

The News of Carbondale.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE.

Some few months back, when the news came from Sunbury that the Knights of Pythias had voted Carbondale as the choice for next year's state convention, the Pythians at home, and other citizens who took an interest in the project, exclaimed as of one mind, "That's what Harry Masters said he would do."

This incident is cited as an example of how Common Councilman W. H. Masters, chairman of that body, works to achieve a purpose when he sets out. The fight was conducted under circumstances, discouraging to most men, "that's what Harry Masters said he would do."

W. H. MASTERS, Chairman of Common Council and a prominent Knight of Pythias.

But "Harry," as Mr. Masters' intimate friends call him, is made of sterner stuff, and pitching in he won out for Carbondale by a vote of about 6 to 1 against the hottest competitor, the city of Reading, who's workers had a fortified check of several thousand dollars from the city's board of trade to help him in the fight. Mr. Masters had no big checks, but he got the convention for his home, and next August Carbondale will have the biggest convention in the history of the Pythians gathering, in its fifty years as a city.

The stick-to-itiveness that Mr. Masters showed on this occasion is characteristic of him in all his relations. A fighter from way back when he believes he is right, he hammers away fearlessly and tirelessly until he wins. This is what he does in council, where his constituents' needs are being particularly cared for, and if there's any doubt of this ask a taxpayer of the Fifth ward who takes the interest in doings of the council there. He has accepted a position there and will remain.

Mr. Masters has been in Carbondale scarcely more than a dozen years, he has hewed out a place for himself that puts him among the most conspicuous in the eye and the favor of the public. Recognized this year as the Republican leader in common council, he was elected chairman without even a suggestion of opposition. The same enviable standing that he has in this body is true of the other organizations in which he is a forceful influence. In Carbondale lodge of the Knights of Pythias he has been secretary for eleven terms, and can retain the office, it is safe to say, so long as it is his pleasure. This, however, is the lesser of the honors he enjoys among Pythians. At the last state convention in South Main street, which was grand chamberlain, which he is filling with characteristic fidelity and grace. His acquaintance in the circle of Knights of Pythias winds its way round the big Keystone state.

Mr. Masters' social side is the pleasantest and where his personality shows itself, there you will find Harry's friends.

AMONG THE SICK.

Condition of Several Typhoid Fever Patients.

Common Councilman Robert S. Whitfield and Mrs. Whitfield are worried over the severe sickness of their only child, Marilla, aged 7 years. The little one is suffering from typhoid fever, and yesterday her condition was dangerous. Her temperature has reached as high as 104 degrees. Trained Nurse Miss Jenkins is caring for the patient.

The Misses Catherine and Bridget Kennedy, of South Main street, who were taken with typhoid fever, just as the family was ready to depart for Scranton to take up their residence there, are making favorable progress. There are hopeful and encouraging indications each day, and their complete recovery is looked for.

Miss Anna Swann, of Washington street, continues to grow weaker, and there is little hope of her recovery. Walter, son of Dr. W. W. Fletcher, who was dangerously ill of bronchitis, is improving most encouragingly, and his recovery seems assured. This will be good tidings to the friends of the family and the interesting child.

Firemen Were Some "Shucks."

W. H. Kennedy's firemen met and defeated B. F. Stoutmaier's shop hands in a game of base ball Saturday afternoon at Alumni park, by a score of 10 to 5. There was sport galore during the game.

Holy Name Reception.

The semi-annual reception of the Holy Name society of St. Rose church was held last evening. About a half-hour previous to the time appointed for the reception, the society assembled in the basement of St. Rose hall and marched to the church in a body. Several appropriate hymns were sung by the members of the society, after which Rev. Father O'Donnell, of Olyphant, preached an eloquent sermon. This society is one of the fruits of the recent mission, and under the direction of the

WELCOME GYPSIES HUSTLE OUT OF CITY ON THE SABBATH.

To our dearly beloved brethren in Archbold we give notice that the motley band of gypsies which came this way, after a profitable stay in Honesdale—dear old Honesdale—made a flying trip through Carbondale yesterday in the direction of the borough of Pooleville. Some one said the cross your hand - with - a - quarter artists learned of the money that Archboldians came into possession of in that great ball game of recent fame, in which the Brothers Pittston were some coaches, and they are bent on raking off some of the pile. Maybe this is why the gypsies hustled through Carbondale yesterday with smiling faces that reflected pleasant anticipations.

It was a curious procession, the half-dozen wagons of these "gypsies" that came down Salem avenue and onto Main street about 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon. The band came from Cape Horn, near No. 4, which was chosen as a camp on Thursday, after climbing the Moosic from Honesdale, the dear old place. The move was made at the request of the officers of the law. And it was a lively move, for these same picturesque gypsies acquired a most wholesome respect and fear of the law in Carbondale, which will stand them in good stead when they may be in—well, say Archbold. From the time Cannon street was reached until the city line at the southern end of town was reached, the horses were kept on the run. Their business air indicated that they appreciated that there would be something doing if they parlayed here.

The first of the procession was a covered wagon, decorated thus: "People's Grocery." The next read, "Neopolitan Ice Cream Blocks," then "Medicated Cough Drops," "Joanna Longo, Fruiterer," and the last the most appropriate of all: "Market Wagon; All Kinds of Green Goods." The whole outfit looked as if it might have been purchased at a sale of unclaimed express packages. From the rear of the wagons peered the grimy and ill-visaged countenances of the gypsy folk. They were gone, with the hope that they will forget the way back.

IN NEW YORK CITY.

M. J. Horan, Well-Known Carbon-dalian, Well Located—His Successor.

M. J. Horan, of the West Side, one of the best-known young men of the town, who went to New York city a few weeks ago, has accepted a position there and will remain. Mr. Horan is well located. He is window dresser for Saranoff, the latter, at Broadway and Twenty-ninth street, men who are much sought for in New York city. He has ability in this line, which was amply demonstrated and approved by Carbon-dalians during his long employment in Singer's park clothing house. Mr. Horan's departure from this city will be keenly regretted among the numerous friends, who regard him highly. He was president of the Clerk's union and active in the Father Mathew society and the Columbia Hose company.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S FIRE.

Burning Outhouse Near No. 1 Calls Out Columbus.

An outhouse located beyond No. 1 breaker of the Delaware and Hudson caught fire about 10:30 Saturday night. Someone, fearing a disastrous blaze, turned in an alarm from Box 58. The Columbus responded, but when the box was reached, after a long run, no one was in sight and there was no sign of fire. This gave rise to the belief that the alarm was false. The shed, however, was probably destroyed before the company reached the box. The box is located fully a half-mile beyond the city line, and even a dwelling might be destroyed, and one has been burned to the ground, before a fire company could cover the distance and lay a line of hose. In this connection it might be mentioned that there is wretched fire protection in this vicinity, one hydrant shall serve for an entire district. It is woefully inadequate.

WEEK OF THE DRAMA.

Katherine Rober to Open at the Grand Tonight.

The Katherine Rober company will give a week of opera to Carbon-dalians this week, and a good week if the organization reports here the satisfactory work it has been doing on the road since the season opened. Press notices galore, all highly complimentary, precede the company. Coupled with this is the repertoire that the company announces. Such ambitious productions as "Madame Sans Gene" and "The Girl of the Year" are among the attractions to be offered this week. Any company that attempts to essay such plays and is so successful as the Katherine Rober company, that company must be a capable one.

OF INTEREST TO HUNTERS.

No question in game protection is more important than that of the seasons during which birds and animals shall be protected, yet there is none in which state laws show a greater diversity or are more subject to change. In Pennsylvania the open season for game is as follows:

Deer, elk, Nov. 1 to Dec. 1. Squirrels, black, gray or fox, Oct. 15 to Dec. 15. Hare, rabbit, Nov. 1 to Dec. 15. Quail, partridges, grouse, imported pheasants, wild turkey, Oct. 15 to Dec. 15. Woodcock, Oct. 15 to Dec. 15. Upland or grass plover, July 15 to Jan. 1. Rail, reedbird, Sept. 1 to Dec. 1. Webfooted wild fowls, ducks, etc., Sept. 1 to May 1. But two deer can be killed in one season by one person, and then only during the month of November. Penalty, $100. Deer must not be killed or captured in the waters of the state, and the running of deer with dogs is prohibited. Penalty, $100.

It is unlawful for any person to kill in any one day more than ten pheasants, or more than fifteen quail or more than ten woodcock, or more than two wild turkeys. Penalty, $50. Pheasants, wild turkey, quail and woodcock can be killed from Oct. 15th to the 15th of December, inclusive. Penalty, $20 for each bird, except that woodcock can be killed during the month of July. All manner of trapping of game is prohibited, except that quail can be trapped from Jan. 1 to Feb. 15 for the purpose of keeping them alive during the winter, and all quail so taken must be released in the same neighborhood as soon as the weather will permit in the spring.

Prosecutions can be brought by any person. One-half of penalties go to the informer. All prosecutions must be brought within one year from the time of the offense. The purchase or sale of pheasants, quail, woodcock, wild turkey, and wild ducks is prohibited. Penalty, $25. All other game of the state can be sold within the state, except wild pigeons.

A non-resident gunner, except he own real estate here, must pay a license of $10 to hunt in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Yeisley writes: "My kidneys and liver were in bad condition and I was suffering for relief. I had tried many remedies without success. SEPTEMBER WILD FLOWERS. From Country Life in America. Ragged and frayed in September's dress, but withal, there is a beauty peculiarly its own. So would we fain be ever a-field. The botanist strolling over the hills and through the swamps realizes that this is practically the end of the flower year. As in the previous month, the flowers are very largely composite. The goldenrods, the asters, and the sunflowers lend vivid patches of color to the prospect. There are comparatively few new flowers to be sought for.
