MIKE BONNETT'S SON A TRUANT

The Father Gave the Boy a Severe Flogging and the Youngster Causes His Father's Arrest-Bonnett Will Send the Boy to a Reformatory

Mike Bonnett, the man of trouble, is again in the hands of the law. Mile is probably as well known in aldermanic circles as any man in the city. He seems to have an unfailing affinity for trouble, and scarcely a fortnight cial caravan for the shores of the popugoes by but there is something doing with Mike as one of the central figures. Yesterday, Mike was held under $300 bail by Alderman Atkinson for his appearance at court to answer to the charge of beating his son.

It seems the boy, who is about 16 years of age and has been making almost as good a record as his father, took it into his head a couple of weeks ago to depart from the paternal roof. Gathering a few "traps" into big bandana handkerchief, the lad vamoosed. He made a trip through the lower end of the valley and was not seen at the Bonnett home again till Sunday.

His mother hugged the truant to her bosom and called him all sorts of pet names. The lad expected the same effectionate reception from his father, but in this he was disagreeably disappointed. Bonnett senior did not approve of his son's conduct and determined to express his disapproval in a manner more emphatic than mere Bonnett junior was stripped and shortly after the neighborhood was startled by the boy's shricks of agony and cries for mercy. The neighbors say that the irate father used a hand sleigh runner with which to chastise his son. The boy endured the flogging for a time, and then, with a wild shrick which would put to shame a Digger Indian, dug out for the swamp, Sometime later the mother wended her way thither with the lad's clothes.

Many people in the vicinity were highly wrought up over the doings. The boy exhibited ugly marks of the beating he received and complained Alderman Atkinson and there information was lodged which led to Bonnett's arrest. At the hearing, Mike protested against his retention, claiming that he had a right to chastise a naughty, wayward, wilful son. The alderman admitted his right as head of the family to inflict reasonable punishment on the is adjusted. boy, but from the marks on the boy's body and the testimony offered decided that Mike had gone beyond even a parent's privilege and placed Bonnett Several Bouts Arranged to Be Pulled under ball to appear at court and in the meantime keep the peace toward Bonnett says that his son is a very bad boy and that he has got beyond parental control. He proposes therefore to place the lad in some institution where he will be taught a code of morality higher than that which he seems to have been taught hitherto.

BASE BALL NEWS.

Move on Foot to Form an Eight-Club Craftsmen League.

A movement is on foot to form an ight-club league among the workingmen of the city. The agitation was started by the carpenters and they have secured the promise of several clubs, already, to affiliate with the league. The participants hope to get a great deal of fun out of the league. Although the season is well on they hope to play a series of at least ten games for each team. Among the clubs mentioned as probable members of the league are the carpenters, plumbers, masons, metal workers, Carbondale Machine company team, Ontario and Western firemen, silk mill employes and locomotive shop employes.
