sympathizers, will so increase our fund as to enable us to meet the increased demands for relief.

We also expect a continual exodus of mine workers to other fields, which will also strengthen our position. Each miner is trying to fortify himself and family for the winter by getting into the work, which will make him independent, and we do not expect after a time to have any more remaining than the old men and a few who may be unable to obtain work.

NOT EX-STRIKERS.

While it has been reported far and near that the Oxford and Cayuga colliers are in operation, the facts are, according to reports received at this office from our local officers, that none of our miners are working at these places, and that only coal which was loaded before the strike and left in the mine cars is the greatest portion if not all the coal that is now being hoisted to the surface. The operators' only hope at this time is the moral effect of the mine cars in a colliery in operation. They hope this will discourage them. The miners, however, know that a half dozen miners at any of each colliery cannot fill the places of the work of the hundreds of men usually employed, and are not discouraged thereby.

The beginning of the thirteenth week of the strike made the men more steadfast and determined than ever, and with increased strength to continue the struggle for the substitution of an honest system for a corrupt system of employment; the old system has destroyed all confidence between employer and employee.

When the price of iron or steel in the market is such that it does not cover down the railroads and refuse to pay the price; but just as soon as men demand a just system of employment and increased wages, the mine cars are hoisted and fight the demands with all the power they control, and with bitterness of spirit. Should not the demands of man be at least worthy of as much consideration as the demands of a piece of iron? I hope the operators will pay the increase demanded by the miners; I would like to see them pay, because they realize the justice of the demands, but not men for the same reason that they pay the price demanded for iron and steel; i. e., because they cannot get the service of the men until they pay the present value demanded.

T. D. Nichols.

Miners continue to leave for other coal fields daily. A large party starts this morning at 5:30 o'clock for Huntington.

A strikers' mass meeting took place yesterday afternoon at Archbald, and was addressed by President Nichols and others.

Local No. 637, United Mine Workers, will meet Thursday afternoon in Co-operative hall. The meeting will be called promptly at 2 o'clock.

A mass meeting of the North Scranton locals will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, at St. Mary's hall.

FELL FROM A TRESTLE.

C. H. Green, of Hallstead, Seriously Injured at Elmdale.

C. H. Green, of Hallstead, while working on a trestle at Elmdale, early yesterday morning, fell from it and received injuries which resulted in his being taken to the Lackawanna hospital, where his left arm was amputated. He also sustained a fracture of the skull.

A long iron trestle is being built at Elmdale by the Erie, about twenty feet above grade. While Green was at work yesterday morning he was struck by the big boom and knocked off the bridge. He is about 35 years of age and married.

MEETING OF CABINET.

Recorder Connell and City Officials Discuss Matter of Municipal Contracts, and Bonds Question.

The monthly council of Recorder William L. Connell and the heads of the city departments was held yesterday in the former's office.

A brief session was held in the morning, and a more extended one in the afternoon. The matter of city contracts was discussed, the greater part of both meetings was devoted to talking over the refusal of Hayes & Sons, of Cleveland, to take the $285,000 worth of city bonds issued to them. The proceedings at the meeting were secret, and nothing definite will be announced regarding them until the latter part of the week.

Those present at the conference were Recorder Connell, Director of Public Safety F. L. Wormser, Director of Public Works John E. Roche, City Treasurer E. S. Barker and City Solicitor G. M. Watson.

At the morning session, Solicitor Watson spoke for a short time on the contract question, regarding the necessity for making contracts for all city work. Thus, instead of minor jobs being undertaken on mere verbal or written agreement, contracts would be made for the undertaking and carrying out of the work, the same as with the larger municipal enterprises.

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION.

Committee Meets and Perfects Numerous Details.

The Central Labor union committee, in charge of the Labor day demonstration, met last night in the new headquarters in the Library building, and perfected some of the details for the observance of the day.

A parade will be held at 9 o'clock in the morning, and excursion trains will leave the Erie station for Lake Ariel at 8:45, 11 and 11:20 o'clock in the morning, and 1:35 o'clock in the afternoon. The parade will disperse near the Erie station, so as to give the men in line the opportunity to take a morning train to the lake.

The parade will be one of the largest and most representative industrial processions which has ever marched over the city streets. The committee expects to have between twenty and twenty-five thousand men in line, and its formation will be characterized by number of novel and unique features.

The general teamsters' union has guaranteed to send a body of four or five hundred horsemen to represent their organization, and the blacksmiths' and horseshoers' unions, according to reports, will also be prominent. Hugh Frayne, organizer of the American Federation of Labor, will be grand marshal of the parade, and George H. Gother, of the cigarmakers' secretary-treasurer of the Central Labor union, will act as chief-of-staff.

E. C. Paterson, of the carpenters; William Brokenshire, of the general teamsters; D. F. Dempsey, of the United Mine Workers of America, and A. A. Doney, of the machinists, will act as aides. B. B. Anthony, of the teamsters; Peter E. Holton, of the painters; Thomas Tierney, of the United Mine Workers of America, and R. A. Maloney, of the horseshoers, will command divisions. Grand Marshal Frayne will appoint aides to the marshal, and to the division commanders.

At Lake Ariel, the only water sport in athletic sports, and musical competitions. It is also likely that there will be present a number of prominent labor leaders, and that speeches will be made by the latter.

The union will give a handsome silver clock to the German singing society, adjudicated to be in the best voice, of a number of German male choruses which will be entered in the contest. There will also be a vocal contest open to all Welsh choral associations, and a money prize will be offered to the club making the best record among these.

The round-trip fare for the excursion will be seventy-five cents for adults and 45 cents for children. A special meeting of the Central Labor union will be held at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

LABOR MEN INDICTED.

Chicago Strikers Held for Employing Thugs to "Do" "Scabs."

Something new in the evolution of strike tactics is reported from Chicago, having been put in evidence by the Cook county grand jury. A local brass moulder's union recently had difficulty with a firm of employers, went on strike and proceeded to devise means to keep other workers from filling the vacated places.

As soon as the strike was called they union voted an emergency fund and appointed a committee to superintend its disbursement. This committee used it in employing sluggers and bruisers to commit physical assault upon men who interfered with the union's plan. Says the Record-Herald:

"The scale of prices varied. For a plain 'slugging' match, $5 is the price credited with having been paid. If bones were broken, so the evidence showed, the 'operators' were paid according to the extent of the injury as affecting the ability of the victim to perform his daily duties. In reckoning the rate to be paid, comparatively, the general plan adopted by accident insurance companies was followed, making a broken arm equivalent in value, or thereabouts, to a broken lower limb, with a broken hand or finger rated at a lesser value. An assault, with resultant effects sufficient to send the injured man to the hospital several weeks as work of a superior grade, and compensation commensurate with the service rendered allotted the 'hiring squadrons' or 'checking crews' in four or five times the amount. The story reported to the jurors dilated upon the allegation that the number of weeks the victim was confined in the hospital varied from several weeks to the amount of compensation. It was testified that $78 was paid out in one instance, so complete was the service rendered by the 'checking crew.' The definitions of the two subterfuges applied to the committee describing adequately and accurately the difference between the grades of work. The 'hiring squadrons' were called in to perform the work of the injured men, and the 'checking crews' would attack the object of their enmity in some public place, where the electric lights shone brightly and trolley lines crossed, affording them several avenues of escape. The members of the 'squadrons' would pounce upon their victim, even while pedestrians and others witnessed the assault, and then taking care to cover. The 'wrecking crews' operated along entirely different lines. They went out in search of their man, and he was called, and they were in some secluded spot they would surround him and beat and maim him to their satisfaction.

Eleven members of this union are now under indictment and their trial will afford further information as to the methods used in terrorizing non-union workers. It is probable that this kind of industrial battle has the approval of only the lower grades of labor leaders. Intelligent unionists know that it cannot win.

LABOR CONVENTION.

Delegates Will Assemble in Carpenters' Hall, August 18, to Nominate Candidates.

Today a circular will be sent out by the Central Labor union, formally announcing a convention of union men for August 18, at Carpenters' hall, to place in nomination labor candidates for congress and the state legislature. Each local union of the various labor organizations will be asked to send two delegates to the convention.

P. D. NILAND PROMOTED.

Will Be Manager of the Wilkes-Barre Telephone Exchange.

Peter D. Niland, who has been identified with the Scranton Telephone exchange for the past thirteen years, yesterday entered upon the duties of manager of the Pennsylvania Telephone company's offices in Luzerne county, with headquarters in Wilkes-Barre.

He will succeed J. D. Smith, who has been transferred to the main office at Harrisburg. The branch offices at Kingston, Plymouth, Nanticoke and Harvey's lake also come under Mr. Niland's supervision. He will remove to Wilkes-Barre on September 1.

MR. ZACHARIAS DENIES.

Says He Did Not Ask Anybody's Pardon for a Wrong.

The mix-up in Elmhurst over the charges lately made against Editor Harlow of the Signal seems yet to be unsettled, as the following letter, purporting to come from J. A. Zacharias, received by The Tribune last night by special delivery, attests:

"This is to certify that I, James Zacharias, feel that there has been an injustice done by the man or men who wrote for publication such lies against me in regard to my being a 'scab' at Elmhurst, the editor of the Elmhurst Signal, stating I had signed papers and also that I had asked their pardon, which I want denounce as a falsehood, as I was not willing to sign the papers nor was I willing that such should be printed. And I am not willing to ask anybody's pardon until I am convinced that I have said or done anything wrong, which I believe I have not.

A WORD TO THE GREAT ARMY OF SUMMER TOILERS.

If You Are Not as Robust, Vigorous and Happy as Others in the Month of August

PAIN'S CELESTIAL COMPOUND

Will Give You Health, Full Energy and Happiness.

Many men toiling in offices, stores, and workshops during this hot summer weather, and women weighted with the work and cares of home, are critically near the breaking down point. The symptoms of coming sickness and disease are manifested in sleeplessness, nervousness, tired feeling, languidness, irritability, falling appetite, and poor blood circulation.

Paine's Celestial Compound is a precious boon to the ailing, sick, and run-down in this August weather. A bottle or two used at once will quickly bestow the needed strength to battle against the weakening and enervating effects of the oppressive heat, and will enable men and women to go through the necessary routine of daily toil with health, soul, and energy. Paine's Celestial Compound is especially distinguished for its ability to build up rundown systems in hot weather.

Mr. George W. Demarest, of 128 West 67th street, New York, says: "I am a licensed stationary engineer, and although my work is not very laborious, I suffered so intensely with severe pains in my back and kidneys that I was compelled to leave my work and remain at home for six months. I suffered greatly with headaches and soreness in chest and lungs, and my joints became very stiff. I actually felt I was doomed to fill an old man's grave at the age of thirty-two. As a last resort, I used two bottles of Paine's Celestial Compound, when I was able to resume my work, and after using the third bottle, I am in perfect health. The value of Paine's Celestial Compound is inestimable, and I urge others afflicted as I was to use it."

ATTORNEY CLARA PECK.

Young Lady Admitted to Practice by Judge Vosburg.

Miss Clara Peck, of this city, was yesterday admitted to practice in the orphans' court by President Judge W. A. Vosburg, on motion of Attorney W. A. Vosburg. She is the first woman to be admitted to the bar in Lackawanna county. Next Monday, at the midsummer day session of common pleas, Mr. Wilcox will move her admission to the other courts.

Miss Peck is a petite young woman, the daughter of J. Russell Peck, of Providence. She pursued her legal studies with Patterson & Wilcox, and passed an exceptionally good examination. For the present Miss Peck will continue in the office of Patterson & Wilcox.
