ATLANTIC CITY.

From The Tribune Bureau, Tilyou's Stee-plechase Pier.

Atlantic City, Aug. 12.-The arrivals of the past week broke all previous records at this resort, and Saturday Mayor Stoy issued a proclamation requesting citizens to open their residences for the accommodation of the overflow from hotels and boarding houses. Such an unusual crush tends to make this anything but an enjoyable place at present, and those people who seek comfort had better postpone their visit to Atlantic until September, or later in the season, when desirable rates prevail and ample accommodations can be secured.

The week was also rife with sensations. Attorney General Knox was assaulted in the Garden cafe; Senator Quay was badly scalded by turning on hot water in his bath; Oscar Baker, of Berks county, was drowned near Young's pier, and hundreds of visitors called at police headquarters Friday night to obtain lodgings. Scranton is well represented at the shore, and among visitors from there calling at The Tribune bureau on the Steeplechase pier were Mr. and Mrs. J. McKinney, who are stopping at the Grand Atlantic: Mrs. D. E. Hughes, Mrs, J. W. Phillips and Mrs. D. P. Brooks, who are domiciled at the La-Fontaine.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fray and Mr. and Mrs. C. Howard, of Pittston, are at the Normandic.

find otherwise. Officers and directors of a corporation are quasi trustees for the stockholders. They act in a fiduciary capacity. There is any amount of text book law bearing upon this question. It is unnecessary to quote it. We find the principle concisely stated in Bird Coal and Iron Co. vs. Humes, 157 Pa. 278: "A director is a trustee for the entire body of stockholders, and he is bound to manage all the business affairs of the company with a view to promote, not his own interests, but the common interests, and he cannot directly or indirectly derive he cannot directly or indirectly derive he cannot directly or indirectly derive any personal profit or advantage by rea-son of his position, distinct from the other stockholders.

"By assuming the office, he undertakes to give his best judgment in the interest of the corporation, in all matters in which he acts for it untrammeled by any hostile interest in himself or others. All secret profits derived by him in any deal secret profits derived by him in any dealings in regard to the corporate enter-prise must be accounted for to the cororation, even though the transaction in which they were made was of advantage to the corporation."

We refer also to Spering's App., 71 Pa.
11. and Swentzell vs. Penn Bank, 147 Pa.

The consideration of the exception to the allowance of defendant's set-off suggests three questions:
1. Can defendant's claim of set-off be allowed in an action of assumpsit? Or in other words, could the defendant hav maintained an action of assumpsit to re-cover the amount of the claim from the

2. It appearing that the defendant claim arises from the fraud or deceit of the plaintiff, could not the defendant waive the tort and proceed against the plaintiff in assumpsit for "money had an

2. The transaction which is the basis of the defendant's claim of set-off having been completed and ended early in 1893 and the present suit not having bee brought until 1899; and the defendant having made no demand on plaintiff for anything until the time of the trial before the referee, does not the statute o limitation bar the claim of set-off?

DISCUSSION OF QUESTION.

Our discussion will be confined to the first two questions. The referce has found that the act of the plaintiff in making a secret profit at the expense of the defendant was fraudulent in fact. It was not constructive fraud. What kind of an action would lie to enforce the de fendant's claim under the circumstances' The general current of authorities indicates that a plaintiff is not permitted to establish actual deceit or fraud when he declares in assumpsit. It must be borne in mind that in the case at bar the plain tiff obtained property, consisting of real estate and shares of stock in various

This property belonged in law to the defendant company, and equity has com-plete jurisdiction to compell a transfer of the real estate and the stocks to the party entitled to them. It is also clear that an action of trespass under our procedure act would lie; or, under the old practice, either an action of trover or case. The referee has undertaken to place a value upon the real estate and stocks and to take, as it were, a short-cut to righteousness in business dealings, by discarding legal forms of actions and allowing the defendant to set off the value of the property against the plaintiff's claim which is based on a con-tract. It is claimed, on account of the equitable scope of the action of assumpsit in Pennsylvania, that this may be done. We do not think the authorities sustain this position. As an initiatory step in our discussion of this question we refer to Lee vs. Gibson, 14 S. & R. 105, where Justice Duncan says:

"Since courts of common law cannot administer equity in the same way courts of equity can, we have adopted the most liberal principles in this action, and because we have no court of chancery, sustained the action, where one man holds unjustly the money of another; you may, in every case, waive the tort. Where the party has received your money, trespass or trover may be converted into this action. Where the defendant has turned the article into money, or there is reasonable evidence that he has, as in the case of the masquerade ticket. But where you do this, you ratify the conwhere you do this, you ratify the con-version; you adopt his act, and can recover nothing more than he has received, the money received with the interest. A man may disaffirm the act ab initio, by reason of the fraud, and bring his special action and recover his actual damages or affirm it, and demand the money; may make his election." shall refer to some of the cases cited by counsel as well as those relied upon by the referee. Heck vs. Shenner, 4 S. & R. 249. The action was to recover compensation for services as a housekeeper. The evidence showed malfeasance on the part of the plaintiff because she had embezzied her extending the Bradford County in her contract to render faithful ser-

Kidney Disease Kills.

Hundreds of Thousands.

Kidney diseases should be attended to at once, for almost 90 per cent, of our unexpected deaths of to-day are from that cause. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the only sure cure/known for diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is marvelous how it stops that pain in the back, relieves the necessity of urinating so often at night, drives away that scalding pain in passing water, corrects the bad effects of whiskey and beer and shows its beneficial effects on the system in an incredibly short time.

George L. Smith, foreman of the Holley Manufacturing Company's Works, Lockport, N. Y., says in a recent letter: "I have used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy with the most beneficial results. I was troubled with gravel and kidney complaint very severely, it bothered me a great deal, and have found great relief from its use, and cheerfully recommend it."

"Favorite Remedy" is the most suc-cessful medicine ever discovered for kid-ney, bladder, liver and blood diseases. Its record of cures has made it famous in medical circles everywhere. It is recog-nized as a specific. It purifies the blood and dissolves the excess of uric acid in it, clears up the urine, restores the kidneys and bladder to their normal condition. and gently moves the bowels.

gally detained. (3) The plaintiff cannot waive the tort and recover the value of the goods, unless the defendant has sold them and received the money, or has taken them for the purpose of sale and there be no evidence to rebut the presumption of sale and the receipt of the money. (4) When goods are sent to one who refuses to receive them and profess ing to return them substitutes spurious articles, the owner may waive the tort and recover the price in an action for money had and received, but not for goods sold and delivered. (5) When one tortiously in possession of another's goods converts them, assumpsit for money had and received may be maintained."

Ahl vs. Rhoads, et al., 84 Pu. 319, is particularly applicable to the case at bar. A part of the opinion is as follows: "By the Defalcation Act of 1705, a defendant in any action on a contract was authorized to plead payment, and give any bond, bill, receipt, account or bargain in evidence. The construction of this statute by the courts has been broad and liberal. It has been so extended that the right of a defendant may be regarded as established to set off against a plaintiff's demand any damages capable of liquidation, and for which an independent action ex contractu could be maintained. This may be stated as the general result of the authorities, extending especially from Nickle vs. Baldwin, 4 W. & S. 290, to Hunt vs. Gilmore, 9 P. F. Smith 450. But, broad and liberal as the construction has been, it has never authorized the admission of proof of damages arising from a technical tort. In Beyer vs. Fenster-macher, 2 Whart. 95, it has held that a plaintiff in replevin, founded upon a distress for rent, could not set off a debt due to him by the landlord, or a demand against the landlord, not connected with the rent or the occupation of the premises; and the reason given by Judge Kennedy was that 'an action of replevin instead of being founded on a deed, bargain or assumption, is grounded on a tor-tious taking by the landlord.' A debt, or the damages which can be set off as an independent counter-claim, must be such as a jury can find and liquidate in the ordinary way, just as if the defendant were a plaintiff suing in debt, assumpsit or covenant: Russell vs. Miller, 4 P. F. Smith 151 The plaintiff owed no contract duty to the bank or to the assignees. His liability has been alleged throughout to rest on malfeasance and neglect of duty."

We are of the opinion, therefore, that defendant's claim of set-off should not have been allowed and the plaintiff's exception to the allowance of the set-off by the referce is sustained. exceptions, plaintiff's and defendant's, are dismissed.

of set-off, it is unnecessary for us to consider the question of the statute of limitations. This can be decided only when the defendant's claim is properly before us for adjudication.

Under the supplement of 1871, P. L. 1363, master's property. It was held that there could be no set-off for the value of the goods embezzled; but defendant was al-filed to the report of the referee, reservlowed to make a defense to the action on the ground that plaintiff had failed committing the report again to the referee should justice require it. the power to award a new trial for any reasons of fact or law; or we may re-serve the conclusion of the referee and enter a different judgment if we are of opinion that the law requires it: Thornton vs. Enterprise Ins. Co., 71 Pa. 254. In the present case the referee finds that of the opinion that interest should be computed from Aug. 1, 1896. We theretort could not be maintained against the borough for the value of the property.

(2) Assumpsit can be maintained only where there is a contract express or implied; it will not lie for a chattel ille
