

COLD BATH FOR O'BOYLE

MEMBERS OF SELECT COUNCIL SAT DOWN ON HIM.

When He Wanted Council to Pass His Resolution Directed Against the Scranton and Northeastern Railway Company Over the Veto of the Recorder He Was Told That His Resolution Was Misleading and Untruthfully States the Case—Comment of Mr. Clemons.

Thomas O'Boyle, select councilman from the Eighteenth ward, was a sad man last night for his fellow members of the select council snubbed him as few men have been snubbed in the history of that body.

He insisted that he was actuated by a sense of fair play and a desire to protect the interests of the city, but the other senators refused to take him at his word, and they sat down on him hard.

Some time ago Mr. O'Boyle introduced the following resolution and it was adopted by council, the members believing the facts were as set forth in it: Whereas, Some persons, persons of authority have placed and laid ties, iron or steel rails and obstructions on several of the city streets in the Twelfth and Nineteenth wards, with the purpose of constructing a railroad in the near future, and

Whereas, a bridge is being built over the Roaring brook near the Roaring brook bridge and that the abutments therefor are being placed in the bed of the brook, all of this action being taken without consulting the city authorities, and

Whereas, immediate action of the authorities is now necessary to prevent further encroachments, Therefore, Resolved, by the select council of the city of Scranton, the common council concurring, that immediately upon the passage of this resolution the director of the department of public works shall remove all said ties, rails and obstructions that are placed or laid on or across any of said streets and if the said persons or corporation attempt to re-lay any ties or rails or other obstructions on any of said streets or interfere with the director of the department of public works when removing their ties and rails now laid there, the director aforesaid shall notify the city solicitor and the city solicitor shall immediately proceed in law to compel such persons or corporation to take up and remove the ties, rails and obstructions now placed and to prevent the further operations of constructing the railroad as proposed within the city limits.

RECORDER'S VETO.

Recorder Connell last night returned to select council his veto of the resolution. It follows: To the Honorable, the Select and Common Councils, City of Scranton, Pa.: Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval the resolution submitted directing the removal of rails and ties placed on certain streets in Twelfth and Nineteenth wards.

The right to occupy various projected streets in the Twelfth and Nineteenth wards was granted by the director of the department of public works on June 14, 1902, and a copy of this permission is herewith appended to this communication. This permission was granted by the director at my request, as the result of an agreement reached by the Scranton and Northeastern Railway company and myself. The application and resolution of the board of directors of this company, relative to the receiving of this permission, I also append.

It is not now, or has it ever been, my purpose to assume for this office any of the rights or prerogatives of the council, and I believe that upon a further consideration of this question you will agree with me that instead of assuming to take from councils their powers I have proceeded for them an acknowledgment from the Scranton and Northeastern Railway company of the city's authority over projected streets within its limits and whatever controversy may arise in the future as to the city's rights to these projected streets, the Scranton and Northeastern Railway company will have been eliminated from the dispute and the matter will rest entirely with the property owners and the city.

According to the map of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, one of the oldest maps in existence covering that portion of the city, the streets mentioned in the report of your committee, never extended farther than Meadow avenue, that whole part of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company's ground is printed and known as wild land of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company; consequently the only street in question that has been used as a public thoroughfare for any length of time is Maple street. MAPLE STREET BENEFITED. The entire right of way to that point and beyond is owned by the Scranton and Northeastern Railway company, and instead of the crossing of the street at this point resulting in damage or any other injury to Maple street in better condition at this time than it has ever been since it was opened.

In 1894 when the city of Scranton was about to erect a bridge known as the South Side bridge, before we could place the piers in the bed of the Roaring brook it was necessary for myself and the city engineer to procure the permission from the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company and that permission was only secured by making several changes in the location and site of the piers.

The Scranton and Northeastern Railway company purchased from the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company all the lands running from the point of the old bridge to and above the old bridge and that permission was only secured by making several changes in the location and site of the piers.

Mr. O'Boyle moved that the resolution pass notwithstanding the veto of the recorder and made a speech, in which he attacked the recorder for the position he took in the matter, and said that he (O'Boyle) was actuated only by a desire to see fair play all around and protect the interests of the city. To this bit of self-praise Mr. Clemons responded as follows:

"The resolution was uncalculated for and was a misstatement of fact. In view of that, I don't see that the member from the Eighteenth has a leg to stand on."

Mr. Merriman said that he had voted for the resolution under the belief that the facts recited in it were true. He has since learned they are not and believed the veto of the recorder should be sustained.

"Are there any petitions from the people of the Twelfth or Nineteenth wards against this railroad," asked Mr. Chittenden.

Councilmen Quinman and Vaughan assure him that not only were the people of their wards not opposed to the new railroad but were heartily in favor of it and did not object to the recorder giving the right to lay a temporary route pending the completion of the tunnel route.

"Then as I understand it," said Mr.

THE MARKETS Wall Street Review.

New York, Aug. 7.—There was a further expansion in the volume of business in today's stock market and the same kind of irregular strength which was shown yesterday. There were points of weakness in the market in spite of the marked strength of the most conspicuous stocks and there was still a number of important stocks which did not respond to the advance and were simply dull and neglected.

The Scranton and Northeastern Railway company purchased from the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company all the lands running from the point of the old bridge to and above the old bridge and that permission was only secured by making several changes in the location and site of the piers.

Chicago Grain Market. Chicago, Aug. 7.—After considerable early strength in grains today the markets, particularly corn, suffered a severe break. The cause was that the year promise to be too prolific to suit the market. There was a good demand for high grade wheat while the light wheat of this sort was coming to market. This could not offset the incentive to sell heavily in the corn lot when support was withdrawn and corn fell 1/2c. Other grains dipped in sympathy.
