RHODE ISLAND CLAM BAKE.

Annual Event of the G. W. West Division, B. of L. E., Thursday. The New York, Ontario and Western and Erie engineers, known as the G. W. West division, No. 468, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, will hold their ninth annual clam-bake at Lake Poyntelle, Thursday, Aug. 21. For the past week, the engineers have been busy clearing the grounds, erecting new tables on the shore of the lake, and putting everything in readiness for the clam bake. It is their intention this year to have the bake served at one sitting, if possible,

This year arrangements have been made with a caterer from New York city, who will arrive at the lake the day before with a carload of clams, spring chicken, sweet potatoes, sweet corn, lobster, blue ash and all that goes to make up a genuine Rhode Island dinner. The New York, Ontario and Wsetern clam bake has become so popular in this part of the country that this year the Northern division of the Ontario and Western will run a special train from Norwich to accommodate the people from Norwich to Hancock. Superintendent Williams, of the Scranton division, owing to the demand of the business men of Scranton, has arranged to have a second special train leave Scranton at 10.20 a. m., the regular excursion train leaving Scranton at

Rev. E. J. Melley, Executor of Estate of Rev. John Loughran, Refuses to Recognize Claim of Patrick Lavelle, Who Says Priest on His Death Bed Made Him Certain Donations - Mrs. Catherine R. Thomas and Son Have Begun a Suit for Damages.

When Rev. John Loughran, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Minooka, was on his death bed. Sept. 24, 1899, his body servant, Patrick Lavelle, who had been in his employ for years, says that Father Loughran told him (Lavelle) to take his (the priest's) gold watch and chain from his vest, and $1,100 which he would find in a trunk. the priest giving him the keys of the These gifts were a token of Father Loughran's appreciation of Lavalle's years of faithful service.

Lavelle did not take possession of the property at once, and after con-sulting with Rev. Walter Gorman, who was Father Loughran's assistant, left the keys on the body of Father Loughran and they were taken possession of by Father Gorman in the presence of witnesses, and with the other property of the deceased priest turned over to Rev. E. J. Melley, pastor of St. John's church, South Scranton, the executor of Father Loughran's will.

Father Melley has refused to recognize the claim of Lavelle which in law s known as a "donation in anticipation of death," and yesterday, through At-Melley to recover what he alleges is due him by the estate.

Argument on Exceptions.

Arguments on the exceptions to Judge Edwards' opinion in the case of Ambrose L. Spencer against Emery and Hughes, in the suit against the Emery Slate Picker Manufacturing company were heard by him in chambers yesterday.

Attorneys Hawley, Burns and Donnelly argued for the exceptants and M. J. Martin appeared for Mr. Spencer. The men engaged in the suit were the incorporators of a company organized to manufacture the Emery slate picker.

Emery was president and Hughes was secretary-treasurer of the company. Spencer says the others squeezed him out. Owing to this, he went into court and asked to have the partnership dissolved.

A receiver was appointed and a dis tribution of the funds was made. After the case was heard. Judge Edwards granted the prayer and appointed C. Reynolds Bedford receiver. Emery and Hughes afterwards formed what was known as the Duplex Slate Picker company and continued business.

Spencer alleged that the new company was designed to freeze him out of his profits and declared that the Duplex picker was the same as the Emery picker. Judge Edwards included the Duplex picker in making a division of the assets.

MOTION WAS VOTED DOWN

LABOR TICKET NOT NOMINATED LAST NIGHT.

Majority of the Delegates Were of the Opinion That It Would Be Unwise to Go Into Politics Just Now. Mine Workers' Delegates Were Particularly Opposed to the Idea. The Economic League Was Organized as the Political Wing of the Labor Movement.

Two hundred and eight delegates, representing labor unions and trades councils throughout the valley, met last night in Economy hall and organized, for political purposes, an association which is to be known as the President of the Economic League. Economic League of Lackawanna county. The convention was in session from 7.30 until 10.45 o'clock.

The greater part of the meeting was taken up in discussion of the advisability of immediately nominating a ticket to be put in the field at the fall elections. A large number of speeches were made on the subject, the majority of speakers arguing against taking any political action while the miners strike is in progress, and a motion to take instant action was overwhelmingly defeated by a vote of 198-10.

DEVINE WAS CHAIRMAN.

The meeting was called to order at 7.30 o'clock by President William Corless, of the Typographical union. President John H. Devine, of the Central Labor union, and Recording Secretary E. C. Patterson were unanimously elected chairman and secretary of the meeting, and later were made permanent officers of the league. The examining of delegates' credentials consumed considerable time, one hundred and four credentials being presented by two hundred and eight delegates. The advisability of proceeding to the nomination of a labor ticket then came up for discussion. J. F. Hammes, of the Stonecutters, expressed himself as heartily in favor of taking immediate action. Thomas Hopkins, of the United Mine Workers, spoke briefly in a non-committal manner, and James Ac-

Delegate Maloney, of the Horseshoers' union, spoke against the convention taking action, as did also Dominick Dempsey, of the United Mine Workers of America. gates Indian and Fitzpatrick, of the Inited Mine Workers, and President P. J. Shea, of the Railway Employes' union, all argued against taking any action last night.

The last speaker was Secretary Treasurer John T. Dempsey, of District No. 1 of the United Mine Workers. "If you nominate a ticket tonight," he said, "you are not treating the mine workers fairly. You are not treating John Mitchell fairly, when, during his absence, you plunge the mine workers into a political struggle. The real point at issue is not the placing in the field of a political ticket. It's the winning of the miners' strike, to which the undivided attention of the labor unions should be directed." Remarks/by a number of the speakers were greeted by hearty applause from the delegates. After Secretary Dempsey's remarks the motion voted down by the convention, Chairman Devine appointing as tellers, J. F. Hammes, Hugh Frayne and William 'orless. A caucus of mine workers was held before the meeting at the Grand Central hotel. Only about fifteen delegates were present.
