Frank J. Greene and Miss Mayme Reilly Married in Binghamton—Other News Notes.

The wedding of Miss Mayme Reilly, of Pleasant street, to Frank J. Greene, of Tenth street, at Binghamton, on June 2, has just become known, and it has caused a great deal of pleasant surprise among their friends.

The contracting parties went to the Parlor City, and were united in marriage there. They succeeded in keeping the secret until last Friday, when, in some manner, Mr. Greene's parents became apprised of the fact, and when the young people were asked concerning it they told of the happy event.

On Saturday evening a reception was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Greene, at the home of the former's parents, and the formal announcement was made, after which congratulations were in order. Miss Reilly was a clerk in Jonas Long's Sons' store, and is a very accomplished young woman. Mr. Greene is the popular bookkeeper at the office of the Finch Manufacturing company.

Very Sad Death.

Again the dark angel of death has visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. McNeerney, of 17 Stark place, and this time it called the husband and father to his final rest. Mr. McNeerney was grief-stricken over the death of his eldest son, Frank, 22 years old, whose funeral took place on Sunday.

At the conclusion of the sad burial service of his son, he stood beside the open grave seemingly oblivious to all around him, and when assisted to the waiting carriage seemed about to succumb.

The home-coming was sad in the extreme, and the loss of his manly son preyed upon his mind until five hours after the funeral, at 8 o'clock, when he quietly breathed his last.

He leaves a widow and several children. The funeral will take place Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Patrick's church, with interment in the Cathedral cemetery.

The Last Sad Tribute.

Services over the remains of the late Patrick Farrer, of 510 Broadway, who died at the Lackawanna hospital Friday night as the result of a broken back, sustained by falling from a scaffold at the Allis-Chalmers works, where he was employed, were held yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Holy Cross church in Bellevue.

Rev. W. P. O'Donnell conducted a solemn high mass of requiem. At the close of the services the funeral cortege moved to the Dunmore cemetery, accompanied by St. Paul's Pioneer corps, of which deceased was a member. At the cemetery the flower-laden casket was laid to rest.

The pall-bearers were: Daniel Lennahan, Thomas R. Carroll, John Devers, Martin Logan, John Roche and Patrick Lafferty. The flower-bearers were: Frank Walsh and Thomas Curran.

Funeral of Edward McHale.

Yesterday morning, at 9 o'clock, was held the funeral of the late Edward McHale, of 1210 Pleasant street, who passed to his reward on Saturday morning. The friends were permitted to view the remains at the late home just before the funeral services at St. Patrick's church.

Rev. P. E. Lavelle officiated at the Opening Dance.

Last evening in Meats' hall was held the opening dance of the Harvard Dancing class. The floor was completely filled with the happy dancers, who enjoyed themselves till a late hour. The interior was very prettily decorated for the occasion, and Miss Kate Reardon furnished the music for dancing.

The officers of the club are: Harry Phillips, president; H. L. Davis, vice president; T. R. Morgan, treasurer, and Edward Collins, secretary. The affair was under the direction of Samuel H. Sanford, T. J. Williams, John R. Bowen and William Harris.

In Police Court.

John Coggins, of Fellows and Tenth streets, was given a hearing in police court yesterday morning on the charge of stealing chickens. The prisoner was arrested in a state of intoxication early Sunday morning, he having in his possession at the time several chickens, which he claimed to have lifted from the hen coop of his mother.

At the hearing, his mother denied that he had stolen the chickens from her, saying that although she had several chickens, they were all in her possession on Sunday morning. The alderman fined the prisoner $5 and in default he was sent to jail.

Reception to Pastor.

This evening the members of the First Baptist church will tender a reception to their departing pastor, Rev. F. A. Fricker and Rev. J. J. Dunn. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, among them being several casket bouquets, set pieces and a large broken wheel from the trainmen.

At the close of the services the funeral cortege moved to the Cathedral cemetery, where interment was made. The pall-bearers were: John O'Brien, Samuel Morrow, Edward Hennigan, Thomas Sullivan and Timothy Buckley. The flower-bearers were three of the most intimate friends of deceased.

SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES.

A jolly surprise party assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kramer, on Cedar avenue, last evening and serenaded their daughter, Miss Maud Kramer, who will leave home shortly for Malinkredt convent, Wilkes-Barre. The affair was well planned, and the young lady was taken completely by surprise. A hearty welcome was accorded the serenaders. Games and pastimes of various kinds helped to pass the merry moments until 11 o'clock, when an appetizing supper was served. Those present were: Misses Rosie Demuth, Annie Klein, Justina Klein, Gertrude and Lillian Kirt, Anna Snyder, Anna Wetter, Adalide and Mamie Hefty, Sybilla Bock, Minnie Geiger, Mamie and Maggie Buck, Stella Kolb, Katie Klein, Lillian Conrad, Lena Lentz, and Master Harry Kramer.

A somewhat unusual affair, but nevertheless a very enjoyable one, took place on Sunday at Lake Underwood, that will leave pleasant memories with those who have the privilege of attending. It partook of the nature of a family reunion, but was really in honor of Mrs. John Blatter's fifty-fourth birthday. Members of the Blatter family gathered from all over the county, and they were the special guests of Mr. and Mrs. Blatter at their beautiful summer cottage. Friends from Scranton and Factoryville attended the festivities, and an abundance of refreshments were served during the day. A happy culmination to the affair took place in the afternoon, when the relatives gathered about Mrs. Blatter and after wishing her many happy returns of the day presented her with a costly diamond pin, fashioned like an eastern star. The presentation was made by Mr. Blatter, and his estimable wife, who was completely surprised, could scarcely find words to reply. After supper the visiting guests left for home.

The local boys were superior in every position, and through their training and coaching of Manager Birtley, the team played great ball. The stickers battled Major all over for a while, but during the latter part of the game he steadied down and the local boys secured but one hit. Buchanan's curves had the visitors blind, and he kept hitting when they secured several hits. The batteries were: Buchanan and Mackie for Mulley's, and Major and Miller for Jonas Long's.

NEW MILEAGE BOOK.

Interchangeable One Is to Be Issued by a Number of Leading Eastern Railroad Companies.

"Although some of the railroads in the trunk lines are not in favor of adopting an interchangeable mileage book, it is believed that they will eventually be forced into issuing a book of this character," says yesterday's Philadelphia Press. "For several months the general passenger agents of the leading railroads in the East have been at work preparing a plan for a new mileage book. This plan, while being satisfactory to most roads, does not meet the approval of the New York Central and the Philadelphia and Reading, which also takes in the Jersey Central railroad.

"It is understood that even if these two roads do not consent to the adoption of the interchangeable mileage book, the Pennsylvania, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the Erie, the Lehigh Valley and the Delaware and Hudson will issue a book which will be accepted on any of those roads. They have agreed upon the form of book, the only difference being in the name of the railroad.
