A Night Watchman Attempts to Rescue the Victim and Is Thrown Into the Creek-Three Participants in the Riot Are Arrested-Troops Patrol the Streets Until a Late

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Shenandoah, Aug. 15 .- There was an outbreak tonight, right under the nose of the troops in camp, and for a time it looked as though serious trouble would occur. The disorder was the result of a mob chasing an alleged unfair workman near the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company's washery in the southeastern part of the town. There were fifty or sixty men in the mob. As they chased the man up the railroad throwing stones at him the night watchman of the washery, named Anthony Flinn, tried to rescue the man. The watchman was promptly thrown into the creek running parallel with the railroad by some of those leading in the chase. The crowd kept after the workman and he ran to the Reading railroad station, where a company of infantry was on provost duty. The company was immediately called into formation and attempted to hold the crowd back. The captain of the company exercised great patience with the crowd and prevented any serious trouble. The mob caused a large crowd to gather from all directions, and word was immediately sent to camp for reinforcements. In nine minutes the entire Twelfth regiment and a battalion of the Eighth were on the scene. The crowd quickly scattered and three men, John Howe, Frederick Zimmerman and Matthew Bronz, who are alleged to have been participants in the assault on the watchman and the workman. were arrested and taken to the town lockup. The troops were kept in the streets until a late hour tonight. The affair created intense excitement in the town, but all is now quiet.

The three men who were arrested later on, given a hearing and held in $500 bail each for trial.

WILL BRIDGE THE CONEMAUGH. Pennsylvania Railroad Will Seek to Eliminate Tortuous Curves.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Altoona, Aug. 15 .- The tortuous curves in the line of the Pennsylvania railroad, as it meanders along the bank of Governor Sends Armed Men to Pre the Conemaugh river in the Pack Saddle, are to be eliminated, say reports, at an expense far greater than any incurred in the big improvements that are being made on the Pittsburg division. The plans of the company, it is stated, call for the bridging of the Conemaugh at least four times within as many miles.

The topography of the country between Blairsville intersection and Bolivar is such that the general course of the river cannot be deviated from and an entirely new line cannot be taken for the Pennsylvania tracks. The only of the curves is the crossing and recrossing of the river. A corps of en- tion returns. gineers, it is said, is now cross-sectioning the Pack Saddle.

At the inquest, which was held this afternoon, several witnesses testified as to the relations between Rogers and his wife, their frequent quarrels, the movements of Rogers, etc., but the climax was reached when the Perham brothers, Levi and Boyd, were placed an amendment to the general laws, on the stand. Boyd, the elder was first examined, and, to the amazement of those in attendance, directly charged his brother and Mrs. Rogers with the his story, he said that the deed had been under consideration for several weeks. He said Mrs. Rogers approached him a few days ago and offered to give him the amount of the insurance on her husband ($500) if he would go to Hoosic Corners and do away with him. He refused. Failing to enlist him in her service, Boyd said that Mr.s Rogers approached his younger brother, Levi and exerted such an influence over him that the latter consented to lure Rogers to Bennington, where a trap had been set for him. The meeeting was apparently a friendly one, and under the impression that his companions were showing him a trick with ropes, Rogers allowed them to bind him hand and foot. When in this helpless condition, they chloroformed him and threw him into the river.

They created the impression that Rogers had committed suicide; they wrote a note, which was found pinned to his hat. The sensation was in creased when Levi Perham confessed that all that had been revealed about himself was true.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Concord, N. Mary

Baker G. Eddy and Christian Science. A representative of the press called on Mrs. Eddy to inquire as to her endorsement of this book. In reply, she said: "Upon reading the grand preface of Mr. Keene's book, I laid it aside from lack of time just then, and sent my compliments to the author with an order for said books. After perusing his book thoroughly, I changed my opinion, not of the author's talents, scholarship, and high intent (although I have never seen him), but of the advisability of publishing the book, and immediately requested the parties to discontinue publishing it in its present form of treating the subject. I did this solely because the author's vehemence in denouncing the pulpit's furious attacks upon me was not consonant with my Christian sentiment. It is written of our great Master, whose life and teachings furnish my model, that When he was reviled he reviled not again.

LOSS TO SAN FRANCISCO.

Death of the Fairs Will Halt Improvements.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. San Francisco, Aug. 15.-The sudden death of Charles Fair and his wife, by the collapse of their automobile near Evreux, France, yesterday, means a great loss to San Francisco. Just fore his departure for Europe in May last, Charles Fair had practically completed plans for $5,000,000 worth of improvements to the Fair property in this city, and it was his intention on his return from his sojourn in Europe to sign contracts for the week in contemplation.

The matter of the disposition of the estates of the dead millionaire and his wife has given rise to some little speculation as to what will become of Charles Fair's portion of his deceased father's immense holdings. It is a known fact that a very short time ago both Mr. and Mrs. Fair made wills disposing of their separate holdings and the community property, but just what the documents provide for, Messrs. Knight and Haggerty, the attorneys of Charles Fair, do not feel at liberty to make public at this time.

Mrs. Fair was possessed of property to the value of $350,000, and it is thought her will bequeaths her holdings to relatives in New Jersey, but in the event of evidence being adduced that Charles Fair succumbed to his injuries first, Mrs. Fair's interests in the community property will naturally revert to her heirs and it is this point on which the disposition of the millionaire's estate largely depends.

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 15.-The British steamship Floridian, from Livrpool, July 24, for West Indian and Central American ports, arrived here today from Colon and reported considerable insurgent activity in the neighborhood of the Isthmus. An attack on Panama was feared, and the Colombian government was makingstrenuous efforts to largely reinforce the garrisons there and at Colon. Regarding the recent battle at Agua Dulce, the Floridian's officers said ttat the government of Colombia reported the insurgents routed, but that it was believed at Colon that the engagement was indecisive.

When the Floridian left Colon, no news had been received concerning the Colombian gunboat Boyaca, which left Panama on July 29 for Agua Dulce, and it was feared either that she had been captured by the insurgents or had foundered with the 300 soldiers which she had on board.
