GLENWOOD FURNISHES THE PRIZE FISH STORY.

special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, Aug. 10.-In common with many of his neighbors, Farmer Conrad, of Glenwood, three years ago indulged in the popular fad of establishing a carp pond upon his farm, and he waited with feverish anxiety for the glad hour when he could take a hoe and go out whenever he was a little moist and dig up a ten-pound carp. Farmer Conrad's most sanguine hopes were more than fully realized, and the family just revelled in carp. They had carp for breakfast, dinner and supper, and cold carp for luncheon. The fish were so numerous that the family cat used to drag big ones from the pond up through the meadow to the house. But the family eventually became surfeited, and carp gave way to boneless liver upon the bill of fare. It dawned upon Farmer Conrad that he had bought a gold brick. He was getting more quantity than quality.

He stopped feeding the fish and gradually drained the pond. The discarded fish took refuge in a swamp be-low the pond, and made nightly incursions upon the vicinity fields for food after denuding the swamp of vegetable

On Saturday night thousands of the carp left the swamp, ascended a bluff and fell upon an acre patch of early rose potatoes, stripping every vine and leaving the lot as barren as the Sahara desert. The famished fish gorged themselves and were unable to return to the swamp. They fell into a deep and pro-

On Sunday morning, while Farmer Conrad and his hired man were searching for a lost cow, they discovered the wrecked field and the snoring carp. Farmer Conrad sat upon a rail fence, cried tears and said things. Then the men grasped clubs and fell upon the carp, slaying them all. Not a fish in all the field escaped the terrible massa cre. Then the tired men resumed cowhunting. Farmer Conrad had lost an acre of potatoes and gained four ton: of excellent fertilizer. There is no great loss without some little gain.

SNAKE IN THE ORGAN.

At Conklin Forks on Sunday evening there was an unusual scene in the little cross roads church. As the organist was playing a prelude she chanced to look into the little mirror above her, and she was horrified to see a large snake uncoil itself and crawl forth from

The organist promtly fainted and sh was carried to the parsonage, where she soon revived. Several of the braver members of the congregation attacked the snake and soon killed it.

It was a blacksnake, and measured six feet in length. It evidently crawled into the building when the church was being renovated during the minister's vacation.

ED. CHEESEMAN'S ADVENTURE. While cradling oats, Ed. S. Cheesenan, of Gulf Summit, and his dog killed a blacksnake measuring eight and one-half feet in length. The snake crawled from beneath a stone wall, wound itself around Cheeseman's body and would have squeezed him to death but for the opportune arrival of the bulldog, which furiously attacked the eptile and eventually killed it. joyed by a large number of people.

Use for Goldfish by a Man Who Made a Water-Garden.

What shall we do with the watergarden which appears so perfectly suited for raising mosquitoes? Shall we fill it up, drain it off or pour oil upon its troubled waters? If his pond should prove as great a source of pleasure to the reader as mine has been to me, he will be loath to adopt any of these radical measures. Repeated and diligent search had failed to reveal the presence of any mosquito larvae in my pond, and this seemed all the more strange when, in the quiet waters of the brook, not fifty feet away, I discovered thousands of active "wrigglers." It seemed probable that the goldfish were holding the mosquitoes in check in the artificial pond; while in the brook the insects were breeding in comparative safety. theory, I took from the pond a small goldfish and placed it in an aquarium where it could feed upon mosquito larvae and under observation. The result was as anticipated. Whenever they were dropped into the water the "wrigglers" disappeared in a short

When it is once understood that goldfish are useful, as well as ornamental and comparatively hardy, it is to be hoped that they will be introduced into many small bodies of water, such as llly-ponds and water gardens, where mosquitoes are likely to breed. In my experience these fish can easily be reared in any sheltered pond where the water is shoal and warm.

Would Not Insure Him.

Insurance Companies would not insure the Rev. J. W. Yeisley because he had Kidney Trouble.

Mr. Yeisley was much discouraged till a friend recommended Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it cured him.

Mr. Yeisley writes: "My kidneys and liver were in bad condition and I was auxious for relief. I had tried many remedies without success. I bought a bottle of 'Favorite Remedy,' which effectively proved its merit. The best proof that it has completely cured me is my recent acceptance by four different life insurance companies.

The Rev. Mr. Yeisley is the pastor of the First Reformed Church of St. Paris, Ohio, and is as well the editor of the St. Paris Dispatch.

There is no question that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the best and surest medicine in the world for diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, as well as the weaknesses peculiar to women. It quickly relieves and cures inability to hold urine and the necessity of getting up a number of times during the night and puts an end to that scalding pain when passing urine.
