Those Who Won Prizes at the Picnic of the Sherman Avenue Mission in Nay Aug Park—Other News Notes.

Following will be found the complete list of prize winners in the races and non-driving contests of the Sherman Avenue mission picnic, at Nay Aug Park:

100-yard dash for class No. 1; prize, box of perfume; Miss Sarah Humphreys, Egg and saucer race for class No. 2; prize, umbrella; Miss Mary J. Phillips. Needle and thread race for class No. 3; prize, pair of shoes; Miss Nora Davies. Potato race for boys; prize, knife and case; Willie Phillips of Mrs. Thomas Jones' class.

Some excitement was caused on West Linden street on Wednesday afternoon by one of the large double truck cars of the Scranton Railway company, which was loaded with passengers and while ascending the hill stopped and then started back down the hill. The stoppage of the car was caused by the overhead switch, which flew off and thus cut off the power.

Although the air and hand brakes were both set and a wheel moved, yet the wet rails caused the car to slide from Chestnut street to the curve, where the car was brought to a stop. The motorman and conductor acted with the utmost coolness and averted a panic.

Funeral of William H. Harris.
The funeral of the late William H. Harris, the young man who died from an attack of heart failure while bathing at Lake Ariel on last Sunday, was held from the home of his father, James M. Harris, of 371 North Hyde Park avenue, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. After short services of prayer at the home, the funeral cortege moved to the Plymouth Congregational church, of which the deceased was an active member, he being a teacher in the Sabbath school, and a recognized leader among the young people.

The church was crowded by the sorrowing friends, who came to pay their last tribute to the memory of their deceased friend.

Rev. Peter Roberts, of Mahanoy City, officiated at the service and spoke in loving terms of the past life of the deceased as a son and as a Christian. The Masonic quartette, composed of Prof. W. W. Jones, Thomas Abrams, Harry Wrigley and Harry Acker, beautifully sang the favorite hymns of the deceased, "Come Unto Me," "Lead Kindly Light," and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

At the close of the sad service, the friends passed beside the open casket and looked for the last time upon the face that had become so dear to them in life, and in death had assumed a look of peaceful rest, untouched by pain. The funeral cortege moved to the Washburn street cemetery, where, with the solemn words, "Oh death where is thy sting, oh grave where is thy victory," the flower-laden casket slowly sank from view.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful, there being the Masonic emblem, a pillow, several wreaths, basket bouquets, set pieces, and a five-foot anchor of white roses, with three pure white doves, resting upon it. The different pieces were sent by Camp 353, Patriotic Order Sons of America, Hyde Park lodge, No. 339, of Masons, the firm of Jonas Long's Sons, the employees of Jonas Long's Sons, the members of the family and numerous friends. The Masonic order and the Patriotic Order Sons of America attended in a body, the pall bearers being selected from the Masons and were Walter Williams, Harry Wrigley, William Beterly, Harry Beterly, W. C. Garrison and Harry Cole. The flower bearers were from the Patriotic Order Sons of America.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES.
About 400 people attended the excursion to Lake Ariel yesterday, as the guests of the Fourteen Friends society. After marching from the society's headquarters, on Cedar avenue, headed by Lawrence band, the party boarded a special Erie and Wyoming train for Lake Ariel, where they arrived shortly before 10 o'clock. A programme of events was carried out after dinner, with the following results: Cake walk was won by Mr. Coleman and Miss Lillian Johnson, of Wilkes-Barre; the prize being donated by Scheuer Bros.; Ice man "Baldy" Storr won the fat man's race; and later was presented with a leather medal; Charles Willard, a foreman at the Axle works, made the best center bulls-eye, but the prize, an antiquated umbrella which had been better days, was given to Al. Heier.

RACE FOR MONEY.
Two Ordinances That Are Now Before Councils.
For a long time it has been the aim of Director of Public Safety F. L. Wormser to secure permission from council to transfer the $133 unexpended balance from the printing appropriation to his department of last year, to this year's appropriation.

He has desired this transfer made, that the bureau would have on hand sufficient funds to properly attend to the printing and distribution in the police force, of the new regulations which are to be compiled for the government of the city blue-coats.

After many months, an ordinance was introduced in select council, providing for the transfer of the funds. It passed first and second readings and later sailed through final reading without mishap.

Last week it came up in common council and was promptly referred to committee. Simultaneous with this action was the introduction of Controller Costello's long-talked-of ordinance for merging, where possible, all the city's unexpended balances of last year into a grand sum to be drawn upon for the payment of deficiency bills.

It will now be a race between the two ordinances. If Controller Costello's measure wins out, it will mean farewell to all hopes of a transfer, as the $133 from the printing appropriation will be cast into the common fund.

Director Wormser is, however, of the opinion that his ordinance has had a fair start, and that he will get his $133 before the other measure has passed both branches of council. It all depends on how long the transfer ordinance will languish in the hands of the commoners' committee.

Between Seasons

This is a transition period in store keeping. The exclusive summer goods are fast disappearing from the counters and shelves and the first points of the autumn crop of fashions are being gathered in to take their place.

Of course the store is full of bargains in passing season's goods and full of interest for those who are anxious to catch the first hints on fashions for the coming season. Come in and stroll around at your leisure. An hour can be profitably spent these days. Repairs going on outside in no way disturb business conditions within the store.
