SOLDIERS ARE NOW READY FOR DUTY

Thirteenth Regiment Encamped at Olyphant with More Than Four Hundred Officers and Men.

VIOLENCE, HOWEVER, CONTINUES

The Thirteenth regiment went into camp at Olyphant at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, in response to a call by Sheriff Schadt for state aid. General Gobin and a number of the members of his staff visited the camp in the afternoon and had a conference with the officers of the regiment regarding the conduct of the affairs in hand. It was decided to keep the regiment mobilized at Olyphant and, as occasion may require it, send out detachments. Soldiers and non-union men engaged in a fight soon after the regiment arrived at Olyphant, and the soldiers were court-martialed. While the regiment was halted at the Olyphant station, before proceeding to the camp site, two non-union men were fired upon from ambush, just across the river, and one of them was probably fatally wounded.

THIRTEENTH REGIMENT IN CAMP AT OLYPHANT

The Thirteenth regiment is now encamped at Olyphant, ready to cope with any strike disturbances that may occur in any part of the valley. Sheriff Schadt's call for troops Monday night met with a quick response. At midnight, Governor Stone decided to honor the sheriff's requisition. At daylight, nearly 400 soldiers were at the appointed rendezvous, ready for duty. The regiment left the armory at 4:30 o'clock, under command of Lieutenant Colonel F. W. Stillwell, and took a Delaware and Hudson train, in waiting at Johnson's switch. Olyphant was reached half an hour later, and with the early streaks of dawn, the soldiers piled out of the cars and took a look at what would likely be their permanent surroundings for the next couple of months at least.

The site selected for the camp is a level field, about ten minutes walk north of the Delaware and Hudson station, on the westerly side of the railroad, and within one hundred yards of the Grassy Island washery. Thither the boys in blue and buff very marched without much delay and put to work laying out the camp, under the direction of Quartermaster F. M. Vandling. The mess fires and kitchen paraphernalia which are the property of the respective companies was taken along. These were hardly in place before a special train arrived bearing the living tents and other equipment shipped from the state arsenal at Harrisburg. Before nightfall the camp was in apple-pie order.

Company E of Honesdale, arrived at noon over the Delaware and Hudson. Company F of Easton, accompanied by Major B. Rush Field, of the Second battalion, came at 11 o'clock. Company G of Montrose, came in over the Delaware and Hudson at 3:20 p. m., and was switched to the Delaware and Hudson regular train which landed it at the camp at 4:10 o'clock.

GOOD RECORD OF I.
Company I of Easton made an exceptionally good record. It received the call at 1:30 a. m., and at 5:30 was enroute for Olyphant, with all except two men on hand. The two absentees were out of town. They will come on today.

One of the company I men, Private Milton Kostenboder, a clerk in the Glendon Iron company's offices was to have been married last night. He did not have time to see his bride-to-be and was forced to content himself with a letter to her telling her of the circumstances, and bidding her await, him. Another member of the company, Corporal A. L. Raub, is to be married next Wednesday. He has poor hopes, however, of being able to keep his appointment.

The fact that Company G had not yet reported and that many members of the regiment were out of town on vacation or engaged as coal and iron police in distant places, the morning report showed only 392 of the total strength of 630 in the camp.

Division	Present	Total
Field and staff	21	25
Company A	35	55
Company B	26	52
Company C	28	57
Company D	36	59
Company E	39	54
Company F	47	51
Company G	50	54
Company H	39	54
Company I	52	54
Company K	29	34
Company L	38	41
	392	622

Colonel L. A. Watres and Captain D. B. Atherton, of the field and staff, arrived during the afternoon. Inspector of Rifle Practice L. B. Carter, who is out of town, is expected today. Colonel Watres was found by a telegram at the Hotel Walton, Philadelphia, at 4

For two hours, General Gobin, Colonel Watres, Lieutenant Colonel Stillwell and Sheriff Schadt conferred regarding the situation while seated around a small table beneath a tree, at the headquarters position of the camp. At its conclusion, it was announced that the regiment would be kept together at the camp, and detachments sent therefrom as occasion might demand.

General Gobin expressed himself as highly pleased with the quick response made by the Thirteenth. He said he might come here the course of a few days and establish headquarters. He has a complete plan made for directing the troops, but until it has been approved by the governor, he said, he did not wish to make it public. General Gobin and his party returned to Philadelphia at 10 o'clock, using Sheriff Schadt's car on the Delaware and Hudson, as far as Scranton, and then taking his own car on the Jersey Central.

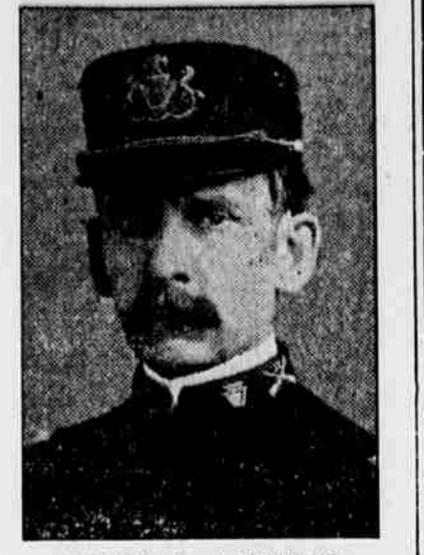

Yesterday morning, Colonel Stillwell sent Captain Kambeck, with three companies, on a march through the Olyphant-Priceburg-Dickson region. They encountered no trouble and the march was practically without incident.

SENT TO PRESERVE ORDER.

In the afternoon, Captain Kambeck and Company B were sent to Priceburg to preserve order at the hearing of Superintendent Burkheiser, of the Ontario and Western company, who was arrested by the Dickson borough authorities for shooting one of the crowd of strikers who attacked him and Jail Warden Miles McAndrew the night before. An immense crowd collected at the hearing, but the presence of the soldiers prevented any disturbance. On account of the crowd and other circumstances, the defendant, by advice of his attorney, J. E. Burr, waived a hearing and proceeded to Scranton to enter bail. He was in charge of a local constable. The soldiers escorted him to a trolley car and he was put aboard, but the conductor refused to carry him because it is against the rules of the company to allow prisoners to ride. Thereupon, under escort of the soldiers, Burkheiser was taken to the Delaware and Hudson train. The crowd hissed him and called "scab" at him, but showed no hostility to the soldiers. Warden McAndrew did not present himself at the hearing, but instead entered bail before Judge Edwards in the sum of $1,000.

While the regiment was at the Delaware and Hudson station, waiting to march to its camp site, a mob that trains, one on the Ontario and Western and the other on the Delaware and Hudson, constantly in readiness at points most convenient to the camp.

SHOT BY UNKNOWN MAN NEAR ARCHBALD

Wajclack Majewsky, a Hungarian, while out looking for a cow that had strayed in the vicinity of the Raymond shaft in Archbald borough, was shot through the body at about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Majewsky stated through his body at a point directly under the shaft he heard the report of a rifle and a ball passed by his head. He dropped to the ground and as he did so there came another report and the ball passed entirely through his body at a point directly under the shaft.

The wounded man managed to reach the Ridge where he was taken to his home. Majewsky states that the man who shot him was alone, and evidently a non-union man as his face and hands were covered with coal dirt, as though he had been working. Dr. Beck stated last evening that the wound would no doubt, prove a fatal one.

It is possible that another regiment or part of a regiment will be sent here to patrol the lower part of the county. General Gobin said he would discuss this question with the governor last night. He would not say that he intended to advise that more troops be called, but to simply lay the situation before the governor and have the latter decide.

The story that the Thirteenth regiment is to be sent to Shenandoah and the Eighth regiment brought on here is without foundation. Such a thing may be among the possibilities, but as yet it is not even contemplated.

Detachments of the Thirteenth were quietly sent out last night in various directions to do patrol duty. Their destinations were not officially disclosed, but it was understood last night that they would be on hand this morning at points where bother has been most frequently occurring of late.

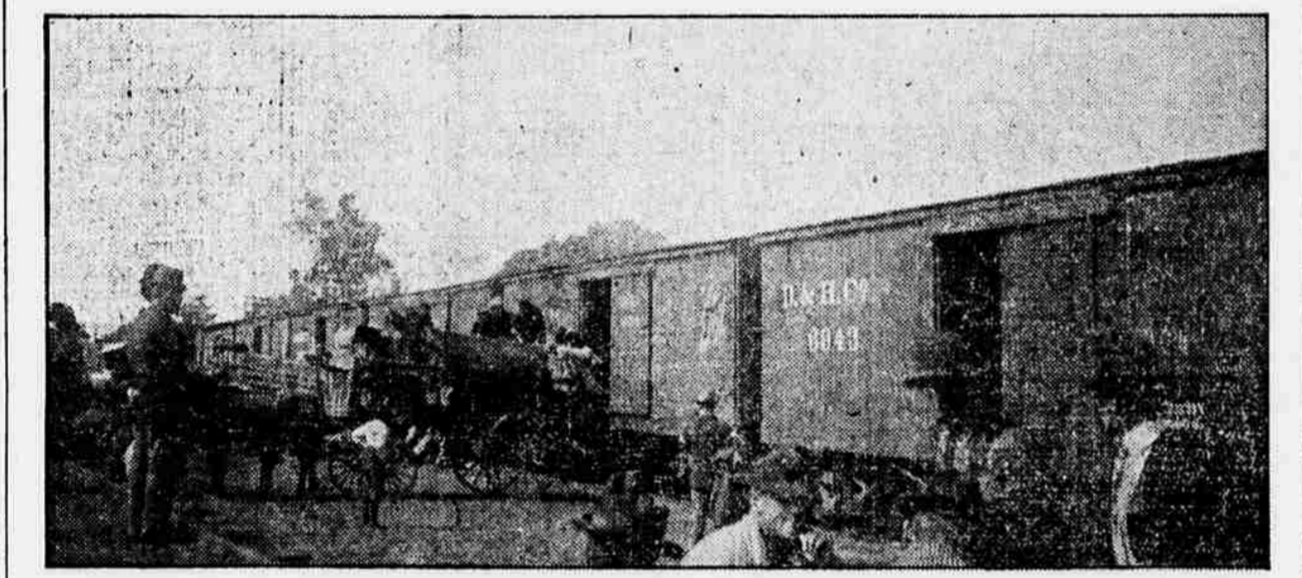

QUIET AT THE RIDGE.

Everything was quiet yesterday at Archbald and the Ridge. The Ontario and Western company regained possession of its property and the men at the washery were gotten back to work. Adam Taylor, the Hungarian shot during the attack on Warden McAndrew and Superintendent Burkheiser was reported yesterday to be in a fair way to recover.

James Phillips, of Wayne avenue, last night caused the arrest of Thomas Jones, Reese Ames and Benjamin Ames, whom he charges with assault and battery. The three men were given a hearing before Alderman Otto D. Myers.

Phillips is employed at the Cayuga mine and he testified at the hearing that on Monday night the three defendants invaded his house and brutally beat both himself and his wife. Alderman Myers committed all three to the county jail in default of $500 bail each.

Frank Corlovitz, who was arrested by the police some few days ago for being implicated in the assault on Nicholas Pierre and John Constants at Troop last week, was given a hear-could have been seen but for the early morning fog, waylaid and seriously wounded two men bound for their day's work at the Lackawanna colliery of the Temple Iron company, on the westerly side of the river, quarter of a mile from the camp.

FELLED WITH CLUBS.

The victims are Bert and Charles Landon, brothers, whose home is in Jefferson township. They were walking along the road leading to the colliery, when a crowd that lined the roadway opened fire on them. Both were felled by bullets, and when Dr. F. L. Van Sickle was called to attend them, he found their condition to be of such a serious nature that he ordered them hurried to the Lackawanna hospital.

The injuries received by the Landon brothers were reported to and not serious, at the Lackawanna hospital last night. Bert received a scalp wound from a bullet, which struck his head and glanced off. Charles got a bullet with a share of the orders for one day, the extent to which the regimental commissary was authorized to go.

GENERAL GOBIN AND COL. WATRES ARRIVE

Brigadier General J. P. S. Gobin arrived at the camp at 2 o'clock. He was accompanied by Major Clark, the brigade inspector of rifle practice; Major Halberstadt, brigade surgeon; Sergeant Drake, ordnance sergeant; Captain Drake, aide-de-camp and acting brigade commissary, and Private Malley, of Company D, Twelfth regiment, orderly to General Gobin.

The party left Shenandoah at 7:50 a. m., in a private car on the Jersey Central, arriving in Scranton at noon. After dinner at the Jernyn, they proceeded on the 1:26 Delaware and Hudson train to the camp. At the station they were joined by Colonel Watres, just arrived from Philadelphia, at 4 ing before Magistrate Fidler last night. The two men failed to identify Corlovitz last night, and he was discharged.

As District Superintendent Davies, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, was driving along Wayne avenue last night, two young boys, who were standing in the street, deliberately spit in his face. He jumped out of the carriage and tried to capture them, but was unsuccessful. He drove to their homes and notified their parents, however. Later information is to the effect that a vigorous application of father's slipper was made in each instance.

The bureau of police was yesterday equipped with twenty of the new Winchester riot guns to be used in case of an emergency. These guns are made after a new model and are intended especially for quelling riots.

The gun shoots shells containing nine large size shot. Six of these shells can be fired from the gun in one-half
