Brooklyn Eisteddfod on Thanksgiving Day Is Attracting a Great Deal of Attention. Many Entries from This City.

The Brooklyn eisteddfod, to be held | cut flowers and the national colors, The under the auspices of the Arion society following are the committees: on Thanksgiving day, is the chief topic of conversation in musical circles. From present indications the mixed chorus, male party and ladles' chorus competitions will have a number of entries from this city.

Scranton Choral society, under the leadership of John T. Watkins, are holding weekly rehearsals in Music hall and the Scranton male party will also compete under his direction. The ladies' party held a meeting at the Welsh Congregational church, Monday evening, and rehearsed under the leadership of Mrs. James Heckel. They decided to enter the competition under the leadership of Mrs. D. B. Thomas, who has so successfully led them in the past.

The North Scranton Choral union and Glee club are also rehearsing under the direction of Gwilym Morlals and will compete against the Scranton Choral society. Prof. Iorwerth Daniel of Utica, N. Y., will also have a strong choir in the competitions, and has offered to wager a thousand dollars that they will capture the chief prize.

The transportation committee of the Secunton Choral society are negotiating with the Delaware, Lackawanna & rity. Western Rallroad company for a reluced rate from Scranton to New York and return. It is expected the Brooklyn Saengerfest will continue Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 27-8-9. The Scranton Liederkranz will be guesta of the Ariens at that time. It is expected a number of local singtette competitions.

Saloon Keeper in Trouble.

Ellen Jones, of 220 Spruce street, appeared before Alderman Noone, yesterday and swore out a warrant for the arrest of John J. Morris, the proprietor of a saloon at 143 Penn avenue. on the charge of assault and battery. He was placed under arrest by Constable Charles Jacobs and given a hearing last evening.

The prosecutrix claims that Morris while she was in his saloon, knocked her down, kicked her about and severely beat her. Morris was placed under $500 bail which was furnished by John 1. Davis, of North Hyde Park avenue.

Committees for Ball.
