LIFILL T'AND SXXXXXXXXX HIS CONTRACT

THOMAS GANNON ASKS COUN-CIL FOR RELIEF.

Says He Is Unable to Finish Work of Constructing the Relief Sewer in the Eighth ward Unless More Money Is Appropriated-Thomas McLaughlin Wants City to Pay for His House, Which Was Burned. Recorder's Veto of Ordinance Providing for Sidewalks.

Thomas Gannon, who is constructing he sewer which is intended to relieve the main sewer on Lackawanna aveue, sert a communication to select ouncil last night, in which he stated the contract unless an additional appropriation is made, because of unfore een obstacles which have arisen.

The ordinance providing for the construction of the sewer provides for an expenditure of $12,000. Mr. Gannon maintains that he has been obliged to change the course of the sewer frem hat marked out in the original plans, thus causing additional expense, and that the rain during the past month has made it necessary for him to do much extra work.

He enclosed a statement showing the amount he has already expended in constructing one-half of the sewer This was as follows:

ı	Wattes	40.4034	++++++	+0+0		 *********
ı	Bricks	enaid		*		 1,236
ı	Cement				*	 525
ı	Lumber	and	meide	mta!	я.	 450
ı	Pipe					 100
ı	Bricks Cement Lumber Pipe Asphalt	and	repa	ire		 575
ı
1						20.570

Mr. Gannon points out that it will be mpossible for him to finish the sewer for the $2,420,33 remaining. The communication was referred to the direcor of public works, city solicitor and chief engineer of the bureau of engineering for consideration, a report to be made at the next meeting of council. Mr. Nagell presented a novel comnunication from John McLoughlin, of the Tenth ward, who owned a building at the corner of Joseph and Ash streets, which was burned down last spring. The Relief Fire company could not get to the place, he claims, because the bridges crossing the Roaring brook had been washed away by the big February freshet. Had one of the bridges been in place it would have been possible to have saved his building, he says. He claims damages in the sum of $100, insisting that he is entitled to the fire protection for the maintenance of which he is taxed.

"THE LIMIT." SAID VAUGHAN. "That's the limit," said Mr. Vaughan 'If this man failed to take fire insurance o cover his loss its none of our fault The city had no time to put up bridges before his place was burned down. We're as much liable for the payment of his loss as we are for the payment of the funeral expenses of one of his elatives."

An effort was made to have the communication referred to the city solicitor for consideration, but it was voted lown and the whole matter tabled.

Recorder W. L. Connell sent in a communication vetoing the ordinance providing for the laying of sidewalks Gibson street between Quincy and ioned in yesterday's Tribune. The eto was unanimously sustained. The old question as to whether counils have the right to exonerate a property tax came up when a resolution exoperating such a tax came over from the common council for concurrence. 'hairman Oliver ruled it out of order as being illegal, but when Messrs. Regan and Van Bergen moved to appeal from the decision, the whole question was referred to the city solicitor for in opinion by unanimous consent. The sanitary committee presented a resolution directing the director of publie works to notify the officials of the Scrauton Illuminating, Heat and Power company to discontinue at once the dumping of ashes in the Lackawanna river between the Linden street and Miss Julia White, of the postoffice has Lackawanna avenue bridges, and directing that legal action be taken to enforce the resolution should such a step become necessary. The resolution was adopted, A resolution providing for the exoneration of a sewer assessment charged against St. Paul's church in the Nineteenth ward was introduced by Mr.

Vaughan and passed. NEW MEASURES.

Ordinances providing for the erection of an electric light on the corner of Blair avenue and Court street, and for continuing the watchman at Nay Aug park during the winter were intro-Coleman respectively.

The following ordinances were passed on third and final reading: Providing principal reason for the postponement for a lateral sewer on North Main avenue between Pettebone street and the Oram bouleyard; providing for ruption. the equipping of the Keyser Valley Hose company: providing for a gateman at the Poplar street crossing of the Delaware and Hudson railroad; providing for the vacation of Centre street between Mifflin avenue and the Diamond branch of the Lackawanna railroad; providing for the construction of the sewer known as Section E. Fifth Sewer district. Council adjourned to meet two weeks from last night.

BIG NEW BUILDING.

J. D. Williams & Brother to Locate on Washington Avenue.

The work of excavating for the foundations of the big building which J. D. Williams & Brothers will erect on the site of the First Presbyterian church was begun vesterday. Though the church building proper is not to be vacated until January, the work of putting in the vaults under the sidewalks and of excating wherever possible will be done at once. The building which it is proposed to erect will be 106x160 feet, and three stories high, of brick constuction, with stone trimmings. It will be so constructed that several additional stories may be later added on if necessary, The firm will move into the building from their present store on Lackawanna avenue, and expect to be doing business there in the summer.

WORK HAS BEEN DEFERRED.

The building of the West Lackawanan avenue viaduct, the replacing of the Carbon street bridge and the erection of the new Delaware, Lackaduced by Messrs. Van Bergen and wanna and Western car shops has been deferred until next spring.

ACUTE STAGE

1. A. J. Kellerman, Scranton.945 2. Charles Burns, Vandling . 616 3. William T. S. Rodriguez,

A very slick gentleman named Frederick W. Morgan, who has been living by his wits for several weeks, was arrested yesterday, at the instance of Attorneys C. E. Daniels and W. M. Bunnell, on charges of forgery, and was committed to the county jail by Aldermen Kasson in default of bail.

LIVED BY HIS WITS.

But His Wits Did Not Always

Prompt Him to Avoid Infractions of the Law.

Morgan came to this city some weeks igo, according to Attorney Daniels, with considerable money and represented himself as a horse-owner and bookmaker from Chicago. He had an interview with Mr. Daniels, whom he retained to assist him in apprehending colored man, whom he claimed had robbed him of $700 in Nazareth and whom he had followed to this city. After being here for a week or more he became what is known as "broke, and began to run up board bills, livery bills and various other kinds of ac counts. That he had his scheme in mind for some time before he attempted to carry it into effect is proven by the fact that he wrote a note to Attorney Daniels one night, making an appoint ment and asking for an answer to be sent back by the messenger who de-livered it. This gave him a signature of Mr. Daniels' to work from. On Sunday last Mr. Daniels was called to New York, and on Monday morning Morgan appeared at his office expressed surprise at his absence from the city, and asked for a sheet of paper and envelope, saying he wished to write him a letter. The stenographer gave him some of the office stationery, which he used in preparing the following letter, which he presented a half hour later to Cashler C. W. Gunster, of the Merchants' and Mechanics' bank:

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 12, 1902. Dear Sir: It affords me great pleasure in introducing to you Mr. F. Morgan, of Chicago, III. He is desirous of opening in account with your bank. He holds a check for five hundred ($500) dollars drawn by his son, Mr. Harry Morgan payable to Mr. F. Morgan at your bank. The full amount of $500 is deposited with Mr. John A. Bachman, eashier of the Phillipsburg, N. J., National bank, and with whom I have been in communication. Mr. F. Morgan is responsible, and I herewith cheerfully declare myself reponsible for the honoring of said check resented for payment by Mr. F. Morgan, Mr. Morgan has arranged for a dwelling on Jefferson avenue

Any future favor extended him by you will be personally appreciated.
Thanking you in advance, I am,
Yours truly,

Charles P. Daniels Attorney at Law P S I am retained by My Cashier Bachman will wire you early Monday a. m.

Accompanying this was a letter purporting to be signed by John A. Bachman, cashier of the Phillipsburg National bank, certifying that the $500 mentioned had been duly deposited there. Mr. Gunster became suspicious when he heard Mr. Daniels was not in town and asked Morgan how much he wanted for immediate use. Morgan said $38, and a check for $40 was given him and he was told that it would be ashed if endorsed by Attorney Bunnell, who is associated with Mr. Dan-

Morgan presented the check to Bunnell, but he refused to endorse it. A all through the summer and early fall, ew minutes later, the telephone bell at has now reached an acute stage. Letthe bank rang, and a man, presumably Morgan, declared himself to be Bun- tion blanks are very frequent, and nell and said he had just endorsed the looks as if this year's contest would check. The bank people took the precaution to call up Mr. Bunnell at his greater number of points than even last office a moment later, and learned from year's, when more than 2,000 points him that he had not endorsed the check. Cashier Cunster had just hung the receiver up, when Morgan walked briskly in and offered the check with ute. Some of the friends of the con-"W. M. Bunnell," in large, flowing characters written across its back. Payment was refused, and he left the bank hurrfedly. Trace of him was lost until yesterday morning, when it was learned that he had hired a team of horses from Belles, the liveryman. He was followed to Dunmore by Constable Mitchell and arrested. At the hearing before Alderman Kasson, he denied having either written the letter signed "Charles E. Daniels" or having endorsed the check with Attorney Bunnell's name. He was committed to jail in default of $300 bail on each charge. He was also held on charges of false pretense, preferred by H. S. Gorman and C. L. Smith, with whom he ran up livery bills.

Morgan is a well-dressed man, about 45 years old, with good address and all the outside appearance of a gentleman. The forgery of Attorney Daniels' name was very skilfully done. Morgan is also wanted for obtaining whiskey and money under false pre-tenses. It is alleged he forged the name of a prominent physician to an order for whiskey, which he sent with a messenger boy to a well-known drug-

The note asked for a gallon of whiskey and change for $10, deducting the cost of the whiskey. The druggist complied with the request, but when he met the doctor learned he had been duped The messenger boy was sent for, and when he met Morgan at the police station, identified him as the man who gave the forged note.

THE NEW SWITCHBOARD. Reports Now Received from Patrolmen Every Seven Minutes. The new switchboard which has been installed at police headquarters by the Kellog company, of Chicago, has been connected with the new patrol boxes put up by the Lackawanna Telephone company and is now in working order Several additional boxes have been out up and many of the old ones hanged to more advantageous locations, so that a more complete system of reports from officers on beats can be had. A report is now received every seven minutes, so that the sergeants on duty are kept exceedingly busy.
