that Minister Bowen's despatch of yesterday from Caracas saying that the Barcelona cable had been cut was incorrect. The assumption at the navy department is that the revolutionists, who are in control at Barcelona, refused to allow messages to go through to Caracas, where Castro has his headquarters.

The navy department officers are inclined to believe, after studying Commander McLean's report, that the revolutionists in sacking the town seized what they could lay their hands on, but were very careful not to disturb the interests of Americans or others whose governments might make trouble for them.

done me. Let me say, first, that I care very little personally for criticisms directed against me, but I do care for criticisms if they affect the happiness and prosperity of those whom I have the honor to serve. 1 am sure that, occupying the position you do, you must know that the miners and those dependent upon them, have, from time immemorial, worked and lived under conditions that were humiliating and un-American in the highest degree. My efforts and those of others associat ed with me have been exerted to secure or our craftsmen higher wages and humane conditions of employment. I have advised our people to conduct themselves in such a manner as would command the respect and confidence of all well disposed persons. That our actions have falled to impress you with our sincerity of pur-your belief that I never worked is incorrect. The fact is that from ten years of ge until about five years ago I worked in the mines, supporting myself and others who were dependent upon me; and that in this strike more than one-third of my salary is paid into the strike fund nd is used to relieve those who are in distress.

I make this explanation because I ieve that you could have no motive in do ing me an injury and that your stateient was based upon incorrect information; and that you, as an honorable man, will immediately do all in your power publicly proclaim your error. I am.
