Miss Edith Davis, of Factoryville, has returned home after a brief visit with friends from West Market street.

Miss Jessie Callender and Miss Mabel Fordham have gone to resume their studies at Abbot academy, Andover, Mass.

J. Albertson Lord, of Washington, D. C., nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Matthews, is visiting at the latter's residence, 629 Quincey avenue.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Kathryn Dorrance Laverty to William Vall Johnson, of Newark, N. J., in the First Presbyterian church on October 11.

GENERAL PARADE ABANDONED.

C. T. A. U. Could Not Get Satisfactory Rates.

The parade of the Catholic Total Abstinence societies comprised in the Scranton Diocesan union, which was to have been held in West Scranton on October 10, has been officially declared off by the board of government because it has been found impossible to secure what the board considers a "reasonable" rate of fare from the railroad companies.

The Delaware and Hudson company agreed to sell tickets at half fare from all points within a radius of fifty miles of this city except where such a reduction would make the price of a ticket fall below twenty-five cents. No commission whatever on the sale of tickets would be allowed.

They Pay the User.

THE NEEDS OF THE Y.W.C.A.

THEY ARE PEOPLE AND MONEY SAYS MISS WOOD.

She Outlined the Work Being Accomplished by the Association at an Open Meeting Held in the Elm Park Church Yesterday Afternoon. The Need of More Workers with a Determination to Do Individual Work Especially Dwelt Upon—The Girls on the Street.

At a public meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Elm Park Methodist church the great and urgent need for more active workers and more money for the Young Women's Christian Association were forcibly presented by Miss Bertha M. Wood, the general secretary.

Despite the unpleasant weather which prevailed a fairly large-sized gathering was present. The principal address was to have been made by Mrs. Margaret E. Sangster but illness prevented her from coming to this city. Mrs. E. H. Ripple, the president, was also ill. In her place, Rev. Dr. Robert F. Y. Pierce, pastor of the Penn avenue Baptist church acted as presiding officer.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. C. M. Griffin and after a selection by the church quartette, Dr. Pierce introduced Miss Wood, pointing at the same time a high compliment to woman's power and influence for good throughout all the ages.

"You women," said he, "are moulding lives not only for time but for eternity and you will never know until you come before the judgment seat of God the extent of your influence."

Miss Wood in beginning said that the work of the Young Women's Christian association is an expression of the principle of "Love Thy Neighbor," which Christ expressed white upon earth. The association aims, she said, to recover not only a woman's soul but her body as well.

NO WORK MORE NOBLE.

"As association workers," she continued, "you must realize that there is no work more noble, more Christ-like or more dignified than assisting in the formation of the character of young women. I have no desire to lessen the need of reformatory institutions for young women but I see no reason why we should wait until they are sinned, until they have lost the which they can never regain before seeking to save them."

She outlined at some length the work being accomplished by the local association and its branches in both a material and a spiritual way. The need of a boarding home where strange young women coming to the city might spend the making of permanent arrangements on their part was commented upon. The closing of the West Scranton branch because of a lack of funds was commented upon and the hope expressed that it might again be opened this coming winter.

The present debt of the association, about $1,000, Miss Wood said, looked very large in the eyes of the board of managers but there would be no need for its existence if the Christian people of this city rallied to the support of the work as they should.

"People who go down on Lackawanna avenue on Saturday night," she said, "and see the thousands of young girls walking up and down are inclined to think that the association isn't accomplishing much. I think we are accomplishing more than any reasonable person could expect us to."

WHY ON THE STREET.

"Did you ever stop to consider that the reason these girls are on the street is because there isn't much in their home-life to attract them. I wish that some of us who have beautiful homes of our own would open them once in a while for the use of these young women. I wish I could get a number of women to volunteer to open their homes once or twice a year to these young women and assist in entertaining them. I'm sure that the feeling that one had done something to brighten their lives and to help them to something better would more than repay for any trouble which might be caused."

"The work of the association in this city would be stronger and more efficient and more young women would be saved if we had more workers, if there were more women doing individual work. I think that the best thing in this work is to seek out an individual young woman and bring her to see the light and to have her own's time and energies to save the masses. That was Christ's way. He hunted up individuals."

"We have hardly commenced in this city the great field known as extension work of which there are so many thousands here. There seems to be hopeful signs that this work will broaden and grow here but it hasn't been fairly commenced yet."

NOON HOUR SERVICE STOPPED.

Miss Wood told of an attempt which was made in the South Scranton silk mills to have a service at the noon hour for girls and how the management had stopped it. There is a tremendous field for active work among these girls, she said, many of whom work for eleven hours with but a half hour for lunch. Of a party of twenty-seven taken to Lakeland last summer only two had ever visited the place. Another tasted ice-water for the first time in the South Side association rooms.

"It takes two things," she concluded, "to increase the usefulness of the Y. W. C. A. in this city—people and money. There are plenty of both in this city. I leave the case in your hands."

SCRANTON DEFEATS PITTSTON BROTHERS

Best Game of the Season at Athletic Park on Saturday Won by a Score of 2-1.

The Scranton semi-professionals won their best game of the season at Athletic park yesterday by defeating the strong Pittston Brothers' team, in one of the cleanest and sharpest contests ever witnessed on a local diamond. The thousand or more spectators were kept busy applauding clever plays and fast fielding, and there was no let up until the winning run was scored in the last half of the ninth inning, with one man out. Then followed a succession of hits which set the fans going, and the ending was exceedingly pleasing to all—except the Pittston boys' supporters, who bet heavily and lost on their favorites.

The Brothers' only run was scored in the fourth inning when Ed Schmalz hit safely, stole second, and scored on Wirth's passed ball, and scored on an out at first. The features on the Pittston side were catches of foul flies by Toy and Ernest Schmalz. Their pitcher weakened in the ninth, and allowed four hits in succession. Their all-around playing, however, was the best seen here this season by visitors, their two errors being on hard chances.

Gallagher and Griffin were easily the stars of the home team. The former made three hits, accrued eight chances, and assisted on two double plays. The latter allowed but three hits, struck out five men, had four assists, and made one of the hits that helped win the game. The only error was made by Owens on a throw from Griffin. Wirth, an excellent one. Manager Wirth also played a good game, but his passed ball was really responsible for Pittston's only run. However, he deserves much credit for the excellent games provided so late in the season, and should be encouraged in his endeavor to provide clean base ball for this city.

The correct detailed score of the game is as follows:

WILKES-BARRE IS DEAD.

Secretary Seamans Says Business Is at a Standstill.

"If you want to see a thoroughly dead town," said Secretary Seamans of the board of trade on Saturday, "you want to take a run down to Wilkes-Barre. Our business here has fallen off somewhat because of the strike but the condition here is not to be compared with the existing conditions in Wilkes-Barre. Business men are despondent at the situation and seem certain that it will take months for the town to recover after the strike is over."

"This city is not dependent upon the coal industry to as great an extent as Wilkes-Barre is and for that reason we have not been so much affected by the suspension of work. We have other industries here, thanks to the foresight of the board of trade, and our business interests are therefore safe."

Secretary Seamans had just returned from an interview in another part of the state with the gentleman who is desirous of establishing an industry employing about 100 hands and who favorably considers the advantages of this work to look over the town.

Mr. Seamans believes in the advantages of securing a number of small industries which will have an opportunity for growth rather than one large industry with growth already attained.

"I would rather have ten industries employing 100 men each established here," said he, "than one industry employing 1,000 men. The smaller industries, if successful, will gradually employ more hands as the demand increases and the final result will be much better for the city."

SCRANTON PRINTERS BEAT WILKES-BARRE

Won the Deciding Game in the Series Which Was Played at Pittston. Tri-City Social Club Organized.

The third and deciding game of base ball in the series between Scranton and Wilkes-Barre printers was played at Riverside park, Pittston, Saturday afternoon, and resulted in a victory for the Scranton boys by a score of 9-8. The contest was replete with brilliant plays and afforded much amusement for the spectators. The score was as follows:

After the game the visitors headed by a drum corps, paraded to Caledonian hall, where a banquet was enjoyed, after which the Tri-City Typographical Social club was permanently organized with the following officers: President, J. C. Keffer, of Wilkes-Barre; vice-president, Andrew Downing, of Scranton; secretary-treasurer, John J. Collins, of Scranton.

The club will include in its membership the printers of Wilkes-Barre, Pittston and Scranton, and members of the various allied crafts. Meetings will be held three times yearly in the different cities, and sociability will be the feature with base ball and banquets as supplementary features. The next meeting will be held in this city on Benjamin Franklin's birthday, January 17, 1903.

SCOTT WAS ACCQUITTED.

Case of Importance to Coal and Iron Police.

William H. Scott, a coal and iron policeman commissioned by the Seneca Coal company, on July 25, while waiting for a street car on Main street in the city of Pittston, near the colliery, was set upon by a gang, who overpowered him, assaulted him, took his revolver from him, and then dragged him before a justice of the peace, where he was charged with carrying concealed weapons and committed to the county prison.

The case was tried before Judge John Lynch and a jury last week, and a verdict rendered Saturday morning acquitting the defendant and placing the costs on the prosecutor, Peter McDonnell. This is a recognition of the right of coal and iron police to carry revolvers.

33. Harry Danvers, Providence, 26

As a result of Saturday's work in The Tribune's Educational Contest there are three ties in the table of leaders this morning. Only one of these is very near the top where Herbert Thompson, of Carbondale, succeeded in tying with Oscar H. Kipp, of Elmhurst, each having 427 points. Early Saturday morning thirteen points were received by Miss Beatrice Harpur, of Thompson, which would have placed her ahead of Homer Kresge, of Hyde Park, but the latter young man scored two points late in the afternoon. This gives each 98 points and Mr. Kresge still holds the position by right of priority. The third tie was made by Fred Kibler, of South Scranton, who scored three points, giving him an equal number with Miss Jane Mathewson, of Factoryville.

With the three ties made on Saturday there are now four in the main table, the other being between Lee Culver, of Springville, and Miss Edna Coleman, of Scranton, each having 40 points.

NO CHANGE IN STANDING.

Although ten contestants scored on Saturday there were no changes in the main table. The full score of the day follows:

THOMPSON LEADS FOR MONTH.

The points scored Saturday made an important change among the leaders for the September prizes. Mr. Thompson now holds first place, having passed on his tally, but he only holds the position by the narrow margin of two points. Another important change was the advancement of Mr. Havenstrite to fourth position, where he is in line for one of the four prizes offered for the best work during the month.

Tomorrow night at 5 o'clock the September contest closes, and all points must be in the hands of the contest editor by that hour. Only points which are in The Tribune office or received at the Scranton postoffice by 5 p. m. will be counted.

Remember that the main contest has four weeks yet to run, closing Saturday evening, October 25. All who wish to enter the contest must do so by Wednesday of this week. No entries will be received after that date.

VERY ANNOYING.

This Hardly Expresses What Scranton People Say of It.

Any itchiness of the skin is annoying. Little danger in itching skin diseases. But they make you miserable. Doan's Ointment is a never failing cures For Piles, Eczema, all itching troubles.

Scranton citizens endorse it. Mr. Frank H. Green, of 425 Tenth street, says: "I suffered from itching hemorrhoids, day in and day out. I used a great many salves during eight or ten years, but I never got any permanent relief from them. If I got warm and sat down the terrible itching began, and I always felt it come on when I undressed and retired. I saw Doan's Ointment advertised, procured a box at Matthews Bros. drug store and used it according to directions. Two applications convinced me that it was all right, and continuing the treatment I was entirely cured. I have had ease and comfort ever since."
