

LAST SESSION OF INSTITUTE

INSTRUCTORS PAID COMPLIMENTS TO TEACHERS.

Were Given Close Attention All During the Week, They Said—Final Talks of the Instructors to the Teachers—Resolutions Adopted Call Upon the Congress to Create a Department of Education—Declare in Favor of Arbitration of the Coal Strike.

The first of the city teachers' autumn institutes closed yesterday at noon, the speakers expressing their appreciation of the attention which had been accorded them during the week. The Rev. C. H. Newing, of the Dunmore Methodist church, offered the opening prayer in the morning, and Prof. Derran conducted the singing. Miss Ella Roney presided at the piano.

Dr. Groff gave an interesting review of the Pan-American struggle for Wyoming was doubly interesting to residents of this region.

Miss Connolly paid the teachers a high compliment for their quiet demeanor and attention, and thus endeared herself still more to their hearts. She spoke on "The Value of the Child," and it was a beautiful talk. Possibly few instructors at an institute have received such earnest and spontaneous appreciation. At the close of her address she was obliged to return to the platform for a final greeting, so enthusiastic was the audience. She said that the chief value of the child was an object of love. While the parents educate the children, they are, in turn, educated by the children, and the best brought up children bring up parents best.

HIS FINAL TALK.
Professor Monroe gave his final talk on "Educational Psychology." Chiefly, it was an exposition of the causes which produce mental fatigue and the indications which may be observed. He described in terms, stripped of technicality, the conditions of the brain cells during the process of fatigue, giving the result of investigations showing the loss of working power after various periods of time from thirty minutes to six and one-half hours. At the latter time, the loss will be 75 per cent. While brief pauses for rest cause the cells to recuperate, there often occurs an ultimate breakdown when there has been too much exhaustion of the cells.

He deprecated the examination and said that the examinations should not be held at the end of the year, nor in the warm season when they are its bane. In his closing remarks, he left three thoughts with the teachers, Administration, Resolve, and Sympathy. Superintendent Phillips then addressed the teachers encouragingly.

The following resolutions reported by a committee, consisting of David C. Owens, J. E. O'Malley, John T. Jones, J. E. Hawker, L. E. Pennam, Mrs. M. W. Torrey, Florence E. Colvin and Nellie I. McGinnis, were adopted.

THE RESOLUTIONS.
Whereas, The tenth annual institute of teachers of the city of Scranton is about to close after a successful week's work; and

Whereas, We, the teachers of Scranton, fully appreciate the valuable instruction furnished us during the present institute; therefore, be it

Resolved, First—That we extend to our superintendent, G. W. Phillips, our thanks for the able manner in which he has, in so short a period of time, conducted the programme for the week now closing.

Second—That the action of the board of control and superintendent in arranging this institute for the reopening of the school year in place of during the spring term, receive our hearty approval.

Third—That our sincere thanks be tendered to the president and members of the board of control for the recent recognition in a general increase of salaries.

Fourth—That we express our warmest appreciation of the work of those earnest educators who have been with us during the week, for the benefit we have derived from their instruction, the valuable thoughts they have given us, and for the masterly manner in which they have presented their subjects, and that the lecture on Porto Rico, given by Dr. Groff, be given our special commendation.

Fifth—That the munificent gift of Mrs. W. T. Smith to the school district of this city encourage us to make the most of the board of control for the recent recognition in a general increase of salaries.

Sixth—That we recommend to the Scranton board of control the advisability of installing telephones in each school building of the city.

Seventh—That we further recommend for the consideration of our school board the extreme necessity of adopting some plan which will give to the regular teacher full salary, less the amount paid to the substitute, and in event of death

Love is unequalled by medicine. Labor is lightened by love, but love cannot lighten pain or relieve it. Many a man looks on at his wife's suffering willing to do anything to aid her and able to do nothing.

Sometimes, however, the husband's attention is directed to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and its remarkable cures of womanly diseases. He may not have much hope of a cure, but he is led to try the medicine, with the result that in almost every case there is a permanent cure.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures irregularity. It dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

As a tonic for women who are nervous, helpless, worn-out and run-down "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled.

"In answer to your letter I will say, my wife commenced to complain twenty years ago," writes Lewis A. Miller, ex-Chief of Police, of Prospect St., Westport, Pa. "We have tried the skill of twelve different doctors. She took gallons of medicine during the time she was ill, until I wrote to you and you told me to do so. She has taken eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and six of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' She can do her own work now and can walk around again and is quite smart."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

In the family or personal sickness that no deduction of salary, for a limited period, be made.

Eighth—That the curriculum of our schools be so arranged as to more closely unite the work of the High school and the Grammar A grades.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION.
Ninth—That on account of the increased responsibilities placed on the United States bureau of education, in the organization and administration of public school systems in the recently added territory of the United States and in aiding the different states and territories in securing good and efficient school systems, we urge upon congress the necessity of making the department of education a separate department and of giving it rank with other departments.

Tenth—That the strained relations existing between capital and labor be decreed and that this resolution be our petition to those interested in the present struggle known as the anthracite strike, to arbitrate their differences.

Eleventh—That we gratefully acknowledge the efforts of the press of our city in giving such accurate and detailed reports of the proceedings of these sessions.

Twelfth—That in the death of Miss Anna G. Gish, the profession has lost a faithful and earnest member, and that we extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family and friends. That the sympathies of the corps of teachers of this city be extended to our friend and co-worker, M. D. Cawley, who is at present unable, through physical disability, to be with us.

REUNION OF THE CAPWELL FAMILY

It Was Held Yesterday Near Dalton. Programme Rendered and Those Present.

The first annual reunion of the Capwell family was held yesterday at the Capwell school house, near Dalton. The day was pleasant, but the air was a little too cool for comfort in the grove. After spending a couple of hours of the morning in the grove and partaking of the many good things that were laid out for the occasion, the reunion, all adjourned to the school house, where Charles B. Capwell called the assembly to order. Rev. F. J. Castner, of Dalton, led in prayer.

Rev. R. R. Thompson, of Dalton, was introduced and gave a very able address bearing on cheerfulness in the family. "Look on the bright side of life," he said. "Be thankful you are still on the earth and living. Do not be discouraged, for you were never in such a bad condition but what it might have been worse."

After the address, several interesting incidents showing the necessity of cheerfulness in the home. The following programme was rendered, interspersed with singing:

Reading, "The Classical Person." Miss Maud Millard.
Declamation, "The Burial of Moses." Miss Iva Capwell.
Reading, "The Fire." Miss Iva Capwell.

A telephone message was read by Miss Iva Capwell from Ezra Dean Capwell, of Marcell, Cal. It follows:

Hello! Hello Central! Put me in connection with those people at Capwell school house grove. Hello! Say, it is no use to ask you people if you are all well, for no sick folks could ever make all that noise. Say, I'm a long way off and you don't keep still you want hear what I have to say. Did you say you were hungry? It's not time for lunch yet. Well I would just like to get into that crowd and shake every little hand and every big hand until your arms would tremble. Did you ask where I am? Well, I will tell you. In California. The long state in the Union, and in some respects the greatest. Its climate cannot be described by pen for we have in some facts, snow all the year around, while in other places, it never snows. Yet in July with the thermometer at noon at 110 degrees in the shade, a forty-eight hours drive will set you down beside a snow bank.

This accounts for our evenings being always cool and our nights beautiful to sleep in. We are located in the great San Joaquin valley, some 30 miles long and 60 miles wide. The most fertile soil level that one cannot tell which way the water would run. There is a range of mountains on each side of us, east and west, and an almost perpetual sunshine above us. So you have a short description of the place. When you add more kinds of fruit and nuts than you ever heard of in the United States, and draw upon your imagination for the rest.

Say, is that perfume on your clothes, or do I smell pumpkin pie, or perhaps a hint of rice pudding and short cake. Well, it's nice to have a fine time and get a chance to visit all one's relatives in a day. I hope it surpasses your fondest expectations and you may all live to enjoy many more such reunions together. I have missed this pleasure together with many more, but I am making continued preparations for the great reunion to which we shall all be summoned. The poet has written, we shall all meet again on the great judgment morning, the books will be opened, the roll will be called, how glad will be forever we're parted and shut out of heaven for not loving God.

No doubt you have all made lots of preparations for this reunion, but are you making any for that day. I want to whisper in your individual ear, are you ready? I want to shout it down the lines of ancestry so loudly that the dead, lying in that little graveyard southeast of this gathering place shall hear me. "Are You Ready," and may each successive year find you all striving to be ready for the great reunion, so there shall be no sad partings.

Ezra Dean Capwell.

A permanent organization was then perfected, the following officers being unanimously elected: President, Charles B. Capwell; vice-president, H. E. Capwell; secretary, F. M. Young; treasurer, J. C. Northup; committee on arrangements, Ruel Capwell, H. E. Capwell, Stanley Capwell, Mrs. Herbert Capwell, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Capwell, Mr. and Mrs. James Capwell, Miss Hazie Capwell, F. R. Capwell, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Capwell, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Capwell, Mr. and Mrs. G. Colvin, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Millard, Mrs. Bertha C. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Northup, Mr. and Mrs. L. Young, Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin, Mrs. Belle Thomas, Mrs. John Northup, Mrs. Abbie Colvin, Rev. R. R. Thompson, Jay Capwell, Mrs. H. E. Capwell, Harold Capwell, Miss Edith Capwell, Mrs. E. C. Capwell, Ray Capwell, Frank Capwell, Arthur Capwell, Fred Capwell, Stanley Capwell, Miss Maud Capwell, Miss Iva B. Capwell, Mrs. C. J. Bacon, Mrs. Emily Northup, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Colvin, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. George Colvin, Miss Dollie Carpenter, Miss Leona Colvin, Miss Florence Millard, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Carpenter, Miss Hazel Auburn, Mrs. C. M. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Whitely Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Twining, Miss Inez Twining, Miss Clara Twining, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Millard, Miss Lula Northup, Miss Alice Northup, Mrs. Maud Northup, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Young.

THE MYRLE-HARDER STOCK COMPANY.
The Myrle-Harder stock company will close a very successful week's engagement at the Academy of Music today with the following plays: "Mittene," "A Nutcracker," "The Unknown."

Miss Violet S. Allen, who opened the bill at Dixie's this week, is one of the brightest, as well as handsomest, characters of the dramatic world. Her songs and dances and impersonations stamp her as a versatile and painstaking artist.

Of all the comic opera successes of the past twenty-five years, no work of this kind has been produced which has surpassed the popularity of Pixley and Linder's "King of the Hounds" in its second season. Last year this merry work played nearly all of the big cities in the country and everywhere met with a most flattering reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Robyns will close their engagement at Dixie's theater this evening, and will next appear at Elmira. In the "Countess of Monte-Cristo," Mr. and Mrs. Robyns have presented this week one of the best character sketches ever seen on a vaudeville stage, and in the "Mittene," they have shown their remarkable ability as artists of no ordinary ability. Mr. and Mrs. Robyns will probably be seen at return engagements at Elmira, and at other places.

Stanislaus Stange has called managers Wagners and Kemper that he called for New York on August 30 on the St. Louis and will bring with him a good gain in the new play for Blanche Walsh he has founded on Flaubert's masterpiece, "Salammbô," Mr. Stange will personally supervise the rehearsal of the play, and will immediately on his arrival. The play is laid in Ancient Carthage at a time when the life of that famous city was threatened by the barbarians and mercenaries who were jealous of her supremacy.

Although no date has been definitely fixed for the premiere of "King of the Hounds," a dramatic version of Otono Watana's story, "A Japanese Nightingale," preparations for it on a most extensive scale are being made. The scenes will be remarkable artistic stage pictures, and the costumes will be gorgeously beautiful, imported from Japan. Klav and Eringer will bring to this country a large number of the most beautiful and realistic of several important scenes and situations. They will make this, in every respect, one of the most notable productions ever seen in America.

Jerome Sykes and the company that will support him in Klav and Eringer's production of "Harry B. Smith and Gus Kerker," new musical comedy, "The Billionaire," will begin rehearsals the latter part of this month, opening early in October at New Haven. This will be the most important musical production of the season, and from the standpoint of scenery and costumes, one of the most pretentious ever staged in America.

Noted fun-makers, including May Robson, the eccentric character comedienne, and Thomas C. Leary, who, for six years, was leading comedian at the Tivoli Opera House, San Francisco.

Cure for Asthma and Hay Fever

The statements published below confirm the claim of Dr. Schiffman that his remedy is an absolute cure for Asthma and Hay Fever.

Mrs. Mary Zachary, Pleasant Hill, La., says: "I have found your Asthma Cure a permanent cure for Asthma, for which I used to suffer for years. I have never had the slightest return of the trouble since. I have also found your remedy excellent for Bronchitis and Croup."

A Hay Fever sufferer writes: "I have had Hay Fever for 14 years. I bought a package of your Asthma Cure, and due to its use this is the first summer that I have not been troubled." Mrs. Frank Gault, 627 Ridge Avenue, Roxboro, Philadelphia.

Sold by druggists at 50c. and $1.00. Sent by mail on Dr. R. Schiffman's Box 850, St. Paul, Minn., for a free sample package.

THEATRICAL.
"My Antoinette."

Alfred E. Arons and George H. Murphy will present "My Antoinette," at the Lyceum this afternoon and evening, the music of which by Alfred E. Arons and the book by George Follen Scott, Miss Josephine Hall is the particular star of the combination of well-known actors and actresses, which these enterprising managers have gathered together.

Miss Hall is ably supported by Nellie Beumont, formerly of the Beumont Sisters, Grace Belmont, Martie Darlington, Betty Darling, Dorothy O'Neill, Richard Goodall, Joseph Bailey, George Yeoman, Eugene Wiene. A host of pretty girls form a background, which makes up an accumulation of beauty and art rarely seen here before. The scenic and costume environments are lavish, and metropolitan in character, and the whole production is far and away ahead of anything seen here before. Tickets, 25c and 50c.

"My Antoinette" was presented at the Wilkes-Barre last night and made a decided success. The Lyceum Hall and her songs were loudly encored.

"The Head Waiters."
Margaret Daly Vokes, who will be pleasantly remembered at the Lyceum, will present "The Head Waiters" this afternoon and evening. It is a play of the flower girl, in "The Head Waiters" last year, is still with the organization and will be seen at the Lyceum Monday night. It is a play of the flower girl, in "The Head Waiters" last year, is still with the organization and will be seen at the Lyceum Monday night.

Robert B. Mantell.

The romantic actor, Robert B. Mantell, will present "The Dagger and the Cross" at the Lyceum theater Tuesday night and Wednesday matinee. It is difficult for the average actor to realize how very much appropriate and picturesque costume helps to the success of a play.

Manager M. W. Hanley had this fact in mind in preparing the costumes for the production. The costume of this drama is said to be elaborate and costly, and to produce the effect at once delightful and beautiful.

Wednesday night, Mr. Mantell will play his greatest success, "Mombars." Diagram opens this morning at 9 o'clock.

Schiller Stock Company.
The Schiller Stock company pay their annual visit to Scranton next week, opening in the famous English melo-drama in four acts, "Man's Enemy," one of the best of the theatrical world, and dealing with the downfall of man through an appetite for strong drink.

Campbell Stratton still heads the company, assisted by Mamie Schiller, a young and clever lot of players. The vaudeville numbers are of the best, and include Gorman and Leonard, James P. Hoey, Kolly and Ruel, Lair and Belmar. Seats now on sale.

THE MARKETS

Wall Street Review.

New York, Sept. 5.—At the opening today the stock market reflected little of yesterday's reactionary tendency, though the tone was somewhat heavy in view of the unstable money market and lower prices from London. The bull came into early prominence and with Missouri Pacific divided the day's honors on renewed rumors of a closer working agreement between these two lines. On transactions exceeding 5,000 shares St. Paul, while closing below the previous day's reports would prove somewhat exaggerated. Norfolk and Western's strength was due to favorable forecasts regarding the annual report, and Pennsylvania's gain, which was not long maintained was attributed to the government's crop reports would prove somewhat exaggerated.
