To the Voters of Lackawanna County:

As Citizens' Candidate FOR County Commissioner,

WILLIAM FRANZ

STANDS FOR

Honest Government,

PROGRESS AND IMPROVEMENT, combined with a watchful and exacting guardianship of the county's funds.

WILLIAM FRANZ comes before you this time as a TRIED AND TRUSTED SERVANT OF THE PEOPLE, not as an experiment or the exponent of a theory. With pride he can point to his past record. From every side comes loud praise of the part he has played in the work of abolishing offensive abuses and the work of beautifying and improving the property under the control of the county commissioners.

The Scranton Tribune, in a review of the work of the commissioners, said:

"It is not every county which can present such a showing in the management of its finances as can Lackawanna this year; but then it is not every county which can boast of commissioners who not only venture to cut the rate of taxation squarely in half, but who actually follow that up by showing a clean reduction of outstanding indebtedness from $315,000 to $160,000, or well nigh 50 per cent. The only possible inference from such an exhibit is that Commissioners Franz, Flanaghan and Halstead, instead of indulging in loud talk, have been quietly sowing wood. And from what I have seen of their methods, this is precisely the milk in the cocoanut. They are business men first and politicians afterward. And the outcome of their labors would seem to clinch the contention that this is the order which taxpayers most need."

The Elmira Telegram said:

"When Mr. Franz took up the reins as county commissioner, instead of an increase in rate of taxation there was a pronounced decrease, until Lackawanna county made the lowest levy in the state for a county of its size. Marked improvements were made; the finest court house in the state was finished; the best jail in the state was erected; new and elegant bridges were built; and toll gates abolished. The list of improvements is too long for enumeration, but the fact remains that in the face of all these improvements the cost of the department was cut nearly in half by the jealous stewardship of William Franz and his associates."

Are You for Honest Government?
Are You for Practical Improvement?

If so, cast your vote for

William Franz

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

ANNUAL MEETING OF MUSICAL ALLIANCE

Interesting Sessions at Factoryville. Concert at Methodist Episcopal Church Last Evening.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Factoryville, Pa., Oct. 18.—The seventeenth annual meeting of the Lackawanna and Wyoming Musical alliance closed a most successful week with the usual grand concert last night, at the M. E. church in this place. An unusually large class greeted Prof. John T. Watkins, who conducted the alliance this year, at the opening session on Monday evening. The class increased each day until it numbered about 85 members who have made very rapid progress under the efficient instruction of Prof. Watkins. His manner of conducting an alliance at once interests and the chorus and the members readily grasp the music put before them, under his methods of teaching.

Miss Martha Matthews, the soprano was heard in the chorus work, and at last night's concert, she delighted the audience with her well-trained voice of great flexibility and power. The feature of Thursday evening's concert was the appearance of the well know Schubert quartette of Scranton, composed of Thomas Abrams, first tenor; Daniel Jones, second tenor; J. T. Watkins, first bass, and John W. Jones second bass. They responded to several encores. The chorus work in Thursday's concert was above the average chorus work, but was still better in last night's concert. Miss Mary Niland was also heard to good advantage in solo and chorus work, Thursday evening. She has a well trained voice of much sweetness and power. Miss Niland, Mr. Abrams, Mr. Dean Jones and Mr. J. W. Jones, all responded to encores.

Following is Thursday night's programme:

Chorus, "Hail Bright Abode." Tannhauser-Wagner

(a) Bass Solo and Chorus, "Crowned with the Tempest" ..... Verdi
(b) Pilgrims' Chorus ..... Donnizetti
John W. Jones and Chorus.

Part Song, "Annie Dear" ..... Buck
Schubert Quartette.

Solo, Melba Waltz ..... Arditi
Miss Mary Niland.

Tenor Solo, "For All Eternity." Mascheroni
Tom Abrams.

Chorus, "Faithful and True" (Lohengrin) Wagner

Bass Solo, Aria "Now Heaven in Fullest Glory Shone" ..... Haydn
J. W. Jones.

Duet and Chorus, "Miserere," (Il Trovatore) Verdi
Miss Niland, Mrs. Abrams and Chorus.

Medley, "Mother Hubbard, etc." ....Smith
Schubert Quartette.

Tenor Solo, "Oh! For a Day of Spring," Andrews
Dan Jones.

Sextette, "Ah! From Vengeance," Donnizetti
Miss Niland, Mrs. Shields, Messrs. Jones, Abrams, Shields, J. W. Jones and Chorus.

Duet, "The Fisherman" ..... Gabussi
Messrs. Tom Abrams and Jones.

Finale—Soldiers' Chorus ...(Faust) Gounod
Chorus.

The well-known pianist, Miss Florence Richmond, was the accompanist this year, and won much admiration in her work.

Large audiences at both concerts greeted the alliance and were delighted with the programmes.

The feature of last night's concert was the artistic music furnished by Fred Widmayer, violinist, and Harvey Blackwood, 'cellolst. Their playing was artistic work, and they responded to several well earned encores.

The choruses in last night's concert included those from Spoffarth, Schubert, Fanning, Bishop, McFarren, Surretti, Gounod, and others.

CLARK'S SUMMIT.

A large and fashionable home wedding took place at the pretty suburban villa of Mr. and Mrs. George Myers, at 3 o'clock p. m., Wednesday, Oct. 15, when their daughter, Miss Maye Myers, was united in matrimony to Mr. Charles Snook, of Clark's Green, Pa.

The bridal party assembled at the stairs, and marched through the reception room to the parlor to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, rendered by Harold Parker; two tiny cousins of the bride, Misses Laura Atherton and Lois Stark, leading the procession. The bride and groom were met at the foot of the stairs by Rev. J. S. Custard, who preceded them to an elaborate canopy of evergreens, white chrysanthemums and scarlet berries, erected in a corner of the parlor where the ceremony was performed. The bride wore a dainty and becoming gown of Paris mousseline, trimmed with liberty satin and chiffon, and also wore a pearl necklace. She carried white chrysanthemums. The flower girls wore cream silk and carried pink chrysanthemums.

The ushers were six young lady friends of the bride, Misses Vina Justin, Nell Alger, Carrie Datesman, Jessie Meade, Grace Meyers and Edna Townsend, each dressed to blend with the colors of the decorations in green, white and pink.

The decorations were very beautiful, each door, corner and mantel being transformed by festoons and masses of evergreens, ferns, chrysanthemums and berries.

A luncheon of several courses was served, following the congratulations, and soon afterward Mr. and Mrs. Snook boarded the train en route for Binghamton, Niagara Falls and vicinity, where they will spend a few days.

The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rosemerants, Mrs. Mary Rosemerants, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wolfe, Mrs. Susan Keator, Ernest Slocum, Mr. and Mrs. Allie Fish and children, Scranton; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Alger, Old Forge; Miss Sarah J. Albertson, White Haven; Mr. and Mrs. James Fish, Mr. and Mrs. E. Fish, Schultzville; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jennings and daughter, Bald Mount; Mr. and Mrs. McNulty, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Jennings and son, Chinchilla; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Snook, Miss Irene Snook, Misses Susie and Clara Green, Mr. and Mrs. Merrit Meade, Miss Jessie Meade, J. D. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leach, of Clark's Green; Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Atherton and children, Mrs. F. M. Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parker, Rev. and Mrs. Custard, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. William Vosburg and son, Percy, Mrs. Cordelia Alger and daughter, Nell, Miss Grace Myers, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Myers, Herbert Fish and children, William and Gertrude Emmett and Jay Fish, Mrs. John Twining and daughter, Georgia, Arthur and Carrie Datesman, Miss Vina Justin and Miss Edna Townsend, all of Clark's Summit.

FOREST CITY.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Forest City, Oct. 17.—The storeroom and offices in the borough building were rented by the council this week. Jacob Alexander secured the former and will move his clothing business to that place as soon as the room is fitted up. F. M. Gardiner, esq., and Watrous & Carpenter will occupy the office suites.

Cecil C. Manzer, of St. Louis, is visiting his parents, Postmaster and Mrs. T. C. Manzer.

Mrs. J. M. Bevan died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Brown, on Delaware street, Thursday morning, after a long illness. She was a woman of devout nature, kindly disposed toward friends and neighbors, and her demise is sincerely regretted by the community. The funeral will take place on Saturday morning.

THEATRICAL.

"A Fight for Millions."

"A Fight for Millions," Mahon Douglas' new play, drew two large audiences at the Academy of Music yesterday. All who have not seen the play should not miss doing so at its final presentations this afternoon and evening.

Souvenir Day at Dixie's Theater.

The attendants at Dixie's theater this afternoon will have the opportunity of receiving a picture of the handsome auditorium free of charge. A flashlight photo of the interior of the building and audience will be taken by Schriever at the matinee, and every holder of a reserved seat coupon for the front row of the balcony will be entitled to receive a copy of the picture free by presenting the coupons at the box-office next week.

This afternoon and evening will be the last appearances of the Smedley Sketch club, Kathryn Osterman and Pauline Moran and her pickaninnies. Eugene O'Rourke and company and Charley Hartley, the ventriloquist, are among the attractions announced for next week.

The Bennett & Moulton Co.

The Bennett & Moulton company will begin a week's engagement at the Academy next Monday evening. Bennett & Moulton, at an enormous expense, have purchased all new stage settings for their productions this season, which will enable them to give the patrons of the Academy new and elaborate productions. It can safely be said that these enterprising managers have the largest, best-equipped and most complete repertoire company traveling.

No theater scenery will be shown during the entire engagement. Owing to the vast amount of scenery and electrical effects to be mounted and staged, there will be no matinee Monday, but commencing on Tuesday, there will be a matinee daily. Matinee prices, 10 cents; reserved seats, 20 cents. Evening prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents.

London Belles Coming.

Manager Herrington, of the Star, has secured for his attraction Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Rose Sydell's London Belles. This company will be well remembered, owing to the very favorable impression they created at this house last season. As usual, Manager Campbell has surrounded his comedians with a coterie of exceptionally handsome maidens and patrons of this popular little house may have their fill of beauty during the engagement of the London Belles. Matinee every day.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune does not assume responsibility for opinions here expressed.]

Difference in Discipline.

Editor of The Tribune—

Sir: To all Scrantonians who are familiar with the management of the Thirteenth regiment, it is a source of pride that Scranton is the headquarters of the Thirteenth. Camp Wyckoff is as near ideal as possible. Orders are strict yet the men see the reasonableness of them, and they are cheerfully obeyed. No civilian is allowed inside the guard line except on business. When the boys first went into camp in Olyphant the writer visited the camp and asked to see a friend. Although personally acquainted with Colonel Watres, that officer refused admittance on finding that the visit was not strictly business. No soldier is allowed outside the guard line without a pass, and it is a significant fact that before a man appears before Colonel Watres to ask leave to absent himself, he must be shaven, have well polished boots and a suit which denotes recent care having been taken of it. The furlough received is only for a limited time and the man who stays out over that time knows that he will find trouble waiting for him when he returns.

It is a self-evident fact that this regiment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania are called out for business, to which they are strictly attending. Its most excellent colonel has the highest respect of the regiment and community at large.

It is to be greatly regretted that as much cannot be said of the Twelfth regiment which is now stationed in the North End of our city. We are sorry that we have any thing but commendation for this camp, but the citizens of Providence are so disgusted with the existing state of affairs there that it is unwise to longer keep silent on the subject.

They seem to come and go at will and the only business which seems to be deriving any benefit from their presence among us is the saloon.

Ostensibly, there is a guard line around the tents, but it seems to mean nothing. Questionable looking women roam through the company streets and are seen even in the tents. The girl in short skirts as well as of mature years, is seen parading the company streets, leaning on the arm of the so-called soldier.

A dress parade is an event of interest in any community, but this camp bears such a name that self-respecting young woman scarcely dare be seen there. Without a doubt, there are some clean, respectable young men in this camp, a number of them have faces which indicate a different life, and it is a shame to tie a man like that to a place where he must constantly witness scenes which are revolting to him.

Must the present conditions continue to exist in the place? Is there no military law which can put up a bar against the disgraceful performances which are seen to take place every night within the guard lines?

Another place where discipline is sadly needed is in the homes of the young girls who may be seen all around town as well as at the camp walking with these men to whom they are perfect strangers. In the name of decency, mothers and fathers, where are your daughters at night?

A citizen of the North End.

Giles L. Clark.
