

Week's Social News

THERE ARE very few cities whose residents, from those of moderate means, and less, the very wealthy are so generous. This is not only true as regards charity but also the patronage of much that is elevating in taste and culture. Particularly is it noticeable in respect to music. The people of means can hear the best music in this country. They do not need to patronize a recital at home, given by any one in whom they have no special personal interest. Yet the masses of our people could scarcely afford to support a great entertainment, such as the Sembrich recital, were it not that those with wealth take large subscriptions and thus promise to sustain the enterprise. There are few more enjoyable ways in which to use money than in providing pleasure for those who could not otherwise have it. The value of such a gift is as great as if it were measured in potatoes and red flannels. To buy tickets for some poor girl of refinement and musical taste to hear such a great artist as Sembrich is to sow the seeds of a delight whose growth can scarcely be measured. To give largely for the purpose of bringing the wonderful songstress to sing on our own thresholds, is to provide pleasure at a low rate for hundreds who could otherwise by no possibility hear her glorious voice. To these generous ones and to the many who faithfully support such enterprise as this recital, the city owes much.

With each day as the date draws near, for her appearance, public interest in Sembrich's coming grows and deepens, this evident by a look at the diagram at Powell's and by the fragments of conversations overheard and relating to the event.

Each decade in at least the last half of the nineteenth century has had its special galaxy of great singers, with one at each period named by common consent as the most brilliant of them all.

Of those of the latest group of famous artists Sembrich is the bright particular star. An all-around musician, a noble pianist, a lovely violinist, thorough in every line of musical art, all these accomplishments she has the gift to make hers—however unimportant this may be to the listeners to her wonderful song one of the secrets of her power. Adeline Patti's peer and also her successor, being the later comer, those best qualified to note the finest shades of vocal excellence are saying that in some respects Sembrich is even more delightful to hear than

The management of the Home for the Friendless has planned a delightful entertainment for Donation Day and evening, which will be next Thursday. Simply because the Home is almost out of debt will not keep the big family from starting. The family never has been as large as it is now, about $4 in number, and as living expenses are so very high at present, the need of donations is extreme. Since the strike subscriptions have greatly fallen off and as, with the exception of five hundred dollars, the Home must depend entirely on the residents of Scranton for support, it will be greatly appreciated if kind friends will remember these necessities now.

The managers have a "basket picnic" on that day, which resolves itself into an annual dinner. In the evening, Miss Jessie Camp Ross, the reader of humorous selections, will give a fascinating program. She will be assisted by distinguished local musical talent. A silver offering will be received, but more than all it is desired that friends of the Home—and who is not its friend—will come out in great numbers.

Mrs. Sisson's name on a bill at the Dixie theater is a great attraction. The delightful little sketch in which she appeared this week has been much enjoyed. Mrs. Sisson's personality is even more charming off the stage, where her pretty "dresses" and "attitudes" fascinate the historian. She is a little quakeress, who has a singularly brilliant gift of mind and ability.

The first of the annual golf matches with Wilkes-Barre will take place this afternoon on the links of the Scranton Country club. This is the sixth annual match for a cup which was to be won with the best scores of three matches. The Scranton team has won five thus far and the two golf clubs are still playing for the same cup. The home team will be composed of Messrs. J. H. Brooks, F. C. Fuller, James Blair, Jr., Frank T. R. Brooks and T. H. Watkins. They will play against Messrs. Turner, Huntington, Johnson, Woodruff, Farnham and Bixbee.

Many of the society people of Scranton will recall with pleasure the recitals and lectures given by Mrs. Ellen M. Staples at a number of private houses in this city three years ago. They will feel interested in knowing that Mrs. Staples will be mistress of ceremonies at the house-warming of the Woman's Press club of New York next Saturday at the Waldorf Astoria. Mrs. Staples is chairman of the department of literature and journalism, and has prepared a programme for the opening of the new quarters which reflects credit on her taste. It includes Ernest Thompson-Sutton, Ruth McGee, Ernest Stuart, Alice Caldwell Hogan, of "Cabbage Patch" fame, and others. Among other features will be a chapter from Mrs. Staples' own forthcoming book "Reminiscences of a Twentieth Century Pilgrim's Progress." One of the guests will be Mrs. Stannard, of London, (John Strange Winter). Mrs. Staples was in Scranton recently as the guest of her nephew, Dr. Downing.

Mrs. T. H. Watkins gave a luncheon on Tuesday at the Country club in honor of Mrs. Brady's guests, Mrs. C. H. Cooke, of Trenton, N. J., and Mrs. Henry McCulloch, of Elkton, Mr. The others present were: Mrs. A. E. Law, Mrs. William Matthews, Mrs. H. B. Reynolds, Mrs. E. G. Courson, Mrs. H. W. Kingsbury, Mrs. Everett Warren, Mrs. James P. Dickson, Mrs. H. P. Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hetzel have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Hetzel, to Mr. James Percy Hughes. The ceremony will take place Oct. 22, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the home of the bride's parents, Gilman street.

Mrs. L. E. Wright, whose work as a water colorist and sculptress have attracted so much attention in Paris and a New York, may remain in Scranton during the winter. Mrs. Wright is a close friend of Mrs. F. L. Phillips.

Among the bridal gifts which were received by Miss Ripple, and which attracted much attention, were two oil paintings by Douglas Arthur Teed. One was his fine "Sir Galahad," the other a small landscape.

Mr. C. E. Blair is to build a handsome house near "Lincoln" at Dalton. Just what Mr. Blair expects to do with a New York is uncertain for he is most indefatigable traveler and has visited every corner of the globe. He expects to spend the winter in California.

Announcement is made of the coming marriage of William P. Scroggins and Miss Mabel M. Boldy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Boldy, of 1207 Academy street. The event will take place Oct. 22.

Dr. J. Whitford Decker, James Blair, Jr., Henry Brady, Jr., and J. H. Brooks were ushers at the wedding of Miss Wheeler to Dr. J. S. Otto in Buffalo, on Wednesday. Dr. Otto was a Princeton classmate.

Mrs. C. D. Simpson was one of those who recently have been very active agents in helping the Young Women's Christian association out of financial difficulties. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson are now in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Rice are spending a month or more as the welcome guests of eastern friends, who miss them greatly since they have taken up their residence in California.

Miss Margaret Duff and Miss Vera Stewart, of Philadelphia, who were in the city to attend the McCulloch-Ripple wedding, were guests of Mrs. James S. McAnulty.

WILL INTEREST EVERYBODY.

Or at Least Everyone Who Suffers from Catarrh.

Nasal catarrh in its various forms is a national disease, and the fact that nearly everybody suffers from it more or less leads many to neglect its proper treatment. Nasal catarrh is a common cause of headaches, destroys sense of smell and if neglected reaches the throat, causing impairment and sometimes total loss of voice. Bronchial catarrh leads easily to consumption. Catarrh of stomach and liver are very serious and obstinate troubles, while it is now generally admitted that catarrh is the most common of all causes of deafness.

All of the more serious forms of catarrh begin with nasal catarrh the local symptoms, being a profuse discharge, stopping of nostrils, irritation and frequent clearing of the throat, sneezing, coughing and gagging.

The old style of treatment with douches, inhalers, sprays, salves, etc., simply give temporary relief and everyone who has used any of them knows how useless they are and their inconvenience is such that very few have the time or patience to continue their use.

A radical cure of catarrh can only be obtained from a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood because no one will now dispute that catarrh is a constitutional or blood disease, and local applications can have no effect except to temporarily relieve local symptoms.

A remedy which has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is a pleasant tasting tablet which is taken internally and acts upon the blood and mucous membranes.

It is composed of antiseptic remedies like Epsom Gum, Blood root and similar cleansing specific which eliminate the catarrhal poison from the system.

The tablets being pleasant to the taste are dissolved in the mouth and thus reach the throat, trachea and finally the stomach and entire alimentary canal. They are sold by druggists everywhere under the name of Stuart's Catarrhal Tablets.

If desired, when there is much stoppage of the nose, the tablets may be dissolved in warm water and used as a douche in addition to internal use, but a douche is not at all necessary. A few dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. Dr. Ainslie says: "The regular daily use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets taken internally will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche or an inhaler."

They seem to give a healthy tone to the whole mucous membrane and it is really remarkable how soon they clear the head and throat of the unnatural and poisonous catarrhal secretion.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is undoubtedly the safest, most palatable and certainly the most efficient and convenient remedy for any form of catarrh.

Movements of People.

V. A. Shireff returned yesterday from Philadelphia, where he attended the annual convention of the Carnegie Manufacturing association.

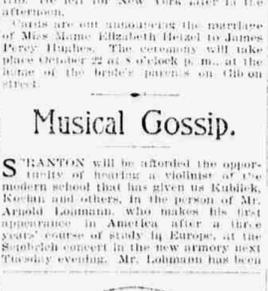

U. S. Bellows, district chief clerk of the railway service, with lumbermen at Williamsport, was a visitor at the local pool-table yesterday.

Chief Engineer W. K. MacFarlan, of the Lackawanna railroad, was in the city yesterday on his return from a hunting trip. He left for New York later in the afternoon.

Guests are out on the purchase of Miss Alice Elizabeth Hetzel to James Percy Hughes. The ceremony will take place October 22 at 8 o'clock p. m., at the home of the bride's parents on Gilson street.

Musical Gossip.

SCRANTON will be afforded the opportunity of hearing a violinist of the modern school that has given us Kubicki, Kozian and others. In the person of Mr. Arnold Lohmann, who makes his first appearance in America after a three years' course of study in Europe, at the Synagogue concert in the new armory next Tuesday evening, Mr. Lohmann has been under the personal guidance of no less an artist than the famous concert master of the Berlin Philharmonic orchestra, Herr Wizek. That Herr Wizek was well pleased with the efforts of his pupil is evidenced in the fact that Mr. Lohmann was the only one of his numerous students to be permitted the unusual distinction of playing in concert with his orchestra. He once remarked to an assemblage of his pupils at his home that "You all study hard, practice enough, drill well, your technique is ample, but Lohmann has the talent—the temperament that shines through all." Mr. Lohmann appeared in concert upon several occasions in not only Berlin but in the neighboring cities and the critics were unanimous in pronouncing him a most brilliant performer on his chosen instrument. Mr. Lohmann is very well known in Wilkes-Barre, Carbondale, Pittston and Scranton, as a former pupil of Mr. Theodor Hemmerger, with whom he pre-
