

VETERANS HAD AN ENJOYABLE OUTING

Seven-County Association Met in Nay Aug Park. After Business Meeting a Number of Speeches Were Heard.

During all the twenty-three years that the Seven County Veterans' association has been in existence it is safe to say that not one of the annual reunions has approached that of yesterday in point of attendance and success.

It was unanimously selected as president for the coming year, and the following vice-presidents were named to represent each county in the association: Luzerne, Charles H. Hall, Wilkes-Barre; Lackawanna, E. W. Pearce, Scranton; Susquehanna, James A. Keach, South Gibson; Bradford, E. J. Sweet, Towanda; Wayne, Graham Watts, Honesdale; Wyoming, Henry Reynolds, Factoryville.

CARRIED THE COLORS.

W. R. ACKERSON, J. B. HOBDAY, GEORGE KEYS. Age 72, Age 82, Colored.

Groups of one regiment or another were gathered here and the rollicking tales of army life, and renewing old acquaintances.

The visitors began arriving on the early morning trains, and were met at the stations by members of Ezra Griffin Post, No. 139, and Col. Monies Post, No. 319 under command of Captain Thomas Barrowman and Captain P. J. McAndrew.

Comrade Bowman, of Wilkes-Barre, also delivered a short address, and Mrs. Powell, of Wilkes-Barre, read a poem, which she wrote for a reunion held in Tennessee.

"The Song of the Old Canteen" was rendered by Comrade H. H. Tyler, of Binghamton, N. Y., who was a member of the Eighty-fourth Pennsylvania regiment.

Another song, "The Old Kettle," was sung by Comrade Ben Evans, of Pittston, after which the exercises were closed with the singing of the doxology.

It was after 2 o'clock when the assembly was adjourned by Comrade E. W. Pearce, who delivered a short address, and Mrs. Powell, of Wilkes-Barre, read a poem, which she wrote for a reunion held in Tennessee.

to be able to make Cuba help herself. But one of two things will eventually happen. She will govern herself or become in time a part of the United States. There is no stop to American progress.

"THE PROBLEM SOLVED." "The present generation has solved the problem that liberty must prevail, and demonstrated that America is a great world power, but there is one more problem for the future generation to solve, and it will be solved in time.

"It will not be solved by war, but by the power of peace and righteousness it must be solved. The problem is that all men shall be treated alike, the law respected, and the question of the relation of capital and labor to each other.

"The problem of the century to solve is the question of the relation of capital and labor to each other, and when it is done, mark you all, within the hearing of my voice, that the law and the eternal principles of justice will reign supreme. It will be solved in this century."

After a selection by the band, the newly elected president, H. H. Tyler, of Binghamton, was introduced, and sang "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," the crowd joining in the chorus.

Comrade Harding, of Wyoming county, who served in the navy during the Civil war, was the last speaker. He said that the reception and speeches of the day all went to prove that the old union soldier and sailor still have a warm welcome in the hearts of the people.

"It has been said that the navy boys were not very eloquent, but they have spoken eloquently in the past," he said, and referred to remarks made by Paul Jones, Perry, Lawrence, Smith and others, which have gone down in history.

"These were words of eloquence from those who have stood in defense of their country, and when the war was over and the soldier and sailor had done his duty, they exemplified the fact that the national government should be established and law and right should prevail."

At the close of the campfire exercises an exhibition of rough riding was given by Lieutenant Andrew Smith, of the Ninth United States cavalry; J. W. Page, of the Pennsylvania Military college, and Lieutenant Ezra H. Ripple, Jr., of the Thirteenth regiment.

Among the out-of-town veterans in attendance at the reunion were: Captain Vaughan, of Moscow; Comrade Harding, of Tunkhannock; Captain Frank Bobb, of Wilkes-Barre; Comrade Benjamin C. Evans, of Pittston; Colonel John McComb, of Carbondale; J. H. Eckert, J. E. Cook, D. F. Nicholas, E. J. Sweet, H. H. Langford, Chas. H. Hall, of Wilkes-Barre; James A. Keach, of South Gibson; Graham Watts, of Honesdale; Henry Reynolds, of Factoryville, and many others.

Colonel Ezra H. Ripple was kept busy throughout the day renewing old acquaintances and looking after the wants of the visitors.

St. Mary's Drum corps of Dunmore marched in the parade, and played some lively selections.

The W. H. Davis post of Carbondale were conspicuous in line and presented an excellent appearance.

to reception and registering of comrades. Doors opened at 8:30. Afternoon—At 2 o'clock a business meeting will be held for the purpose of roll-call, election of officers, hearing reports, resolutions, street speeches, etc.

Evening—Banquet at 6 o'clock, to be followed at 7:30 by a camp fire to which all the veterans and junior organizations will be invited. The banquet will be free to all comrades of the Fifty-second and their ladies.

The officers of the association are: William McClave, first vice-president, Scranton, Pa.; S. B. Williams, second vice-president, Wyoming, Pa.; H. C. Miller, secretary, Washington, D. C.; Rev. M. D. Fuller, chaplain, Jermyn, Pa.

"BODY RECOVERED." Remains of Charles Woelkers Taken from Lake Ariel. The body of Charles Woelkers, aged 20 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Woelkers, of Jessup street, Dunmore, was recovered from Lake Ariel at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the professional diver from New York, who had been searching for it for several days.

Constable H. J. Hoyer, after receiving a permit from Coroner Powell, of Honesdale, empaneled the following jury: E. H. Samson, A. L. Jones, George T. Jones, Sabin Swingle, Henry Safford and Oscar Bigart.

An inquest was held, at which several witnesses were examined, and the jury rendered a verdict to the effect that Woelkers came to his death by accidental drowning.

The body was placed in a rough box and brought to this city on the 9:20 o'clock train. It was taken to the undertaking establishment of P. J. Needham & Co., on Fig street, and prepared for burial.

The remains were afterwards removed to the home of deceased's parents, in Dunmore, from which place the funeral will occur this afternoon. Services will be held in St. Mary's church, Chestnut street, at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Mt. Carmel cemetery.

"YOUNG KILMER MISSING." His Father Has Asked the Police to Look for Him. An old man named Kilmer, who resides at Spring Brook, was in the city last night and asked the police to assist him in finding his son who has been missing since Sunday.

On that day the young man came to this city to buy carbolic acid to make salve for his father's horses. He bought six ounces of the acid at Kornacker's drug store in South Scranton and has not since been seen. He was accompanied at the time by two young women.
