HONESDALE.

Special to the Scranton Tribune,

Honesdale, Oct. 6.—In the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. H. Swift, Rev. J. J. Runion, conducted the services in the Presbyterian church on Sunday. Favorable weather this week will bring a large crowd to the Wayne county fair. The numerous attractions, the high class of trotting and running races, the farm wagon parade, Guideless Wonder, etc., should be seen by

The company presenting "A Sister's Love," gave a very creditable enter-tainment at the Opera house, Saturday evening. The famous shooting stars, May Clinton and Pauline Cook, captivated the audience by their clever target work.

The Main street temporary wood bridge over the Lackawaxen river has been rebuilt and is now in readiness for travel to the fair. Many of the Wayne county farmers have turned their attention to the stove wood business and from present indications will do a thriving business.

Manager Silverstone has secured for his fair week attraction, "Field's Juvenile Minstrels," who will appear at the Opera house, Wednesday evening, Oct. A company of twelve juveniles in a street parade and on the minstrel platform, will be a novel attraction that will be well received in Honesdale.

A largely attended dance was enjoyed in the Opera house. Friday evening, by the members and friends of the 'Five Minutes to Eleven Club." The wet weather during the past season has seriously injured the grain crop of many farmers in this vicinity. In the early season it was the corn that suffered. Very many fields were not harvested, being left as worthless The frequent recent rain storms have destroyed much of the buckwheat, which could not be threshed and had grown and become rotten. The acreage was large, but the pan-cake supply will be cut short in Wayne county at

Dr. W. T. Butler has returned from a week's vacation, spent in Philadelphia During his absence his dental parlors have been repainted.

Honesdale is nearly prepared for the free delivery mail service. Several are having the private lock mail boxes placed on their residence.

"I was a sufferer from chronic diarrhea for five years," writes Mrs. Mary A Aaron, of Rolla, Phelps Co., Mo., "I tried different remedies, which would give me relief for a short time only. My trouble would return as bad as ever, I consulted you in July, 1900, and by your advice commenced using Dr. Pierce's remedies. I took two bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three vials of the 'Pellets,' and some of the 'Extract of Smart Weed,' as you advised. I have not had any return of my trouble since using your medicines. Am now seventy-one years old and I never had anything to relieve me so quick. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the greatest on earth. Should I ever have any return of my trouble shall use your medicine. My thanks to you for your advice and thanks to Amighty God for restoring me to health through your hands."

WIMMERS.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Wimmers, Oct. 6 .- Mr. Sullivary of the firm of Maloney & Sullivan, whole-sale dealers of fruit and produce, of Tenth avenue, New York city, has loaded several cars of apples at Lake Ariel, and is going to load several cars more at Wimmers and ship them to New York city. As this is the second time Mr. Sullivan sent apples from Wimmers' station, the people who are acquainted with him, give him a very hearty welcome.

Ministers of the Evangelical church at Wimmers held their quarterly conference Saturday.

Rev. Egge finished all of his harvest nome sermons in all of his different charges. He was presented with a large pumpkin by Mr. Abel Enslin which weighed forty-one pounds. Mrs. Robert Perry, of Dunmore, wife of the noted singer, was a guest of Mrs. L. Bronson, on Friday last. No coal of the best quality can be purchased at Wimmers. Washed coal, wholly unfit for baking is $2.50 per ton.

THEATRICAL.

"In Old Kentucky." At the Lyceum last night "In Old Ken tucky" was presented by a good company, with a fine seenic display.

The story of the play is one of strong interest and the good points of it were well brought out last night.

"The Span of Life."

That "The Span of Life," Sutton Vane's realistic melodrama has lost none of its popularity was demonstrated by the large audience which greeted it last evening at the Academy. The play has been presented here several times be fore, but the company which appeared here last evening is the best which has ever presented the production here. Miss Francis and Miss Harley in the leading and comedy roles deserve particular men-tion. The play is in four acts and eleven scenes and has an elaborate scenic equip

As the real murderer glides away Mrs. Westen and North enter the darkened room from different points both unconscious of the horror they are to meet. They are stopped by the corps of the murdered man. They giance at each other and each thinks the other is the murderer. Sudenly, the alarm is given, the recom fills up, the lights are turned on and, the sheriff being of the party, sees the wife bending over the depraved husband and, assuming she is the murderer, starts to arrest her. The North steps up and, to save her, says "I am the man you want," and gives him self up. Mrs. Weston is horror-struck and silent, assuming of course, that North's confession is the simple truth. This, it will be seen, is a particularly strong situation, worthy almost of the genius of Sardou. The denouement is cleverly worked out in the last act.
