An Interesting Hearing Before Judge Halsey at Wilkes-Barre Yesterday.

DURYEA'S GUARDIANS OF PEACE TESTIFY

Chief of Police Cosgrove and President of Borough Council Joyce Tell of Their Efforts in the Interest of Law and Order-Remarkable Instances of Defective Vision and Memory-Mr. Joyce Names Three Deputies Accused of Shooting, but Is Unable to Remember One of the Mob Attacking the Washery-Chief Cosgrove Admits That He Arrested Workmen at the Washery "Just Because They Were There."

dy Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Wilkes-Barre, Aug. 18.-The hearing in the habeas corpus proceedings in the case of the guards and workmen employed at the Warnke washery, at Duryea, who were arrested last Thursday by the authorities of the town, charged with inciting a riot and felonlous wounding, came up before Judge Halsey in court today. A large number of witnesses were examined and the testimony was conflicting. The attorneys for the defense said it was a travesty on justice to arrest the officers and jail them for doing their duty. After hearing the evidence, Judge Halsey discharged all the defendants except three-Kinny, Reynolds and Madden. They were held in $200 bail each for trial at court.

Report of the Hearing.

The Times this evening prints the evidence at the hearing as follows: Lawrence Cosgrove, chief of police of Duryea borough, was the first witness and swore that he was in the vicinity of the Warnke washery on Thursday afternoon. He said: "When the shoots ing began I was about 600 feet from stockade. Three shots were fired killed?" when I got in. Thirteen men were standing in a company front, firing in volleys. I placed all the men under arest and took them to the borough lock-up. The thirteen men were armed with rifles and revolvers. I took the weapons from them."

"Were you fired at when you an proached the stockade?" asked acting District Attorney McGuigan.

"Yes, sir. Three shots were fired at me. I don't know whether the men knew I was a chief of police, I had my star on my coat."

Were there any people shot by this fusilade from the defendants?" "Yes, there was one man shot.

don't know who it was." "Did you have any trouble with guard over a gun?"

"Yes, the second m \ I tried to arrest, he would not giv up the gun and pointed it and tried to shoot me. I wrenched the gun from his hands." On cross examination of Mr. Lenahan, Mr. Cosgrove said he has been chief for five months. "Where is you brother, the one who climbed over the stockade and caused the trouble?" "Which brother? I have several brothers.' Where is this particular brother?"

"He is home now." "What is his name?"

After several evasive answers the chief said he heard it was Frank. Attorney McGuigan objected to some questions about the Warnke washery, and previous disturbances, and Mr.

Lenahan said: "I propose to prove that this chief was the worst rioter of them all."

Denied Previous Riots.

The witness denied that there had been previous riots and Lenahan asked: work a week ago, and were stopped?" "I did not see any," replied Cosgrove. When did you see Mr. Warnke before this riot?"

I saw him a couple of weeks before, I saw George on the day of the riot." "Didn't Fred ask you for protection and didn't you tell him to 'go to hell'?"

"Was not there a crowd about the washery the morning of the riot?" "There was about 100 people." "What was the sheriff's deputies doing there?" "To disperse the crowd."

"What was the crowd doing?" Doing nothing that I seen. Just standing looking on." "You are well known in Duryen Give me the names of some of

"I can't remember any." "Were there stones thrown?" "Yes, after the shas were fired." "Who hit George Warnke, this young asked Mr. Lenahan, showing young Warnke, who was cut with 'I don't know. He was struck while under arrest." Attorney Lenahan showed wounds on Warnke's head and face and said that all the men injured were assaulted and beaten after being under arrest.

Mr. Cosgrove denied it and Lenahan called another coal guard named Smith, who was injured, but Cosgrove did not recognize him.

Mr. Lenahan's examination was very searching and severe, but the witness was reserved in his testimony, and did not make a very good witness.

Why did you arrest the workmen at that washery?" asked Lenahan.

"For having firearms." "Did you find any firearms on the

"No, sir, 'Then why did you arrest them?" "Because they were there."

"Yes, just because they were working here?'s added Lenahan. "No, that was not the reason." "Are not all the windows broken?"

"Three or four sashes in the office." "Who broke them." "I don't know."

'Didn't you arrest this fireman?"

"Did not he protest about the danger of leaving his fires, and did not you say: 'To hell with your fires, you had no business coming down here to work'?'

"I said no such a thing." "Did not you bring this young man down," pointing to young George Warnke, "and didn't the warden refuse o receive him?"

"I brought him down." "Didn't you arrest this young man because he testified that he saw your brother climb over the barricade, and that when he was driven off he returned with two stones?"

"No, sir; I dld not arrest him for

After some further questions Chief Cosgrove was dismissed. Thomas Joyce, the prosecutor, who president of the borough council, was the next witness. He swore: at the crowd who were running away." "How were these men armed?" "They appeared to be armed Winchester rifles.' The witness was asked to point out Dickson, F. M. Kinney and Harry Goodrich.

The witness, on cross examination, old of complaints about the washery trough which crossed the street and vas a nuisance.

Mr. Lenahan said the trough remained there for years and that this was a base conspiracy to prevent Mr. Warnke from operating his washery. "What was the crowd doing there?"

He Locates "Scabs."

"They were laughing and joking "About scabs? Who are scabs?"

"Those men who took other men" places. "Did not you make a threat that all the men in the lock-up should be "No. sir; I did not." "You sent a telegram to the governor not to send troops?"

"You swore out warrants against the defendants, did you?"

out for John Doe." "You arrested the crowd on that one warrant?" "Yes: we got their names and issued mother warrant when we got them in the lock-up."

After some further questions, the witness denied that Mr. Warnke was prevented from starting his washery and added that he could start it any time without molestation if he could control

Could Not Remember Rioters.

Mr. Joyce said he lived at Duryea for fifteen years, but could not give the names of any in the crowd.

Frederick Warnke, the owner of the washery where the riot occurred, says the acquittal of the deputies will justify him in starting up the washery again and he has served notive on Sheriff Jacobs that if he does not provide ample protection for his workmen and property on Wednesday he will make an appeal to the governor for troops,

The beginning of the fifteenth week of the strike shows no apparent change in the situation. It was thought that the Lehigh Valley company would star their Maltby colliery today and early this morning a number of strikers gathered in the vicinity of the mine but no effort was made to resume work.

Judge Halsey received a postal card from Washington, D. C., today. The writer signs himself Herman Mueller United States minister of war and marshall. Mueller threatens to send United Were not men there ready to go to States troops into the strike region and he will not remove them until the United States arbitration law is obeyed. The strike may have unsettled the writer's mind.
