CAPTAIN MAY MAKES DENIAL

SUNDAY PAPER'S STATEMENT ENTIRELY FALSE.

Never Said the Miners Were to Be Given a Ten Per Cent. Advance, or Anything of the Kind—At a Loss to Explain How Such an Utterance Could Be Attributed to Him—Company Officials Looking for a Break in the Strikers' Ranks.

Somewhat of a flurry was caused yesterday by the announcement in a Sunday paper that Captain May, "general manager of the Temple Coal and Iron company," had stated that the strike would be over in two weeks and that the miners were to be given a ten per cent. advance.

On the face of it, the story was un-reliable, because Captain May is not general manager of the "Temple Coal and Iron company," but may evidently took it to be authentic, because of the alleged authority of the story being directly quoted by the article in question, and once more the strikers had their hopes of victory falsely raised.

Captain May, when seen yesterday by a Tribune reporter, said the story was a thoroughly false. He not only did not say what was credited to him but all along has said, when occasion required it, that there would be no settlement of the strike except by the miners returning to work as they had done.

How it came that he should be credited with such utterances was more than Captain May could explain.

SOME INDICATIONS. On the face of it, the story was un-reliable, because Captain May is not general manager of the "Temple Coal and Iron company," but may evidently took it to be authentic, because of the alleged authority of the story being directly quoted by the article in question, and once more the strikers had their hopes of victory falsely raised.

Neither the company officials nor the strike leaders will even risk a guess as to what Senator Platt has to base his reiterated prediction upon, that the strike will end in ten days. The company officials say he is talking at random. The strikers' leaders express faith in the reliability of the statement, but declare they know nothing as to how Senator Platt expects the strike will end.

President John Mitchell ran up from Wilkes-Barre yesterday afternoon and spent the day and evening with personal friends. He remained over night at the St. Charles and will return to Wilkes-Barre this morning.

The Delaware and Hudson company on Saturday operated three of its collieries, the Marvine, Dickson and Von Steinhilber, in Delaware, Lackawanna and Western is operating six. This makes ten collieries and twenty washeries now in operation in the First and Second districts. Their estimated output is 17,000 tons a day.

CHARGED WITH THREATS. The first arrest of a national officer of the United Mine Workers for a breach of the peace took place Saturday, when Patrick Fitzsimmons, of Piceburg, one of the national auditors, was taken into custody on a warrant from Alderman Kasson's office, charging him with making threats. The prosecutor is Otis Walton, a Delaware and Hudson workman. He alleges that Fitzsimmons came to his house, with a number of other strikers, and, after calling him and other members of his family opprobrious names, made threats against his life. He is alleged to have declared: "If I had five more men with me, there wouldn't be a scab left in these parts."

Fitzsimmons waived a hearing and entered bail before a local justice of the peace.

The house of William Tosker, a Delaware and Hudson mine fireman, living in Moosic, just across the county line, was stoned by a crowd of strikers Saturday night. Sheriff Jacobs, of Luzerne, was notified and hastened deputies to the scene. Before they arrived, the attack had subsided and the crowd dispersed.

TOURNAMENT NOT ENDED. Finals Are to Be Played on Next Saturday at the Country Club. Large Attendance.

Owing to large number of entries and few defaults, the tennis tournament at the Country club could not be finished Saturday, although the playing was continuous from 10 o'clock in the morning until dark. Some of the matches will be played during the early part of this week, at the convenience of the players, and the remainder on Saturday next.

There was a very large attendance at Saturday's games, especially in the afternoon and the fine plays, with which the contests abounded, were enthusiastically applauded. Following are the scores:

FIRST SINGLES. Max Bessell defeated Karl Von Krug—6-5, 6-2. Russel Sprague defeated Harold Wallis—6-5, 4-6, 6-1. H. McK. Glazbrook defeated J. S. Morse—6-2, 6-1. F. Fuller defeated W. L. Chamberlain—6-5, 6-2. Edwin Shafer defeated Douglas Moffat—6-1, 6-0. Albert Crane defeated J. A. Linn, Jr.—6-4, 6-1.

SECOND SINGLES. Max Bessell defeated Russel Sprague—6-2, 6-1. H. McK. Glazbrook defeated F. C. Fuller—6-2, 6-1. Edwin Shafer defeated C. L. Cool—6-5, 6-2. George H. Russ, Jr. defeated Albert Crane—6-5, 6-1.

FIRST DOUBLES. Peck and Cool (byes) defeated Shafer and Watson—6-2, 6-1. Corser and Morse (byes), by default, defeated Walker and Chamberlain. Hays and Fuller defeated Rutherford and Crane—6-3, 6-4. Glazbrook and Bessell defeated Durand and Parrish—6-3, 6-1.

SEMI-FINAL DOUBLES. Glazbrook and Bessell defeated Hand and Fuller—6-1, 6-5.

MARRIED. CLARK-WATKINS.—At Factoryville, Pa., Mr. Bertson S. Clark, of Edella, and Miss Carrie M. Watkins, of Factoryville, Pa., by Rev. Elkannah Hulley, at 8:30 p. m., Sept. 4.

FOUR-COUNTY LEAGUE. Suggestion to Put Base Ball on a Firm Footing for Season of 1903.

In view of the countless number of first-class amateur and semi-professional base ball games played during the present season in Lackawanna, Luzerne, Susquehanna and Wayne counties, it has been suggested that a Four-County league for the season of 1903 be organized.

Teams to be located in Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Pittston, Carbondale, Honesdale, Olyphant, Montrose and Susquehanna. Each team to employ home talent or players who are provided with positions in each town. Games to be played Wednesdays, Saturdays and holidays.

An excellent schedule could be arranged, with easy jumps, at comparatively little expense, and the guarantee would be in keeping with the receipts of the game. Popular prices should prevail.

The interest created would be widespread, and some excellent players would be developed. There is plenty of good material to select from in each town. The suggestion is offered by W. R. Hughes, of The Tribune, who has always taken a deep interest in the national game.

Communications, looking forward to the organization of such a league, from reputable people in each town suggested, will be welcomed by Mr. Hughes, and if sufficient interest is expressed, a league will be formed, and a meeting of those interested will be called for some future date.

The franchises will, of necessity, have to be placed in reliable hands, enclosed grounds secured, and each club will have to put up a forfeit as a guarantee of good faith before any team can be accepted as a member of the league.

Communications from the managers of the Scranton semi-professionals, Carbondale Crescents, Honesdale Tigers, Olyphant Browns, Susquehanna Stars, Montrose team, Pittston Brothers and the Wilkes-Barre team are invited and can be addressed to W. R. Hughes, care of The Tribune, Scranton, Pa.

REDS WERE OUTCLASSED. They Were Mowed Down by the Scranton Semi-Professionals on Saturday at the Park.

The Taylor Reds were outclassed by the Scranton semi-professionals at Athletic park, Saturday afternoon, when Manager Wirth tried out his new pitcher, Bray, of the Green Ridge Amateurs. The youngster made good in every department of the game, and seems to possess good speed, has plenty of curves, uses his head effectively, and fields his position properly. He shut out the Reds and allowed them but three hits, two of which were made after he had a chance to retire the side. Only two men walked, and he struck out six men. Bray's error was on a throw thrown ball to first, allowing the runner to advance to second.

Touhill had an off day, both at the bat and in the field. The first two trips up he struck out, but the next two times hit safely. He erred on his first and fourth chances, but each time got his men on second and first.

Frings led with the stick, having three singles out of four trips up. All of the team played fast, snappy ball, and some very pretty plays resulted. Their base running was also a feature.

The Reds were never in the hunt, only two men reaching third base, and only three men went to bat in each inning, except the third and sixth innings. In the latter Phibbin reached first on Touhill's error, but was doubled at second on Shields' out at first. Then Hayes hit a hot one directly at Bray, who failed to recover himself in time to put the batter out. After that Manager Frings made three errors, being caught singly, but both were left on bases by Morris flying out to center. Had Bray succeeded in throwing Hayes out at first, but one hit would have been the sum total of the Reds' stick work.

Their throwing and fielding was very rugged, most of their errors being made on such plays. Mangum, in center field, could not stop a ball or throw and assisted in making Scranton runs. Morris, Ingles and Shields also fielded recklessly. Davis at first was also weak on receiving thrown balls. Left-fielder Day made three pretty running catches. With a better team behind him, Shields is capable of much better work than the score indicates.

In the seventh the whole Scranton team was at bat. Crane went out on a fly to left field. Madenspacher reached base on Ingles' error. Francis, Touhill, Owens and McCue hit safely, scoring three runs; Ferris struck out. Wirth reached first on four wide ones, and Bray forced him out at second. Several hundred people witnessed the game. Following is the detailed score:

FIFTY YEARS IN GOD'S WORK

DEATH OF REV. PHILIP FREDERICK ZIZELMANN.

Was the First Lutheran Minister in Scranton and for Forty-one Successive Years Served as Pastor of the Zion German Lutheran Church on Mifflin Avenue—Began His Ministerial Work in Texas Over Half a Century Ago—Death Came Unexpectedly Yesterday Morning.

Rev. Philip Frederick Zizelmann, for more than half a century a minister of the German Lutheran church, died yesterday morning, of heart disease, at the family home, 1522 Mulberry street, April 1st last, while going on a call, he suffered a fainting spell, as he was walking along the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western tracks, in the neighborhood of the old rolling mill and fell over the embankment, sustaining a severe wound on the head. Since that time he has been falling. On Saturday, Dr. Everhart was called to attend him and told the family he might live for several years or drop off at any time, his pulse showing only thirty to the minute. At 9:45 o'clock Saturday night, he retired after laying out his clothes for Sunday. At 7 o'clock yesterday morning he was found dead in bed. The condition of the body indicated that he had not been dead very long.

RETIRED OCT. 1. The deceased was the father of the Lutheran churches of Scranton. Oct. 1, 1851, he retired from the pastorate of the Zion Lutheran church on Mifflin avenue, after a continuous service in the same church for more than forty-one years. His first charge here was a small congregation which assembled in the old hall in the Montez & Pughes building, corner of Washington and Lackawanna avenues.

Mr. Zizelmann was born in Kleeborn, near Stuttgart, Wurtemberg, Germany, on Oct. 10, 1824, his parents being Christian and Anna Elizabeth (Kranich). His father was a soldier in the Napoleon wars, and he fought against Napoleon at Waterloo. In his father's house he learned those principles of religion which turned his thoughts toward the Christian ministry.

Having been confirmed as a member of the Lutheran church, and having passed through the school of the Zion Lutheran church on Mifflin avenue, he attended the University of Basel in Switzerland. After completing his studies there, he was ordained to the office of a gospel minister at Loerach, Baden, in 1851.

He was sent by the church authorities of his native province as a missionary to gather the scattered Germans in the New World into congregations and to bring to them the Christian faith of their fathers.

Landing at Galveston, Texas, in 1851, after a voyage of forty-nine days, he plunged into the work of his missionary on the outskirts of civilization.

He labored most successfully for ten years in Texas, establishing congregations and building churches at San Antonio and Fredericksburg and gathering the nucleus of future congregations at other places.

While at Fredericksburg he was married to Miss Christiana Barbara Schlotterbeck, a native of Wurtemberg, like himself, who proved a true helpmeet to him in his arduous work.

Leaving Texas in the spring of 1860 with his young wife, he went to New York, broken in health by his pioneer labors. He was soon called by the authorities of the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania to look after the interests of the Lutheran church in Lackawanna county.

Thus Mr. Zizelmann made his first acquaintance with Scranton, and then a comparatively insignificant place. On May 18, 1860, he organized Zion German church of this city, the congregation worshipping for three years in a hall on Lackawanna avenue. In 1863 he present location on Mifflin avenue with a small church, which was purchased from a Welsh congregation. This church was twice enlarged to accommodate the growing congregation in 1866 and 1886.

THE MOTHER CHURCH. This congregation has become the mother church of seven other Lutheran churches in Scranton and has exerted an influence in Lutheran church work all through this region. Mr. Zizelmann, himself organized St. Peter's Lutheran church of Petersburg in 1860, building a church and continuing as pastor for ten years. His activity also extended to other points in the Lackawanna valley, as he preached frequently in school houses and private houses in the many villages of this section to the scattering members of his flock. There are few of the older German families in the city to whom "Father" Zizelmann, as he was affectionately called, did not at some time minister in his pastoral work.

He was a quiet, even retiring disposition, his sturdy German piety dreading all notoriety and sensationalism, and averse to publishing his works and deeds to the world. He was a man universally respected and beloved by all with whom he came in contact and his loss will be sincerely mourned by a very large circle of friends.

He was the father of seven children, of whom three, Frederick W., Charles M., and Theodora E., all residents of Scranton, survive him. His wife died May 25, 1901.

The funeral services will be held from his late residence, 1522 Mulberry street, at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, after which public services will be held in St. Peter's church, Petersburg. All the Lutheran ministers of the city will assist in the service. Rev. John Randolph, pastor of the church, making a German address and Rev. E. P. Ritter, of Holy Trinity church, making the English address.

HIGH MASS IS RESUMED. Bishop Hoban Preaches on the Gospel of the Day.

High mass was celebrated at St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock for the first time since the hot weather set in. Rev. J. A. O'Reilly, rector of the cathedral, was celebrant; Rev. Lator B. McLoughlin, deacon, and Rev. Matthew Brown, sub-deacon.

Bishop Hoban was present during the mass and preached the sermon. He spoke on the gospel of the day, which deals with Christ's dinner with the chief of the Pharisees, to which he was invited that he might be trapped into a violation of the Sabbath law.

Christ was invited to this dinner, the bishop said, that he might be watched and trapped. Man is continually being watched, the reverend speaker went on to say, and it behooves him to act accordingly. He is watched in the bosom of his family; he is watched in the household of the faithful, and he is watched by those outside his fold. His conduct should always be such as will not only bear scrutiny but be exemplary. It is not sufficient, he said, not to give scandal. One should endeavor at all times to edify.

The choir, under the direction of Prof. Schilling, sang Gounod's St. Cecilia's mass, the solo parts being sustained by Mrs. M. J. Leonard, Miss B. A. Lavelle, Gus Reppert and W. A. Bradbury.
