THE CRESCENTS MEET DEFEAT

The Hard-Hitting South Siders, of Slocum Hollow, Win an Exciting Contest.

The day was cool, dark and dreary; it rained, and the wind was never weary; But the cranks on the battleground all did meet...

The "Thugtown" contingent, who have not yet recovered from their crushing defeat by the Crescents on Wednesday last, were there and cheered loudly for the visitors.

The home team appeared for the first time in their new uniforms and, although they did not win, made a decided hit with the crowd, as far as the outfit went.

Well, to return to the game. The Crescents took the field and did not require the required three men until their opponents had scored two runs, as a result of McAndrew hitting two men and an error by Cuff.

In the seventh the local team got their eye on the sphere and hits by Murray, Cuff, Emmett and McHale tallied five runs, making the score 6-5 in our favor.

The score was then even up, and things started to get interesting. In their half of the ninth, Harrison scored. Loftus was blocked in throwing a run.

SO DECEPTIVE. Many Scranton People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

Backache is so deceptive. It comes and goes—keeps you guessing. Learn the cause—then cure it.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills cure it. Nine times out of ten it comes from the kidneys. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Here's a Scranton case to prove it: Mr. Joseph Davis, of 424 Fifth avenue, miner by occupation, says: "The pain in the small of my back across the kidneys was very severe, especially if I stooped and attempted to straighten. At night when in bed my back ached fearfully, thus disturbing my rest, and in the morning I was so lame and stiff I could hardly get up and around. I tried doctors' medicines but nothing did me any good. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Matthews Bros.' drug store and they helped me from the start. I have highly recommended them and have already done this to other miners."

For sale by all dealers; price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

BEST RESULTS IN EXERCISE. They Do Not Require the Use of Fanciful Appliances. From Success. Instead of wearing out their strength in contortion machines, relief-seekers should flee to the woods and the mountains, should pitch their tents in some neighboring wooded highlands and share the fun of hoing out a trail to the next spring; should gather raspberries in the deep clefts, and climb trees in quest of squirrels' nests; should fetch their own fuel from the pine-knot bottoms, and arrange expeditions to the highest peaks in the neighborhood.

In that manner, a two-weeks' camp in Glyster will suffice to lay in a reserve store of health for several months of town life; and, besides, experience will prove that work with a practical purpose enables an invalid to beguile himself into an amount of exercise unobtainable by the manual of the horizontal bar.

In stress of circumstances, city dwellers may try the compromise of an amateur carpenter shop, or, like Ellhu Burritt, get an anvil to hammer out his own health. Turners-halls, though, are encouraging signs of the times, and the healing art would enter a new era of success if the patrons of the nostrum-monger could be persuaded to try Dr. Boerhaave's plan and "counteract the disorders of the human organism mechanically, instead of chemically, by chopping down a bitterwood tree, instead of swallowing a decoction of its nauseous leaves."

The moral healing art, too, is important: it is equally important; for self-reliance has no more insidious foe than the dependency that so often follows the abuse of drugs, and yields permanently only to the magic of outdoor exercise. Movement-cure associations are the harbingers of that reform, and the time may be near when invalids who insist on "taking something" will be advised to "take a whack at the woodpile," or a walk in the park.

You can tell something about a store by the style of its advertisements. You can tell more by comparing those advertisements with the goods they speak about. What you see in the papers is only half of advertising, the other half is to back up the statements with the goods. Some stores stop half way.

It's not what things cost us now, but what will sell them that regulates the price. All Summer Goods must be swept out at once. It looks like an early fall. Our buyers, returning from market are full of the enthusiasm of new things. As fast as train can bring them they'll go on sale. But—not for a few weeks yet. While we're waiting many tens of thousands of dollars' worth of Summer Goods will be sold at cost and less. It will be a lively August.

Household Linens. Linens, and nothing else, and so good for the price that if we hadn't sold it regularly for so little we should tell you that this 50-cent Table Linen is worth more. But we always have it for 50 cents and it is always 62 inches wide and always the same quality, so what business is it of ours whether others sell it for more so long as you come to us for it and know that you can always get it here for the same price? It's a good, strong, Silver Bleached Irish Table Linen that will give long and steady service, so nearly bleached that in a few weeks after you've started to use it it will be as white and snowy as a full bleached. A SPIDER'S WEB. Used to Lasso the Prey and Also to Construct a Home. During the late summer and in the autumn, grasshoppers form a large part of the food of a large spider called the orange argiope. It is interesting to see how skillfully the spider manages her hug' piecy. The instant it becomes entangled she rushes to it and, spreading her spinnerets far apart, she fastens a broad sheet of silk to it; then by a few dexterous kicks she rolls it over twice or three times and it is securely availed in a shroud; a quick bite with her poison fangs completes the destruction of the victim. The male of the orange argiope is much smaller than the female, and it is very seldom observed except by the best trained eyes. He lives on a shabby little web, which he builds near the web of the female. In the autumn the female makes a globular egg-sac as large as a hickory nut. This is suspended among the branches of some shrub or in the top of some weed, and is fastened by many ropes of silk so that the storms of winter shall not tear it loose. Within this egg-sac the young spiders pass the winter.—Country Life in America
