DEATH SADDENS THREE CARBONDALE HOMES

Mrs. Alexander Johnston, of Darte Avenue, Mrs. Elsie Graves, of Garfield Avenue, and Jacob Faurot, of South Terrace Street, Pass Away. Well-Known Residents.

The shadow and gloom of death darkened three homes in Carbondale yesterday. Those to whom the summons came were Mrs. Isabella Johnson, of Darte Avenue, wife of Alexander Johnson; Mrs. Elsie Graves, of Garfield Avenue, mother of Mrs. Frank Smith, and Joseph Faurot, of South Terrace Street.

MRS. ISABELLA JOHNSON, wife of Alexander Johnson, died last evening at 5 o'clock, at the residence, 10 Darte Avenue, after suffering from heart trouble for five weeks.

The deceased, before her marriage, was Miss Isabella Lindsay, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Lindsay, who were conspicuous among the pioneers of Carbondale. She was born in this city, October 10, 1860, and always lived here. A sad coincidence was her death on the tenth anniversary of her marriage. Mrs. Johnson's life was marked by womanly characteristics, which made the friendships listing which she won in all her relations. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church, where her influence was felt. Her death will be keenly regretted.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by her husband, Alexander Johnson, blacksmith at the Delaware and Hudson shop, and the following brothers and sisters: Frank Lindsay, of this city, foreman at the Carbondale telephone office; John Lindsay, of Burlington, N. J.; Miss Margaret Jenkins, of Carbondale; Mrs. Frank Marshall, Freehold, Pa.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon. The procession will leave the house at 2 o'clock for the Presbyterian church, where funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Charles Lee. Burial will be in Maplewood cemetery.

MRS. ELSIE B. GRAVES expired at the home of her son-in-law, Frank Smith, Garfield Avenue, at 4:30 yesterday afternoon. Three weeks ago she fell and sustained a fractured arm. Her age, being 87 years, operated against her rallying, and, weakened by the shock, she expired.

Mrs. Graves was born in Sullivan county, N. Y., March 6, 1815. When she was 14 years of age she came to Carbondale, which she has since made her permanent home. She was among the very oldest of Carbondalians, as to residence. She was wedded to Elymond W. Graves on January 8, 1835, by Rev. Hiram Shepherd. Her husband passed away October 3, 1871. Eight sons and daughters were born to them, only two of whom survive, Mrs. Frank Smith, with whom Mrs. Graves has lived for about a dozen years, and Miss Jennie Graves, also of this city.

Mrs. Graves had a connection with the Methodist church which was edifying. She was a faithful worshipper for sixty-five years. Her life was fruitful of much good, and she passed to her reward with assurances of having realized high womanly purposes. The deceased was Miss Elsie Decker, before her marriage.

The funeral will be Friday afternoon. Services will be conducted at the residence by Rev. A. F. Chaffee and Rev. R. A. Sawyer. Burial will be in Maplewood cemetery.

JACOB S. FAUROT succumbed yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, at his home, 100 South Terrace Street, to an attack of meningitis which prostrated him on Saturday from which he never regained consciousness. Mr. Faurot was a victim of locomotor ataxia, from which he suffered about two years. For over a year he suffered the loss of the free use of one of his limbs, and for seven or eight months past he was unable to follow his occupation.

Mr. Faurot was born in Jessup, Susquehanna county, June 28, 1844, and came to Carbondale sixteen years ago, where he has since lived. He was employed as foreman by the Hendricks Manufacturing company. The deceased was quiet and unassuming in manner, though his qualities, as to his many friends. He belonged to Fidelity club, No. 130, Improved Order of Pentecosts. His survivors are his wife, Jeannette Faurot, one daughter, Mrs. Oliver Bailey; his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Burdick, Springville, Susquehanna county; one sister, Mrs. R. G. Scott, Scranton.

Services of the dead will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence, 100 South Terrace Street. Dr. A. F. Chaffee will officiate. Tomorrow morning the deceased will be taken over the Delaware and Hudson, on the 8 o'clock train, to Jessup, Susquehanna county, where he will be laid to sleep in the cemetery of his birthplace.

Poor Director Williams' Illness. Poor Director Harry T. Williams, former secretary of the board and a member of the insurance agency of Likely & Williams, is quite ill of typhoid.

STRENGTH AND FOOD. The First Comes from the Last.

When proper food is used in sickness the recovery is much more rapid and sure, and a food that is good and easy of digestion is right for anyone.

Mrs. H. L. Gordon, of Corry, Pa., was taken down with nervous prostration and heart trouble about a year ago and for weeks it seemed that she could not live.

She says, "The medicine I took for my nerves and heart injured my stomach and I grew steadily worse until I could retain nothing. For weeks I was kept alive on one teaspoonful of best tea and one of lime water every hour and after a while I could not even continue that. I grew weaker and weaker and finally was compelled to use sweet oil to feed the bowels, until one day my daughter suggested that I try Grape-Nuts dry, as I could not retain anything moistened. After the third day I began to steadily mend and for weeks and months I ate them three times a day.

When I began eating Grape-Nuts I weighed 75 lbs., now I weigh 110 and am doing my housework and eating nearly any and everything. I tell everyone I hear complain of poor stomach to try Grape-Nuts and many have seen the strength of my cure."

fever at his home on Belmont Street. Mr. Williams' condition is favorable so far as the disease has progressed, and the hope is that he will safely weather the attack.

ARCHBOLD'S COLORS. They Are a Faded Violet, White, and a Rusty Black.

At last, after much guessing and curiosity, we have learned Archbold's colors. This information came to us yesterday when we received a postal card from Pottsville, filled with scrawls of nothingness and led with the colors of the hat team. As anticipated, the principal color is black, a rusty black at that. There was a weak looking white and a pale violet. The colors must have been washed recently, for they were faded-looking, and, as anticipated, were about as fast as the "Klids" who play ball, also "bawl," in the White Oak borough. We are grateful to the donor of the colors, and assure him or her that they will always be kept in sight. We have tied them on the office waste basket, where they look very much at home.

PRETTY WEDDING OF SEPTEMBER EVENING

Beautiful House Ceremony Marks Nuptials of Miss Margaret Marcy and Edward Purdon at Mills Residence on Burkett Terrace—The Bride Conspicuous in Society.

A home wedding with rarely beautiful ceremony marked the nuptials of Miss Margaret Marcy and Edward Purdon, which were celebrated last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mills on Burkett Terrace.

The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock in the pleasantly decorated parlor, where there was an assemblage of immediate friends of the family. The bridal procession moved from the upper floor at 8 o'clock. The ushers, Maxwell D. Lathrop, Albert Rutherford and Albert Crane, were in advance. The four flower carriers, Margaret and Louise Mellen, Catherine Burdick and Edna Purdon, making a pretty moving picture in their dresses of white, came next. The maid, Miss Madeline Clare Mills, preceded the groom and his best man, Truman A. Sarum, who were followed by the bride, supported by Mr. Mills. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Prof. A. P. Thomas.

The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Charles Lee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The bridal party dispersed, Prof. Thomas rendered Mendelssohn's wedding music. The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk and carried white roses. The maid wore French mulle and carried pink roses. The bride was a radiant picture of bridal beauty.

At 10:01, the bride and groom left over the Delaware and Hudson on their honeymoon, which will be spent in New York, Boston and Washington, D. C. They will be at home after Oct. 1, in their apartments in the new Shannon building on North Main street.

FERN HALL CLOSURE. The Successful Season at Crystal Lake Comes to an End.

The season at Crystal Lake for 1902 is at an end. It closed the beginning of this week, when the last of the summer residents left for their homes.

Fern Hall closed on Sunday. This was a most successful season at this cheerful summer home overlooking the lake, despite the belated season, owing to the extraordinarily rainy weather.

Next year will likely see surprising development at this charming resort. Two new telephone companies have established communication with nearby places, and the proposed trolley line to the lake, via Mayfield, will no doubt be in operation next summer. The possibilities of this resort are unlimited and the prospects are bright that they will be fully developed from now on.

Miss Susan E. Jones.

Miss Susan E. Jones, a missionary in the City of Mexico, will speak of her work at the regular prayer meeting of the Berean Baptist church this evening.

A New Waitress.

Miss Julia Gillen, of Dundaff Street, has been added to the corps of waitresses at the Harrison house. Her efficiency has been proven and she will be a welcome addition to the obliging young women who so capably look after the guests' comforts at the hotel. Miss Gillen was at Fern Hall this summer.

Louis Brunner Honored. Popular Louis Brunner, the genial landlord of the Lackawanna house, was given a happy surprise on Tuesday, when a host of friends called to make merry on the occasion of his fortieth birthday anniversary. Superintendent Brock, of the Empire Silk Weaving mill, led the delegation, which had a gold-headed umbrella that was presented to Mr. Brunner by G. H. Dimock, who made a happy speech.

The evening was given over to the enjoyment of the warm-hearted and lavish hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Brunner. I. Val Hollenbeck and Master Brunner gave several selections on the piano and Misses Arnold and Dimock rendered a number of vocal solos.

Prof. Drehman's Swiss bell ringers, who had been secured for the occasion, gave a concert lasting for an hour and a half. They are high-priced artists, executing a difficult class of music, and their parade work while marching from one part of the hotel to the other, made a great hit.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Brunner, Helen Winola, Mrs. Stuprud, G. Newton, P. Hollenbeck, G. McConnell, Kate Solomon, H. Messersmith, M. Dimock, W. Maxwell, Tillie Schriver, J. Miss Nellie Gallagher has returned from several weeks spent at Saratoga and Albany, N. Y., as the guest of Miss Louise Brown, of the latter place. Miss Gallagher attended the great floral fete at Saratoga.

TAYLOR.

The Reds journeyed to Avoca yesterday afternoon where they lowered the colors of the representative team of that place. The home team played all around their opponents. The contest was remarkable for hitting in which the Reds excelled. McDonald, Cranston and Cranston two of the Avoca team pitchers were knocked out of the box and Kelly, the pride of Avoca, their successor fared little better. Williams, Day, Shields and Powell had two three base hits to their credit and Morris, Evans, Glynn and Davis had several two base hits.

One notable feature was Evans handling 4 passes to first base. Williams handled the sphere for the home team and pitched a good game and greatly helped to win the game with his great stick work. The score by innings: R. H. E. Taylor 0 0 0 0 1 3 2 3 3-21 17 6 Avoca 4 0 2 2 4 2 0 2-15 11 7

Three base hits—Williams, 2; Day, 2; Powell and Shields and Early. Batteries—Reds, Williams and Glynn; Avoca, McDonald, Cranston, Kelly and Cranston.

VALUE OF TESTIMONY

Greater Than Assertion. There is none of us so hardened but that when we have been able to aid our fellow creatures by conferring a benefit or bringing a little comfort into their lives we like to have appreciation shown. This generally affords more pleasure than the performance of the act itself, and in this connection the following letter from a Paris, Texas, lady is of more than usual interest:

"Dear Friends: I address you as such, for you have been such to me. I suffered for three years off and on with piles. I was treated at the hospital, and the new and elegant hospital, of Memphis; they only gave me temporary relief. I came west, thinking the change of air and water would benefit me; five months ago the bleeding piles came back on me, and bled so much that I thought I would die. I have had four of the finest doctors in this section of Texas; all they did was to finally nearly let me go to my grave; in all they wanted was a big sum of money from me and to operate on me. I said no, no surgeon's knife would enter me; if it was my time to die God knew it, and when I die I would die all together. I began hearing about your medicine. I had no faith in you, but I sent and got a box of your Pyramid Pile Cure; in two days the blood flow had slackened to one-half the amount, and in one week I felt so much better I walked out my blocks and my little household. I was not bleeding then; in three weeks I was well. God bless you for putting such a wonderful medicine within the reach of suffering men and women. I shall never cease to recommend your medicine or be without it; also I used your Pyramid Pile Cure. A Heurdon's Testimony like this should be more convincing than all claims and assertions, and should leave no doubt in the mind of the reader as to the merit of the remedy. Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed by the makers to any address upon receipt of price. Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their book on cause and cure of piles.

SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY'S FIFTY-SIXTH FAIR

Most Pleasing Exhibit at Montrose. Large Crowds Enjoy Features of the Day.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Montrose, Pa., Sept. 17.—The fifty-sixth annual fair and exhibition of the Susquehanna County Agricultural society is now recorded among the things of the past and it has been, considering all conditions, perhaps one of the best fairs ever held on the grounds in Montrose.

Tuesday was the opening day of the fair and as has been customary in preceding years, no attractions or display was made to draw a crowd of spectators, the day being given up to those who come from a distance with herds of cattle, droves of sheep, swine, etc. In order to have every thing in readiness for the following day—the "big day" of the fair. Many exhibitors arranged their exhibits; salesmen arranged their wares on the stands which occupied prominent positions on the grounds and others accepted the last chance to enter their articles. The day closed with the weather for the morrow appearing rather unfavorable—hazy clouds obscured the setting sun and local weather prophets predict another stormy day for the fair this year.

But the following morning the sun rose on a cloudless sky, and the merchants, farmers, in fact everybody, were early astir and immediately commenced preparations for the county's red letter day. The people flocked to the town in numbers, every road leading to this mecca being dotted with teams, and clouds of dust arose from the highways along the route.

The Harford band arrived in town about ten o'clock and their lively music seemed to stir the people into unusual activity. The fair opened with the lowing of cattle, the bleating of sheep, quacking of ducks, and all the noise made by the habitants of the barnyard, made the town seem like a vast farm.

Promptly at one o'clock an exhibition was given by one of the Yonoma Brothers, the Japanese jugglers, who delighted the audience by his wonderful balancing feats.

Buckley Brothers' merry-go-round, was in full blast all the time and afforded much amusement for the youngsters. At 3 o'clock another exhibition was given by the Japanese juggler. During the intermission between the attractions people roved about the grounds, shaking hands with friends, viewing the poultry exhibits, (of which there were over 80 different varieties) the fancy department in the main building or the vegetable, fruit, or school divisions, or sauntered below the rocks and inspected the cattle, sheep, swine, and other animals, of which there were some magnificent specimens. The pumpkins, which always prove interesting were very large; the fruit however was not up to the usual mark as were also the vegetables. Much interest was taken in the school work, of which there was a fine display. Pigeons, ferrets, rabbits, squirrels, and other pets, were very much admired and excited much comment.

All seemed very much pleased at the close of the fair and many thought that taken all in all it was more largely attended than in many years, between five and six thousand people being present, while over $1,200 was taken in at the gate.

One of the main features of the fair was the excellent dinner served by the ladies of St. Mary's church, over five hundred being served, it requiring over three hundred pounds of beef to supply the great demand.

The fair management deserves great credit for the way in which the fair was conducted, the excellent attractions presented and the interest and hard work spent in making it a success.

BROOKLYN.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Brooklyn, Sept. 17.—At an early hour on Saturday, September 6, 1902, Mr. William Barber's children and grandchildren, with their families and many other relatives, gathered at his home in Lenox to celebrate his sixth birthday. A very pleasant day was spent and shortly after noon the guests were invited to gather around the tables, which were bountifully laden with good things, to which all did ample justice.

After dinner was over we all came together on the lawn and by request of some one present we were called to order by Miss Mienna Barber and it was decided to organize a family reunion, and Mr. Marvin Barber, of Glenview, was elected president. Miss Ida Barber, of Scranton, secretary. Mrs.

Tailor-Made Walking Suits

As we predicted almost a month ago, walking suits will be very popular this fall for shopping or street wear. But they are not the walking suits that Scranton has known until now. The skirts come just to the tip of the shoe; the jackets are all prettily trimmed—there is nothing about them that suggests the athletic, mannish girl; they are purely and simply feminine. The new materials are mostly rough cheviot and English novelty suitings, and the skirts are made, as a rule, unlined.
