

GREAT THROG AT EXPOSITION

TWENTY THOUSAND PERSONS WERE ON GROUNDS.

Miss Stone, the Missionary, Delivered an Address to a Large Audience—Told of Her Adventures While in the Hands of the Bulgarian Brigands—There Were Two Balloon Ascensions in the Afternoon and Three Interesting Race Events—Summary of the Races.

From a Staff Correspondent. Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Twenty thousand persons were inside the grounds of the Binghamton Industrial exposition this afternoon when Miss Helen M. Stone, the famous missionary, began her address.

Miss Stone accompanied by Major Pond, drove into the park at 2.30 o'clock. The demonstration that greeted her was of an entirely different character from the pomp and ceremony that attended Admiral Schley yesterday, but it was none the less sincere.

The plucky missionary found the tiers of seats in front of the speaker's balcony occupied chiefly by clergymen and church workers. In a distinct, well modulated voice she talked to them an hour, some of whom asked her to talk to them. She good-naturedly replied to the calls and assured them she should speak loud enough for all to hear.

While she was addressing her auditors the races were going merrily on below her and her speech was sharply punctuated by the starter's cries and the clanging of the recall bell. After her speech she was kept busy writing autographs and shaking hands.

There were two balloon ascensions during the afternoon, proving most effectively that the rumors of disaster to the balloonist were without foundation.

The three races of the afternoon were all good ones and in nearly every heat the finishes were sensational. One of the races was left unfinished on account of darkness, after four heats. The races resulted as follows:

FIRST RACE.

2.21 class, trot and pace, purse, $500. Minola, b. m., R. L. Smith, 1 1 1. Maudie, b. m., Jacob Teeters, 1 1 1. George Clemons, Jr., g. c., A. Peckham, Goshen, N. Y., 3 7 2.

SECOND RACE. 2.27 class, trot and pace, purse, $300.—This race was unfinished, owing to darkness. Jeffrey Wilkes, who won the 2.30 class race yesterday, rode the first of H. O. A., was taken from the sulky as it appeared to the judges that there was grave danger of his either dislodging his arms or pulling the horse's head off.

The new driver was cautioned by the old one not to touch H. O. A. with the whip or he would be liable to run away. All advice was unheeded and the horse was allowed to let out his pent up energy and he captured the heat without any apparent effort.

In the fourth heat H. O. A. led the string and was the heat by ten yards of the wire and his driver pulled up to save a fast mark when Casco came under heavy punishment and nipped at the wire, getting the heat by the nose. The judges were divided as to who won so close was the finish, but eventually they gave it to the Catskill stallion and decided to finish the race tomorrow.

Summary: Jeffrey Wilkes, b. g., A. J. Cornell, 1 1 4 4. H. O. A., b. g., W. Shattuck, 2 2 1 2. Casco, b. g., J. A. Deane, 3 3 2 1. Ford, N. Y., b. g., R. O. A., 4 4 2 2. Alice, g. m., O. D. Westcott, 5 5 5 5. John Keefe, 6 6 5 5. Mrs. Ford, m. A. R. Ford, 6 6 5 5. De Ruyter, N. Y. (Pierce), 6 6 5 5. Jessamine, br. m., M. E. Horton, 8 8 15. Time, 2:24, 2:24, 2:24, 2:24.

THIRD RACE.

Maudie, br. m., J. A. Deane, 1 1 1. Owego, b. g., Ed Shealy, 2 2 2 2. Upton Girl, blk. m., E. C. Downs, 3 3 2 2. Nimrod, b. g., F. D. Wilcox, 4 4 2 2. Depost, N. Y. (Pierce), 5 5 2 2. Gilbert H., b. g., G. H. Holmes, 6 6 5 5. Anachron, blk. m., J. A. Deane, 8 8 15. Time, 2:19, 2:19, 2:19, 2:19.

Special race against time: 2.30. The fair proper came to a close last evening. The directors are elated at the success of this year's undertaking and are already talking and beginning to plan for next year. It is their intention to make the Binghamton fair the largest of its kind in this section of the country.

Among the spectators today were about 300 inmates of the Binghamton state insane asylum and a large number of attendants, who were the guests of the managers. They apparently took as much delight in the multitudinous attractions as their unafflicted brothers and sisters.

MOSCOW.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Beemer, of Scranton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hornbaker part of this week.

Dr. S. W. Lamoreaux will leave today with his family for Stroudsburg, where he will take up the practice of medicine.

A number of people from this place attended the Grange fair, held at Madisonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rozelle have moved in the H. L. Gaige house, on church street.

Ask a healthy woman what she would sell her health for and she would tell you that the choicest diamonds in the world could not buy it. What use for diamond rings to emphasize the shrunken fingers, or earrings to light up the cheeks hollowed by disease?

Health is the first requisite to womanly happiness. General ill-health in women has its origin in local womanly diseases. Cure the diseases of the delicate womanly organism and the general health is perfectly restored. The remarkable benefits experienced from the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription are due to this medicine's perfect cures of womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures every weakness.

THEATRICAL.

"Arizona."

"Arizona," that interesting drama of an arid region, was presented at the Lyceum last night by an excellent company which gave a spirited presentation of the play.

The various parts have been in as good hands as when seen here before. The staging of the play is pleasing and picturesque.

Close of the Engagement.

The Irene Myers Stock company will close a successful week's engagement at the Academy tonight with the presentation of "My Lady Nell." This afternoon will appear in "The Power of Wealth."

"Under Southern Skies."

The interest manifested in this vicinity in the coming of "Under Southern Skies" to the Lyceum this afternoon and evening must be very gratifying to Manager William A. Brady, whose faith in his new play has been heartily endorsed in New York. Newspaper reports of the play's appearance on Nov. 12 at the Republic are most encouraging to those persons who anticipate a treat in seeing it here.

Norman Hargood, writing in the Commercial Advertiser, said: "This combination is interesting, lively and amusing." The hearty reception given the play in the metropolis was the more remarkable.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE. While the majority of folk—more the pity—are deterred from the pleasure of plucking their fruit fresh from their own "well-wooded farm land," the fruit vendors and counter grocers are doing the best they can to supply the deficiency, and are doing it very well. The good fruit goddess has been specially beautiful this year, and Italian Joe, Greek Dimitri, Chinese Wong, white jacketed and aproned German Fritz, or plain buckskin John Smith are ready and glad to fill your order for any amount of the luscious, well-ripened fruit. Although the great fruit canisters are turning out better and better, and the goods each year, home-made preserves, pickles, chilies and catsups are always preferable. Nearly every housekeeper has some special recipe for sweets or relishes for which she is locally famous and quite properly proud. And here are some which having often been tested and heartily approved, I have begged for your benefit. SARAH'S CUCUMBER PICKLES. For 20 medium sized cucumbers allow one coffee cup full of salt. Rinse the cucumbers in cold water, taking care not to bruise the skins. Pack in a firkin or jar with the salt between the layers of cucumber. Cover with boiling water and let them stand twenty-four hours. Pour off the water and wipe dry on a soft towel. Put into one preserving kettle a scant gallon of cider vinegar, a full coffee cup of sugar, two small red peppers chopped fine, but only using two or three seeds, one teaspoonful of alum and three tablespoonfuls of white mustard seed. Bring to a boil and cover the pickles, which may be kept in glass cans or a stone jar. The use of a little sugar even with sour pickles is to be commended, as it gives the pickles a mellow taste and preserves the vinegar. SALAD PICKLE. This is especially good to serve with fish and oysters. Select twelve medium sized cucumbers, pare and slice thin. Also three medium sized onions, peeled and sliced in rings. Mix in layers, sprinkling with one-half cupful of salt. Let them stand two or three hours, then drain until thoroughly dry. Cover with a dressing made by shaking together in a bottle, a large cup of olive oil and three-fourths of a pint of cider vinegar, one-half cupful white and black mustard seed mixed and one tablespoonful celery seed. This excellent pickle is ready for immediate use, but improves with standing. "OLD TOMATO PICKLE." Pour boiling water over a half peck of ripe tomatoes, using a colander, so that they need not stand in the hot water long enough to cook at all, spin, chop rather fine and drain for two hours. Add one quart of vinegar and let the tomatoes stand in the vinegar while the rest of the pickle is prepared. Mix together one cupful fine minced onion, one cupful of sugar, one cupful white mustard seed, two tablespoonfuls black pepper or two tablespoonfuls cayenne, one tablespoonful of cloves, one tablespoonful of mace, two or three heads of chopped celery, one small red pepper chopped, one cupful grated horse-radish, one-half cupful salt and one cupful nasturtium seed. Now combine the tomato and vinegar with the rest of the pickle, mix thoroughly and bottle without cooking. SAN DIEGO CHILI SAUCE. To one gallon ripe tomatoes, peeled and sliced, allow three large onions and two green peppers chopped fine, three-fourths of a cup of good vinegar, one-half cupful of sugar, or less if preferred, three tablespoonfuls of salt and three teaspoonfuls each of
