Rally Day Services at the Washburn Street Presbyterian Church—Harvest Home Festivals and Other Notes.

Rally Day was fittingly observed at the Washburn Street Presbyterian church yesterday with Bible school exercises at noon, and an address at the evening service by Rev. James A. Worden, D. D., LL. D., superintendent of mission work of the Presbyterian church.

The edifice was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and harvest huskings, and the interior presented an inviting appearance, such as can only be provided at harvest time. The programme of rally day service, as prepared by the Board of Publication, was carried out at noon in its entirety, with orchestral accompaniment, and a stirring address by Rev. W. I. Stearns, a former pastor.

A large assemblage greeted Dr. Worden at the evening service. He briefly referred to the notable work being carried on throughout the states by the Presbyterian board of missions, and said the Lord had prospered the cause beyond what could be reasonable expected.

"The establishment of mission Sabbath schools," he said, "is the hope of our church and country in carrying on God's work among the young." Instead of dwelling at length on the subject of missionary work, Dr. Worden preached a very forceful sermon on the text, "Bring Him Unto Me," from the ninth chapter of Luke, and the forty-first verse. He spoke, in part, as follows:

"The reason that led me to bring this message to you is due to the fact that there is more interest in evangelical work in the church today than there has been in many years. It is finding a ready response in the hearts of pastors and people. It is appropriate and profitable to consider this command of Christ. It is a message for parents first of all.

"It is not only your duty to provide food, clothing and education for your children, but also to lead them to Jesus. If they go out of the Sunday school and church non-Christians they never will become affiliated with God. There must be a conscious, vital oneness with the Son of God.

"But we cannot lead the young to Christ, while we ourselves are leading worldly lives. The mistake made in the home is in not binding ourselves to Christ, and our neglect of prayer, for a worldly parent who neglects family prayer has no influence in leading children to Christ.

"First bring yourselves to Christ, open your hearts to receive the Holy Spirit, and then you can lead others to Christ."

Spirit, and equip yourselves for God's work. Put emphasis on the cross of Christ, and confess your love for Him, and pray God to grant us the spirit of love. It is easier to confess anything else but Christ, but acknowledge Him as your Saviour and Redeemer."

Harvest Home Festival.
St. Mark's Lutheran congregation celebrated their harvest time at their church, on Washburn street, yesterday, both morning and evening. The cosy auditorium was prettily decorated with fruit, vegetables, wheat, corn and potted plants, and presented the appearance of a richly filled storehouse.

The pastor, Rev. A. L. Ramer, delivered an impressive talk from the subject, "Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread," taken from the Lord's prayer and found in Matthew, 6:11. The pastor also gave an interesting Bible reading, which was interspersed with special music by the choir.

At the evening service Dr. Ramer preached from the subject, "The True Vine," John, 15:1. Joseph Phillips sang a tender solo, special music by the choir was also enjoyed. The day was one of general prayer and thanksgiving, and was one that will long be remembered by those present.

Pleasant Social Event.
A most enjoyable surprise party was tendered the Misses Ida Kuhn and Carrie Welsh on Friday evening at the home of Miss Welsh, upon their return from an extended visit in Maryland. The usual games and pleasures were indulged in, and vocal and instrumental music was also enjoyed. At a late hour dainty viands were served by the hostesses.

In attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. E. Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffand, Mr. and Mrs. William Reidenbach, Misses Carrie Welsh, Mamie Welsh, Ida Kuhn, Lillian Smith, Martha Glazier, Messrs. P. Schnell, Archie McDermott, T. J. Young, P. A. Young, Otto Welsh, William Welsh.

Entertained Friends.
Miss Lizzie Stenner, of Eynon street, entertained a party of friends at the parental home on Friday evening. A most enjoyable time was passed with music and games, and at a seasonable hour refreshments were served.

In attendance were: Misses Sadie Stevens, Jennie Davis, Stella Davis, Lillian Lloyd, Bessie Lloyd, Lillian Lloyd, Jean Walters, Emma Watkins, Naomi Stenner, Lizzie Stenner, Annie Thomas, Edith Roberts, and Messrs. Albert Jones, Elias Jones, Joseph Zang, Edward Ford, Frank Conway, William Erhart, M. J. McKeever, George Bennett, William Brusser, Charles Lewis, Harry Harris.

Plan for Reorganization.
A special meeting of the West Side Central Republican club was held Saturday evening.

Thursday evening to discuss the reorganization plan outlined in this department a week ago. A special committee composed of Griffith T. Davis, chairman; Charles R. Acker, Dr. T. Phillips, David E. Jones and Charles E. Daniels were appointed to draft the plan of reorganization.

This special committee will meet tomorrow evening to perfect the plan, and make their report at a special meeting of the club, to be held next Thursday evening.

In Police Court.
Frank McGinty, of the South Side, was a prisoner at the West Side police station Saturday night and Sunday, and for the next ten days will enjoy Sheriff Schuch's hospitality. McGinty was arrested on the charge of being helplessly drunk, late Saturday night. In police court he was fined $3, or ten days in the county jail.

James McDonald, of 311 Irving avenue, a miner, was arrested early Sunday morning for being drunk and carrying concealed weapons. Patrolmen McColligan and Mallot placed him under arrest and he was fined $3, which he paid.

Among the Churches.
On account of the inclement weather yesterday, the church and Sunday school congregations were quite small. At the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church the pastor, Rev. H. C. McDermott, preached a sermon from the subject of "Walking in Love," referring to the relations that exist between the Christian and his fellow-man. In the evening his topic was "Peace Like a River."

Rev. Thomas de Gruchy, D. D., pastor of the Jackson Street Baptist church, preached to a well filled house on Sunday morning from the subject, "Church Triumphant." In the evening a full orchestra, in connection with the choir, rendered the beautiful sacred cantata, "Praise Ye the Father."

"A Request and Its Results" was the theme from which Rev. James Benninger delivered a most interesting sermon at the morning service of the Emory Methodist Episcopal church. "How She Obtained Forgiveness" was the subject of the evening discourse.

Plymouth Church Notes.
Rev. T. A. Humphreys, of Sharon, Pa., has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Plymouth Congregational church and will begin his labors here the second of Sunday in October.

Rev. A. V. Fowler occupied the pulpit yesterday and will preach again next Sunday morning. In the evening the Sherman avenue mission school will hold rally day services in the church, beginning at 7 o'clock.

NORTH SCRANTON.

A good-sized congregation of Sunday school scholars, and members of the Providence Presbyterian church, the pastor, Rev. Dr. George E. Guhl, had charge of the service, "Fly as a Bird," which was rendered very impressively by Miss Ruth McDonald and Wolford Lewis. The address was given by Rev. Dr. James Worden, secretary of the Sunday school and missionary department of the Board of Publication and Sunday School Work. It was an eloquent appeal for individual work in behalf of the children of the home church, neighborhood and of the country. Following the address a generous offering was made for the Sunday school mission work. The congregation was led in singing by the choir of the church. It was a "Rally Day" long to be remembered by those who took part in it.

A surprise party was tendered William Evans, at his home on Hill street, Friday evening. Among those present were: Misses Jennie Leonard, Margaret Thomas, Alma Richards, Mary Richards, Blodwyn Thomas, Sadie Owens, Martha Price, Marilla Moran, Irene Williams, Gertrude Willis, Jennie Hearn, Connie Schlager, Marion Lewis, Blanche Reese, Bessie Evans and Messrs. RETAINING WALL GAVE WAY.

Tons of Rock and Dirt Fell on the D. and H. Tracks.

About thirty-five feet of the retaining wall overlooking the Delaware and Hudson tracks, between the Lackawanna avenue bridge and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad bridge, gave way at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and tons of rock and dirt fell on the north bound track below, a distance of fifteen or twenty feet.

The heavy rains of the past few days, it is claimed, are responsible for the undermining of the wall, which was built on top of a slanting rock foundation. Roadmaster M. J. Nugent soon had a force of men at work with a steam derrick, and by 10 o'clock last night the track was cleared. Meanwhile the trains were run over the south bound track at that point.

A cave-in also occurred on the Delaware and Hudson railroad at 7 o'clock last evening, about a mile south of Lookout junction, which was caused by a settling in the Powderly No. 1 mine. The south bound tracks dropped about 8 inches. Five carloads of ashes were required to fill the gap.

DUNMORE.

Twice during the past forty-eight hours our firemen have responded to alarms from Box 21, at the corner of the primary department, gave an extended report of the work being done there and under her direction. The members of the primary department sang with splendid effect several of their hymns.

Thirteen members were received into the membership of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church at the morning service yesterday, nine by letter and four on profession of faith.

TOOK A BIG DOSE OF CARBOLIC ACID

Member of the "Devil's Daughter" Company Ended Her Life at the Conway House Yesterday

After swallowing a quantity of carbolic acid, Maria Beach, aged 24 years, of Richmond, Va., died in room 28 at the Conway house, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

The woman was a member of the "Devil's Daughter" theatrical company and was registered at the hotel, with a man named McGowan, as "Mr. and Mrs. Mack." They had been traveling with the company for two years as husband and wife.

Saturday evening at supper time the woman entered the parlor of the hotel with two friends, and McGowan became angry at her, and slapped her face. Afterwards they quarreled, but apparently made up again, and entered their room about 1 o'clock.

The quarrel was renewed and the couple retired in anger. In a short time the woman arose and went to a drawer, where a bottle of carbolic acid lay, and with the remark that "it was all up" between them, swallowed the contents of the bottle.

The woman soon lapsed into unconsciousness and remained in a stupor until she died. An effort was made to revive her, but it failed. Dr. Horace J. Gibbons was called, but when he arrived the woman was dead. Coroner Saltry was notified and viewed the remains, deciding it was a clear case of suicide, and deemed an inquest unnecessary.

The body was afterwards removed to Cusick's undertaking establishment, and prepared for burial. The interment will be made in the Cambria cemetery at 10 o'clock this morning.

NOVEL CURE FOR HICCUGHS.

Rogers Discharged His Revolver to Frighten His Companion.

George Rogers and Mary Conwell were strolling along the Linden street bridge at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and the woman complained of a severe attack of hiccoughs.

Her companion drew a revolver from his pocket, and fired a shot, as he explained, to frighten and cure her. Patrolman David J. Davis placed both under arrest. Magistrate Howe was rather skeptical about the novel idea, and fined the woman $3 and the man $5.

OBITUARY.

JOHN N. LILLIBRIDGE, aged 61 years, one of the most prominent citizens of Blakely borough, died at his home on Saturday morning, from appendicitis. Mr. Lillibridge was engaged in the business of stock raising in conjunction with his brother, Jerome. Up to a year ago he acted as president of the Blakely poor board and before that he was the treasurer of the poor district. He is survived by a wife and three children: Dr. Alvin Lillibridge, Levi and Miss Sadie. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from the family residence, where services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Thomas, of the Peckville Baptist church. Interment will be made in the Union cemetery.

MISS MINNIE BAUER, sister of Bandmaster Robert Bauer, died Saturday morning at the family home, 12 North Bromley avenue. She has been a patient sufferer for many months but her death came as a sad shock to many friends. Deceased was 29 years old and is survived by her mother, Mrs. Louisa Bauer, and brother, Robert Bauer. No arrangements have been made as yet for the funeral.

MRS. MARY STANTON, widow of the late Martin Stanton, of East Drinker street, died Saturday morning at 7:4 o'clock. She is survived by two sons and three daughters. Thomas Stanton, Patrick Stanton, Mrs. John Higgins, Mrs. Martin Island, of Dunmore, and Mrs. Martin Corry, of Binghamton.

The Globe Warehouse Dress Goods Department

Has no rival in this state, outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburg. No other store carries such a large stock, or can show such a complete assortment. Not a handful or an odd piece or two of new weaves and novelties, but all the good things the home and foreign looms have to offer for the season, and always at prices a little less than at other stores, where the assortment will not compare with ours.

This Week the Display Of the Latest Dress Fabrics

Will form the chief attraction at the store. It's a big event, and in order to realize its importance you must come to the store and see the special exhibition which has been postponed for your benefit and instruction. You need not think of buying, however, as that is purely optional on your part. All we ask is that you look carefully over the stock.

Among the Leading Weaves This Season We Suggest

Corded Armure Suitings—A distinct novelty and especially desirable because of its peculiar tucked effect. All shades and black.

Basket Weave Suitings—Have hit the popular fancy quite strongly. Being soft in texture, with a delicate finish, the light and shade effects are remarkable. Besides, they adapt themselves better than most other weaves to the prevailing styles in skirts and gowns.

Camel's Hair Vicinas—Lovely soft mixtures of exquisite texture. These are the genuine T will Back Vicinas, and no matter how long or how hard they are worn, they will retain their lustre.

Heavy Prunella Suits—With the new mirror finish. As high-class weave for fine gowns, these must take first rank. Nothing can surpass them for quiet elegance and here they may be seen in all colors and black.

All the Standard Cloths and Suitings will also be shown this week.

Lovely Waistings on View

In a profusion of weaves, colors and patterns that is simply bewildering. By far the best display of its kind ever seen in Scranton.

Persian Walst Cloths—An Armure weave with silk and satin stripes, in charming, Persian effects. Another style is shown with ribbon stripes on an armure ground. All colors and color combinations.

Leno Satin Stripe Walst Cloths—Veay dressy and so soft that they can be worn to great advantage indoors. Also for Dressing Scaques for dressy women.

Other styles include—Corded Stripes, Tucked Effects, Lace Stripes, Satin Stripes, Tulle, Granites, Parisiennes, Crepe Egypte, Bedford Corde, etc. All the shades that are worn, and, as usual, for a little less money than is asked elsewhere.
