MERGER ORDINANCE.

When the ordinance "providing for the merger of certain unexpended balances of the year 1901 and providing for the payment of certain deficiencies prior to the year 1902" was called up by Evan W. Evans, of the Fourth ward, it was "something doing." He offered an amendment to strike out the appropriation of $1,835.50 for call and bank fees, explaining as his reason that the director of public safety wanted to use the money to buy horses and other equipment for the fire department.

At this point Evans also offered to strike out the appropriation for printing and stationery for the department of public safety, and $732.52 for repairs to the crematory. These two items were transferred without any objection, but several of the members registered vigorous kicks about disturbing the $1,835.50.

A vote was finally taken on the first amendment, and it was defeated by one vote, the members responding as follows: Ayes—J. J. Evans, Henry Snowden, W. W. Evans, E. W. Evans, Bearing, James Knoepfel, Keller, Robathan—Nays—David Evans, A. L. Lewis, McGreevy, Calpin, Paine, Galvin, William Leevey, Haller, Sipp, McFale, Garst—H.

SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES.

Buohre Party Conducted in St. John's Hall on Stone Avenue—Julian Cooper's Lucky Escape.

St. John's hall on Stone avenue was crowded with young people last evening, the attraction being the first of a series of social parties, which will take place weekly during the social season, the proceeds to be donated to the new church being erected on Orchard street.

The young ladies of the parish have taken up the matter of raising funds, and the meeting in each family will have entire charge of the weekly gatherings. Miss Tessie McGoldrick had sole charge last evening, and the young lady won many ecumens for the efficient manner in which the arrangements were carried out. Fifty tables in five sections were set about the hall for the players, and at 10 o'clock every one was occupied by interested players, all striving for the various good things donated as prizes.

The winning lady was presented with a cologne atomizer, and the leading gentleman received a pair of silk suspenders. The booty prizes were: a pair of millinery for the lady, and a suit of doll's clothes for the gentleman.

During the games a short musical programme was rendered. The Misses Annie McDermott and Annie Thomas, of Hyde Park, sang several selections in a charming manner, and piano selections were also rendered by Harry Walsh. Miss McGoldrick was assisted by the following young ladies: The Misses Mary and Kate Cavanaugh, of Carbondale; Mary and Bridget Jude, of Sarah Killeen; Marie, Lizzie, Cawley and Jessie McGoldrick.

Cooper Was Lucky. Julian Cooper, who terrorized the residents on Breck street, Wednesday, and who after shooting at his brother-in-law, fled to the mines, was yesterday arrested on a warrant sworn out by Charles Aylesworth, and taken to the Alder street station house by Patrolman James Quinnan.

He was given a hearing before Magistrate Storr last evening, and after talking over the affair with the plaintiff the charges were withdrawn, Cooper agreeing to pay all costs.

An Old Man in Trouble. John Du Boites was brought before Alderman Lentz last evening, on the charge of obtaining money under false pretences. The charge was preferred by John Nowicki, of Elm street, who stated that some time ago he bought a property from Du Boites, which is located on South Webster avenue.

The consideration was $350, and he paid $35 on account. When the deed was being prepared it was found by the records that the property had been already disposed of to persons residing in Philadelphia. A demand was then made for the return of the deposit, but Du Boites was unable to pay.

He explained at the hearing that some time ago he made an agreement with a relative, whereby he gave them the property; they to keep him in board as long as he lived and pay him besides $2 a month. Later this party, although having secured a deed of the lot, moved to Philadelphia, and since that time have failed to keep the agreement.

For this reason the defendant was of the belief that the property was his, and as he is in feeble health proceeded to sell as above described. After hearing both sides the alderman held the defendant for court in $300 bail, but it is likely the case will be settled.

Pleasantly Surprised. A surprise party gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, on Prospect avenue, a few nights ago. After an exchange of compliments, the visitors were most heartily welcome, and after a fine programme of vocal and instrumental music, supper was served at 11 o'clock.

Those present were: Harry Higgins, Thomas Boland, Joseph McNally, John Roemer, George Katz, August Katz, Thomas Miles, Nicholas Radke, John Rooney, Michael Gallagher, David Kerrigan, Joseph Herley, Chester Reese, Joseph Drake, John Foley, Harold Harris, William Detrich; Misses Nellie Langan, Lena Feiffer, Anna Kelley, Cassie Evans, Bertha Talle, Kate Osborne, Viola Mills, Anna Rooney, Stella Osborne, Maggie Kelley, Bessie Parry, Anna Rosen, Anna Kelly and Mamie Cawley.

NUBS OF NEWS. A new club, to be known as the Metropolitan, has been organized on this side, and at the last meeting about forty members were enrolled. The club will go in strong for athletics, and they already have two basket ball teams at practice. Tuesday of each week will be the regular meeting night, and the members will conduct an opening social in Gallery's hall next week, September 16.

Master George and Miss Veronica Hofnagel are the guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kiefer, on Brook street.

E. J. Robinson and Constable Peter McNeil attended the races in West Pittston yesterday.

The funeral of the late Minnie Hamm will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the parents' residence, 616 Aitken avenue.

Members of the Pittston Avenue Methodist Episcopal church held a prayer meeting at the residence of Philip Kiefer, on Brook street, last evening.

SONGS OF ZION.

The Death of Jephtha's Daughter. (To Dr. McLeod.) Written for The Tribune. Scene—Mount of Zalmon; a burning altar. Characters—Jephtha and his daughter. Chorus of Israelites. Chorus of angels.

Jephtha— "O Lord, God of Israel! O Lord of our fathers! Here at Thy feet we lowly kneel. Hushed is the tempest; Joy hath triumphed, And happiness smiles on the vale of Jezreel." Chorus of Israelites—Refrain. "Hushed is the tempest; And happiness smiles on the vale of Jezreel."

Jephtha— "The Lord is Almighty! Without beginning And without ending. We worship Thee! Thou reignest over Israel. Thou lovest Thy people! Thou didst lead them from their bondage." To the land of their inheritance; Thou art the great Captain of Israel! Thou leadest them forth to the battle. "How glorious and victorious! Jehovah! Jehovah! Wee to thine enemies, O Israel! Wherefore thine anguish, O Egypt? Who is thy savior now? O Anak, of the mountains. Where is thy giant strength? Ye warriors, sons of Jakob, Who is thy savior now? Ye ruins of great Jericho. Where is thy strength and glory? The Lord hath girded His mighty word. Herbon hath fallen! Sihon is no more. His chariot lies crushed upon the bat. Thy people are free. Behold our sacrifice— The fairest of Israel! (To his daughter.) "Who is thy savior, my daughter! The hour is high When thou, on this altar, For Israel must die! Jephtha's daughter— "Oh father, sweet father! Let the flowers illumine This sanctified altar. With fragrant perfume. For thus, like a flower By soft zephyrs stirred, I die, in my glory. Who live with the Lord." Jephtha— "The fairest of flowers Shall bloom in their pride When I lead, in His beauty, Took thee for His bride! And, gilded in their glory, Thy fair form I'll see Serenely in thy beauty. Still smiling on me." Jephtha's daughter— (Weeping)— "Farewell! lovely Moab, Farewell! to thy vale. Thy beauty, O Kadash! My sad soul assails. Ye daughters of Mizpah, That weep by the gate, Remember my story. Remember my fate. (Kneels before the altar.) "Dear Lord, in youthful pride and bloom, From sin and sorrow free, I am prepared to meet my doom, And journey forth with Thee. How sweet it is, in this dark hour, To see Thy glorious ray Beam forth in all its joy and power To guide me on my way. Dear Lord, the happy hour is come! O take me to Thy blessed home! (She lays upon the burning altar.) "My life is the Lord."

Jephtha— "O Lord, God of Israel! Behold our sacrifice! Her spirit ascendeth! O wait it away! O wait it away! To the realms of Thy glory— To Thy beautiful day." Chorus of Israelites— "The spirit ascendeth, O wait it away! O wait it away! To the realms of Thy glory— To Thy beautiful day." Chorus of Angels— "Jehovah! Jehovah! He reigneth o'er Israel! Blessed are they who live in the Lord!" Chorus of Israelites— "The spirit ascendeth, O wait it away! O wait it away! To the realms of Thy glory— To Thy beautiful day." Chorus of Israelites— "He reigneth o'er Israel!" "O wait it away!" "O wait it away!" "He reigneth o'er Israel!" "To the realms of Thy glory— To Thy beautiful day!" —George W. Bowen.

Yesterday was consumed by the jury in hearing another big batch of unimportant cases. None of the big cases have yet been taken up.

Spencer Equity Case.

All of yesterday was consumed in taking testimony in the equity case of A. D. Spencer and others against the Nay Aug Coal company. A. D. Spencer was the first witness called yesterday morning and testified that the Nay Aug Coal company has mined a considerable amount of coal which is owned by him and his partners. He valued the coal taken at 75 cents a ton. H. M. Spencer gave similar testimony. W. J. Thompson, Jr., a mining engineer, testified that he made an examination of the mines and found that the Nay Aug company had gone below a fault in the veins and were taking coal from beyond it.

Testimony more or less sustaining the contentions of the plaintiff was given by J. T. Brady, Ernest McDonald, A. L. Wardell, John Cordy, Byron Brady, James Powell, M. C. McHale and James Young. Other testimony for the defense will be heard today.

White Is Released.

Ernest White, through Attorney James E. Watkins, yesterday petitioned the court to direct the sheriff to release him from the county jail, where he has been since June 11 last.

On that date he was found guilty of deserting his wife and was directed to pay her $10 per month. He alleges that he is a miner and was not working at the time the sentence was imposed and was therefore not able to pay, nor would he be able to pay now on account of the mines being idle.

The court gave him his freedom until September 27, when there is to be a hearing on a rule to show cause why he should not be finally discharged.

My Lady's Fall Attire Is the subject of every day conversation among well dressed, well bred women now. Fashion Plates showing styles for fall wear have been out for a month, but pictures are so misleading that one cannot discuss fashions depicted in them intelligently. The New Fall Walking Skirts Are all in now, while many worthy examples of New Fall Tailored Gowns For street wear or traveling, are also on exhibition and the stock will be fully complete within the next ten days. Many Ladies' are averse to wearing ready-to-wear garments, because they have read so much about the dirt and squalor of the "sweat-shops." We have simply to say that we are thoroughly familiar with factories and work rooms where all our Ready-to-Wear Garments are made, and can assure our patrons that there is no cause for fear on the grounds mentioned above. Every garment offered by us is made in well lighted, well ventilated work rooms, where the sanitary arrangements are perfect, and the work people clean and well paid. We can prove this statement if need be. Come In and See the New Fashions. Walking Skirts and Gowns. McConnell & Co. The Satisfactory Store. 400-402 Lackawanna Ave.
