

The News of Carbondale.

FOUR MORE DEATHS THE RECORD OF A DAY

Mrs. Jessie Jones, wife of Albert R. Jones, Mrs. Marion Farnham Mellius, of Garfield Avenue, and Mrs. Sarah Hoyle, formerly of Prompton, and Seventeen-Months-Old Hazel Downing Join the Great Majority.

The extraordinarily high mortality of Carbondale in a single week was increased yesterday by four more deaths, making nine persons who have passed away since Sunday last. The victims of the grim reaper yesterday were Mrs. Jessie Jones, wife of Albert R. Jones, of Wayne street; Mrs. Marion Farnham Mellius, of Garfield Avenue; Mrs. Sarah Hoyle, formerly of Prompton, and 17-months-old Hazel Downing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Downing, of Park street.

MRS. JESSIE JONES, wife of Albert R. Jones, formerly of this city, but now residing at Trenton, N. J., died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at the residence on Wayne street, this city.

Mrs. Jones had been a sufferer for over a year from diabetes, which caused her death. A few weeks ago she joined her husband at Trenton, hoping that the change would benefit her. Her illness might remain there, near her husband. The first few days spent in the Jersey capital were beneficial; then Mrs. Jones took an alarming change. She weakened to such a degree that it was deemed prudent to have her return at once to Carbondale. Her weakness grew alarmingly and Mrs. Jones was hurriedly summoned here Tuesday night. Mrs. Jones sank slowly until she passed away during the early hours of yesterday morning. The end was happily peaceful and edifying, those dearest to the passing wife and mother being beside her.

Mrs. Jones was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Weatherly, 73 Wayne street, and was born in Clifford August 13, 1873. The greater part of her life was spent in Carbondale. Her friends were legion indeed and she retained them to the last by her warm-hearted spirit and her gentleness under all circumstances. Her sufferings were keen and sore during her long affliction, but her patience and fortitude concealed this fact from those about her. The news of her death will be depressing to her close friends and the bereaved will regret to all within the circle of acquaintanceship. The warm-hearted sympathies of the community go out to Mr. Jones in the unlooked for grief which overwhelms him.

Mrs. Jones' survivors are her husband, two daughters, Gladys, aged seven, and Cathline, aged two; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Weatherly, of two brothers, Jerome Weatherly, of Williamsport, and H. L. Weatherly, of Florida.

The funeral will be Saturday afternoon. Services will be at the residence at 2 o'clock by Rev. H. J. Whalen, assisted by Rev. W. B. Gow. Burial will be in Maplewood.

MRS. JULIA JESSUP HUDSON HOYLE succumbed yesterday morning at 6 o'clock at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Walters, at Church street and Salem Avenue.

Mrs. Hoyle had been ailing for a number of years. In March last she came to this city from her home in Honesdale, preliminary to going to Green Ridge, where her husband is employed under the Delaware and Hudson company. She remained here and was able to about, though in frail health. Saturday she was taken with congestion of the lungs. Heart failure was the consequence, causing the end yesterday morning.

Mrs. Hoyle was born in Waymart April 16, 1825, and came to Carbondale in childhood. Her mother died when she was but six years old and she then made her home with her grandparents. Her grandfather was the late Deacon Jessup, who was first among the early settlers in Carbondale. His identity with the very early history of the Pioneer City is an interesting one, for he made his abode in those days in the old log tavern which cared for so many of the newcomers to the sort of wilderness here at the time. Mrs. Hoyle spent a number of her earliest years under the rugged roof of this historic habitation. In her young womanhood, Mrs. Hoyle was a member of the First Presbyterian church, was active in all its work and sang in the choir. In 1854 she married Silas Hoyle at Honesdale, to which place she had just moved, and where she lived until her temporary removal to this city in March last. Mrs. Hoyle's wedded life was a happy one, marked with all that is the portion of the faithful and forbearing wife and the loving and self-sacrificing mother. The separation from his dearest home after nearly a half-century of such happy and blessed association is a deep sorrow for Mr. Hoyle.

Mrs. Hoyle's acquaintance was extensive and the circle of her friends was wide. Respect and love were shown her, won by the womanly qualities which made her character forceful and beautiful. Her death will call forth regret throughout this section, where she was so well known and respected.

Mrs. Hoyle's survivors are her husband, Silas Hoyle, who has been employed under the Delaware and Hudson at Green Ridge since the shutting down of the gravity railroad, where he was an engineer; the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Edith Simons, Cloquet, Minn.; Miss Vera Hoyle, Honesdale; Miss Carrie, Walter, Horace H. and Ambrose W. Hoyle, Carbondale; Wellington R. Hoyle, Minneapolis, Minn.; one sister, Mrs. Catherine Stone, Clark's Green; two brothers, Hiram Hudson, Waymart; Arthur Hudson, Bakota.

FREE TO MILLIONS.

A Valuable Little Book Sent Free for the Asking. Medical books are not always interesting reading, especially to people enjoying good health, but as a matter of fact scarcely one person in ten is perfectly healthy, and even with such, sooner or later sickness must come. It is also a well established truth that nine-tenths of all diseases originate with a breaking down of the digestion, a weak stomach weakens and impoverishes the system, making it easy for disease to gain a foothold.

Nobody need fear consumption, kidney disease, liver trouble or a weak heart and nervous system as long as the digestion is good and the stomach able to assimilate plenty of wholesome food.

Stomach weakness shows itself in a score of ways and this little book describes the symptoms and causes and points the way to a cure so simple that anyone can understand and apply.

Thousands have some form of stomach trouble and do not know it. They ascribe the headaches, the languor, nervousness, insomnia, palpitation, constipation and similar symptoms to some other cause than the true one, get your digestion on the right track and the heart trouble, lung trouble, liver disease or nervous debility will rapidly disappear.

This little book treats entirely on the cause and removal of indigestion and its accompanying annoyances.

It describes the symptoms of Acid Dyspepsia, Nervous Dyspepsia, Slow Dyspepsia, Catarrh of the Stomach, Catarrh of the Stomach and all affections of the digestive organs in plain language easily understood and the cause removed.

It gives valuable suggestions as to diet, and contains a table giving length of time required to digest various articles of food, something every person with weak digestion should know.

No price is asked, but simply send your name and address plainly written on postal card to the F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., requesting a little book on Stomach Disease and it will be sent promptly by return mail.

Scranton's Shopping Center

What is a "cheap" store? One that puts price before quality, that sells anything it can, that lives on the gullibility of people—always promising something for nothing.

To make this store more worthy is the daily study of its one hundred earnest business workers.

Dress Trimmings Buttons and Buckles for Fall

It is not going to be a year of much pomp and glitter and splendor—but all of the new dress trimmings that have come are beautiful with a quiet, rich, subtle beauty that will linger long after the noise and dazzle of the Coronation months have died away.

Fall dress-gowns turned out to be uncommonly plain in color and weave—perhaps for that reason trimmings are more in demand than usual. At any rate, garnitures, braids and passementeries are a necessary part of Fall gowns and wraps, to the minds of the great Paris makers, and the rest of the world bids fair to follow in the same idea-path.

The right colors are black and white, though the peacock combination of blue and green is a favorite, and little touches of Oriental color have crept in, like tongues of flame, to light up many dark corners.

Paris has sent us more than her usual share this Fall—year by year she slips further ahead in the art of making lovely garnitures. But besides the robes and appliques and passementeries from France, there are hosts of braids and braid trimmings from Switzerland; jets from Germany, and a brilliant array of fancy buttons and buckles from every country where they are best made.

PENDANTS—Little drops hanging from an ornament are one of the newest things. They are very good in black. Chenille fringes are in the air—already on the gowns and wraps that Paris couturiers are fashioning.

Velvet crops out everywhere, not in heavy masses, but in little delicate touches that are very effective. This year, for the first time, it has been introduced into appliques. Medallions and separable gimps that can be cut apart between any two figures are among the most practical as well as the most beautiful trimmings that have come.

Spangles promise to be even more popular than last year, which is saying a good deal for them. They cover many of the most beautiful robes or unmade gowns in glittering profusion. CORDELIERS—Bits of fancy braid to be put on gowns in the style of frogs—are among the newest ideas, and some are very elaborate and very beautiful.

Blankets and Quilts The Annual Sale Still Lively.

Perhaps it's the coal scarcity. Maybe people think there will be few opportunities to get warm blankets and quilts at these September prices—which is right. It is certain, anyway, that bed clothing is going to new homes in enormous quantities.

Heavier underwear is necessary these days—and we have ordered our full stock in earlier than usual—men's, women's, children's. Not the very heavy, but the medium weight—it's unwise to jump from gauze to heavy wool.

year's meeting and no finer place could have been selected. The broad avenues are fine for the parade—the public buildings and capitol are the mecca for the sightseers, and the close proximity of Washington to the famous battlefields make it the ideal meeting place for the G.
