London, Sept. 10 .- A parliamentary paper issued this morning gives a full report of the recent conference between the colonial secretary, Joseph Chamberthe executive mansion. Colonel Rich- lain, and the Boer generals, Botha, De Wet and De la Rey. Prior to agreeing to the interview, which the Boers asked for on Aug. 20, the colonial secretary requested a list of the subjects which it was desired to discuss, and the generals forwarded a list, including the following: Complete annesty to the rebels. A yearly grant to all Boer widows and orphans and maimed burghers. Equal rights for the English and Dutch languages in the schools and ourts. That equal rights with the British be conceded to burghers complying with the terms of surrender, including the right to return to South Africa. The immediate release of all prisoners of war. The reinstatement of the officers of the late South African Republics, or compensation for their loss of office. Compensation for all loss' occasioned by the British troops by the use, removal, burning or destruction by other means of all private property.

Mr. Chamberlain, "that we have undertaken already more obligations than have ever before been undertaken under similar circumstances. To take one case in my time: I recollect very well the great civil war in America and I appeal to that because that stands out as a case in which more than ever before, or, indeed, ever since, the victor, the conqueror, showed a magnanimous and generous feeling to the conquered. There was good reasons for this, because they were brothers of the same race, the same religion, the same everything. It was a civil war, but in that case the northern side, that is to say, the victorious side, made no provision whatever, either by way of grant, pension or allowance, to the people who had been wounded, to the side that had been conquered. "They gave them their lives and their liberties, and after a period of about ten years gave them votes, but did not give them any money compensation. Verdict in Castelli Case.

Wilkes-Barre, Sept. 10 .- The coroner's jury investigating the cause of death of the Italian union miner Castelli, by strikers at Maltby last Monday, returned a verdict this evening that the murdered man came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by parties unknown to the jury.

Frank Portay, the companion of the murdered man, who was with him on morning of the tragedy and who sustained serious injuries at the hands of the mob, was able to be present and testified. One of his arms is broken and he is injured internally. He testified that he and Castelli started out on a gunning trip Monday morning. Walking up the railroad they saw a bird on a tree and fired at it. The discharge of the gun caused a large number of men to rush up to where they were standing. Before the hunters could offer any explanation the mob attacked them. After being knocked down and clubbed. Portay escaped to a corn field, where he remained in hiding until the crowd went away. Ten men have now been arrested, charged with being Implicated in the assault on the Italians. They will be given a hearing before Magistrate Pollock tomorrow.

President Mitchell accepted an invitation from Sheriff Schadt, of Lackawanna county, to be his guest at a rocial given at Hervey's lake this evening. Before leaving for the lake, Mr. Mitchell sald no overtures had been made by the coal operators looking to a settlement of the strike, and had received no word from Governor Stone about a conference to be held in which he was to be one of the participants.

The local operators say they have not been authorized to post notices granting the miners a ten per cent. increase in wages if they will return to work.

River Colony under the proclamation of August 7, 1901, Mr. Chamberlain promised that the farms bought by the government would be retransferred to their former owners.

General Botha criticized the compoition of the commission appointed to allot the grant of £15,000,000 (for the purpose of assisting burghers and their families to return to their homes and for restocking their farms, etc.), and objected to national scouts serving as ommissioners. Mr. Chamberlain maintained that the government must be true to those who supported it.

Relative to the transfer to Natal of part of the Transvaal, General Botha said the burghers proposed to trek therefrom. He lived there, but saw no chance of remaining, the feeling of the British in Natal being so strongly anti-Boer.

On the subject of martial law Mr. Chamberlain said it would not be conniau tinued much longer.

The colonial secretary refused to recognize as burghers foreigners who had been naturalized during or just before the war, saying they had been bribed by the resolution of the Volksraad giving them burghers' rights as a reward for taking part in a conflict in which they were not concerned.

General Botha concluded with an appeal for the widows and orphans, and CANAL PURCHASE tax, and furnishing free light to the city hall, police stations, etc.
