STEAM HOLLOW SWAMP MUCK

EFFECTS REMARKABLE CHANGE IN SAMMY RAYMOND.

A Discovery That United Two Aching Hearts—Lonely Prisoners in Montrose Jail—New Life in the County Orange—The Lightning Rod Man Again in Evidence—Coming Farmers' Institutes—News in Paragraphs.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, Sept. 14.—Uncle Sammy Raymond, an aged resident of Steam Hollow, is noted for several things, among them being the possessor of a fenceless farm, and an inordinate appetite for apple-jack.

And the unhappy Sammy went his way, keeping his spirits up by pouring spirits down.

Three weeks ago Uncle Sammy hitched up his fiery, unled steed, drove to Great Bend, and proceeded to paint the quiet hamlet a bright red hue.

Late at night a kind-hearted saloonkeeper named Sammy upon his backboard, and the next morning an early riser found Sammy's steed nibbling burdocks upon a side hill.

It was harnessed and the neighbors at once instituted a search for Sammy, for he was valuable—he could vote, and he never saw a man go thirsty so long as he had a nickel.

To the great joy of the Steam Hollowers, Uncle Sammy was, after a long search, discovered imbedded in the blue mud of a cranberry marsh a mile from his home.

The returned wagon was his coverlet. He was deep in an alcoholic trance and oblivious to the world and its pitfalls.

Sammy was carried home to his cabin. With a physician's help and the widow Coggin's tender nursing, in a week he was able to sit up, swear and drink apple-jack.

News of Uncle Sammy's miraculous experience with blue swamp muck has spread abroad, and scores of people are wearing skull caps filled with the muck and the owner of the swamp is deluged with orders for boxes of the soil.

A number of manufacturers of hair restorers are, in consequence, going out of business, and a Birmingham wig maker has turned evangelist.

Uncle Sammy and the widow Coggin will be married when the red is on the pumpkin and the tassel's on the corn.

THE SUSQUEHANNA COURTS. The Susquehanna Association of Unemployed has a meeting at Brookline on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

There are but three prisoners in the county jail. Mules are being returned to the Lackawanna coal mines from Susquehanna county farms.

It is said that, under certain conditions, the Bell Telephone company will connect their wires with the Northeastern company's lines.

The Montrose fair will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday next. The Hartford fair will be held September 24-25.

The annual reunion of Company B, Seventeenth Pennsylvania cavalry, was held at the residence of Stanley Stone, in Franklin township, on Wednesday last.

The annual reunion of Corps H, One Hundred and Fifty-first Pennsylvania regiment, was held on Wednesday and Thursday last at the home of M. G. Hill, in Jessup.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM. History of too many coal strikes: Mines, miners, nitrous.

A Montrose editor says it cost him six months' rheumatism to catch a six-inch fish. This is a true fish story.

Ella Jane writes: "If the coal strike doesn't end, what shall I burn next winter?" Begin with burning your love letters.

If you cannot whip a man, be lenient with his faults. Every man in the county would be a millionaire if he would work with half the energy that his wife does when she starts out to catch a bit of gossip.

The problem of life: How to make one dollar do the work of two. These are the days when the school children are wishing the teachers would boil the lessons.

IN PARAGRAPHS. In New Milford, on Thursday, a ball game between Montrose and New Milford broke up in a row. A good many ball games ought to be settled by arbitration.

Eric Hase company, No. 1, and the Susquehanna battery on Thursday participated in the annual parade of the Port Jervis fire department. By common consent, the Eric's were the best-dressed and best-drilled company in line.

The younger members of the Pennsylvania State Orange company are making a heroic effort to infuse new life into the organization, which, in a decade, has fallen in membership from 60,000 to about 12,000.

THE LIGHTNING ROD MAN AGAIN.

Farmer S. D. Beaven, of Windsor township, has had an experience with a lightning rod man. A week ago a dapper, thirty-year-old man, who called himself a lightning rod man, he wanted to appoint Mr. Beaven as a local agent for the sale of rods, and would charge him but $5 for eight feet of the rods, giving him 100 feet on account of being an agent.

Under the direction of the state board of agriculture, farmers' institutes will be held in Susquehanna county as follows: Herick, December 8; Jackson, December 9; New Milford, December 10; Montrose, December 11; Rush, December 12.

When marriage is a failure, there is a good deal more wrong with the man or woman than with marriage.

The helpful politician, who's working like a beaver, dreams of a foreign mission, but only gets hay fever.

The chap who wrote about "the silent watches of the night" must have had a sleeping policeman in his mind.

The man who said "Leaders are few, but followers go in flocks," never tried to run a campaign club.

In a month, one overcoat on the back will be worth a whole clothing store in back.

Wrote 2 Montrose editor: "We edit the paper this week lying in bed; but a careful perusal of it will disclose the fact that a man can lie in bed as well as he can out of it."

Washington Lavery, one of the Erie's mechanical superintendents, has resigned his position. He is a former master mechanic of the Susquehanna shops.

The Palmieri family reunion was held on Saturday at the home of C. J. Rockwell, in Lattop township.

The Hill family reunion was held at the residence of George Meeker, at Lanesville, on Friday.

It is probable that Scranton, Carbondale, Honesdale, Susquehanna, Pittston and Great Bend clubs will next season compose an independent base ball league.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Towanda, Sept. 12.—Judge Niles, of Wellsboro, is presiding at Bradford county court.

The annual meeting of the Bradford County Historical society was held on Tuesday and re-organization was made.

contract for building twelve miles of the extension from Laque to Ralston, to Whalen brothers, of Towanda. This will carry the line to Wheelerville and to Allentown, Leeming county, and also will be the nearest road to the Union Tanning company's large plant at Hillsgrove, Sullivan county. The rails are now laid to Laque, and a new depot, boarding house and store building will be erected. The company has received several cars for its log road, and as soon as the mill is completed lumber will be manufactured. It is authoritatively stated that a line will be pushed westward to Ralston, part of the road being now under contract with Whalen brothers; then it will cross the Northern Central and be extended on to Hoytville, where a large tannery is owned by the Union Tanning company. The Buffalo and Susquehanna railroad, now twelve miles from Hoytville, will build to that point and make a connection with the Susquehanna & New York road, completing a line from Western Pennsylvania to Binghamton.

Mr. Morgan Williams, of 559 North Hyde Park avenue, employed as a miner in the Hyde Park mines, says: "I had for a year or so on sharp pains across my kidneys. If I stooped it hurt me so that I almost yelled from pain and when I went to straighten—the sharp pains in my back were very severe. I mentioned my condition to a friend, who advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills, saying that they were the best remedy that he had heard of. I got a box at Matthews Bros.' drug store and commenced to use them. Gradually the pain began to leave and when I had finished the box it had entirely disappeared."
