BAD EYES

Are What I Am

LOOKING FOR

Do you always read with ease? Anywhere, any light, any point? If so, you are fortunate; if not, you are still fortunate in having here the services of a skilled eye refractionist—one who has examined and fitted glasses to hundreds of eyes and never made a failure.

I cannot afford to make failures.

You cannot afford to allow those who make failures to experiment on your eyes.

One charge covers the entire cost of my examination, glasses and frames.

INCREASING ITS CAPACITY.

& H. Company Building New Breaker and Washeries.

Delaware and Hudson company has staked out ground for a new breaker at Mayfield, near the Powderly slope, about a mile northeast of the Mayfield station.

It will be a double breaker, having both "wet" and "dry" sides, and is to be built in the most modern fashion. It will cost $70,000 and have a capacity of 1,500 tons.

The new breaker will prepare the product of the Powderly, Carbondale No. 1 and small sizes from the Coalbrook. The new breaker will relieve the big Coalbrook, which now takes care of the product of nearly all the Delaware and Hudson mines in that vicinity. Besides increasing the output it will prevent the necessity of shutting down of these collieries when the Coalbrook gets out of order, which has happened with annoying frequency. The name of the new breaker will be the Powderly No. 2.

The company, yesterday, raised the frame work of a new annex washery at the Leggett's Creek colliery in North Scranton, and is preparing plans for a 1,200 ton annex washery at the Von Storch.

The new breaker and washeries when completed will increase the company's capacity by nearly 4,000 tons a day.

TEN COLUMNS ON THE OFFICIAL BALLOT

County Commissioners Have Received the Form of the Ballot to Be Used Nov. 4.

The county commissioners have received from Harrisburg the form of the official ballot to be used on Nov. 4. It will be ten columns in width, and will have the following tickets on it: Republican, Democrat, Prohibition, Socialistic Labor, Socialist, Citizens, Anti-Machine, Ballot Reform and Union. There is also the blank column required by law for the man who is not satisfied with the candidates on the regular tickets. The candidates on the Republican and Democratic tickets are:

Republican—Governor, Samuel W. Pennypacker; lieutenant governor, William M. Brown; secretary of internal affairs, Isaac B. Brown; congress, William Connell; senator, John B. Jordan; representative, First district, Joseph Oliver; Second district, John J. Scheuer; Third district, Edward James; Fourth district, P. A. Philbin; orphans' court judge, A. A. Vosburg; county commissioners, John C. Morris, John Penman; mine inspectors, Llewellyn M. Evans, David T. Williams.

Democratic—Governor, Robert E. Pattison; lieutenant governor, George W. Guthrie; secretary of internal affairs, James Nolan; senator, P. F. Calpin; legislature, First district, Timothy Hayes; Second district, Fred Phillips; Third district, William P. Litts; Fourth district, P. J. White; county commissioners, John J. Durkin, Victor Burschell; mine inspector, P. J. Moore.

POLICE RESERVE SYSTEM.

It Will Probably Be Partially Dispensed with Soon.

It is likely that the reserve system, which has been in operation in the bureau of police since shortly after the inauguration of the coal strike, will be partially dispensed with within a week or two. The members of the force have been chafing under it for some time, and will be glad to see the old order of things restored.

At present the night men who go on duty at 8 p. m. and who quit patrolling at 4 a. m., must remain on reserve until 8 a. m., when the men going on duty at noon put in an appearance and remain until they go out on patrol. The men quitting at noon remain on during the afternoon until 4 o'clock, and the time from then until 8 p. m. is filled in by men especially assigned.

The principal objection on the part of the patrolmen to the present system is the way it breaks up their sleep. It is probable that while in the future a few men will always be kept on reserve, the schedule will be so arranged as to permit them to get all their sleep at headquarters, instead of only part of it.

WHARTON'S CHALLENGE.

R. W. Wharton, manager of the Hampe bowling alleys, came out last night with a challenge to either the Mosquito or Spider teams to play an organization of youngsters which he has named the Lobsters, the three games to be rolled on the Hampe alleys next Tuesday night. The members of the Lobster team have never bowled in a league game. They are as follows: G. Williams, McGovern, S. Riker, G. Alexander and E. Clark.

It is possible that a bowling league, comprising four or six teams, picked from among the younger bowlers, may be organized within the next few weeks to roll a short season.

THREE CHILDREN ARRESTED.

Meredith Watkins, Charles Watkins and Chester Knott, three children residing in Tripp park, were arraigned before Alderman Kasson yesterday for assaulting Adam, the young son of Paul Skoda, of the Brisbin patch.

The father of the Skoda boy alleged that the other three assaulted his child because he worked in the mines. The defendants waived a hearing and entered bail in the sum of $300 each, James Kipp, of Garfield avenue and Dorothy street, qualifying as their bondsman.

COURT GRANTS TWO DIVORCES

GEORGE A. SCHRIVER WAS CRUEL TO HIS WIFE.

One of the Witnesses Testified That He Was Worse Than the Beasts of the Field—The Coddingtons Are Also Separated for Good—Manner in Which Cases Were Acted Upon in Argument Court—Reversals in a Number of Certiorari Cases—Marriage Licenses.

Two decrees in divorce were granted in argument court yesterday immediately after the cases had been submitted. They were Mrs. Chloe Schriver from George H. Schriver and Albert E. Coddington from Elizabeth Coddington.

The Schrivers were married May 20, 1897, by Rev. W. A. Nordt and began housekeeping in South Scranton. Mrs. Schriver was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schimer, of New street, and was 24 years of age when she married. She was the third wife Schriver had promised to love and cherish. Schriver was 48, weighed 220 pounds and worked for the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company. Mrs. Little, of Penn avenue, with whom the Schrivers boarded for a time, testified at the hearing that his habits were "worse than the beasts of the field."

Mrs. Schriver testified that her husband drank heavily almost from the time of their marriage and when he was drunk he abused her shamefully, striking her in the face with his hand and his closed fist, driving her out of the house at night and calling her the most vile names. Her testimony was corroborated by her sister, Miss Effie Schimer, her father and mother and Mrs. Little.

Albert C. Coddington and Elizabeth Coddington were married in New York state, March 3, 1894, and lived together until September, 1897, when Coddington came here to reside. His wife refused to live here and has since persisted in her desertion of him. She now lives in Elmira, N. Y.

Argument was made to stay for a time the divorce proceedings of Barbara Erion against Jacob Erion, when the rule for a decree in divorce came up for consideration. Erion was released a few weeks ago from the penitentiary, where he spent a term for criminal assault, and when he returned home found that divorce proceedings had been begun against him.

His attorney, C. W. Dawson, said yesterday that Mrs. Erion had condoned and forgiven her husband's offense and that if time was granted by the court he felt that the parties would be re-united. Argument will be resumed this morning in the case. Other cases were acted upon as follows:

Argued—Frank Hollenback against D. S. Hollenback, exceptions to report of referee; E. Riker & Company against Mary McAlron, exceptions to report of referee; Peter Burke against Temple Iron company, rule to consolidate to action and file amended declarations; Adam W. Cramer against E. E. Cramer, rule to vacate decree in divorce; Elizabeth Boyer against Fred Barrowman, rule to open judgment; Michael Corby against D. Gilmartin, rule to open judgment; J. Seligman & Co. against A. J. Tentzer, demurrer; James B. Doyle & Co. against Annette Reynolds, exceptions to affidavit of defense and rule for judgment; W. G. Miller against George W. Cramer and others, rule to strike of non-suit; Charles Reed against A. W. Walker, rule for security for costs.

Continued—M. W. Winchell against W. H. Stevens, rule to open judgment; Thomas Walenlinovicz against A. Hlostave, certiorari; Jenkins township and others against John D. Jones and others, rule to open judgment; S. Maniska against F. Shorenski, certiorari; commonwealth of Pennsylvania against Mary Durkin, certiorari; Lona B. Day against F. Bartocci, certiorari; Lena B. Day against V. Ceccacci, certiorari; Ray Krotzer against Frank Alt, certiorari; Pat Giordons against K. Woleyka, certiorari; A. M. Storr against Amelia Storr, rule for counsel fees and alimony; Catherine N. Kerr against Agnes O'Malley and others, rule to dissolve attachment; Mary Rowland against Maria Costello, rule to quash capias.

Non-Pros.—Simon Miglin against John Swanick, certiorari; Simon Miglin against Valsco Brufchick, certiorari; Anna Froudnisky against I. Olzlewczky, certiorari; E. Judkovitz against S. Dorfman, certiorari; commonwealth of Pennssylvania, certiorari; James A. Kearney against Zimon Brothers, certiorari; Thomas P. Duffy against John P. Williams, certiorari; S. Nappin against Jacob Smith, certiorari.

Submitted—Phoebe J. Kenner against Benjamin Kenner, rule for decree in divorce; A. D. Enslin against Enos Enslin, rule for decree in divorce; Ora E. Sayer against A. B. Sayer, rule for decree in divorce; Buckeye Buggy company against W. Belles, exceptions to affidavits of defense; Helen M. Back against Michael Back, rule for decree in divorce; Clara Crisson against John Crisson, rule for decree; Henry Scheuer against Pauline Scheuer, rule for decree in divorce; Nettie White against Thomas White, rule for decree in divorce; Catherine Coggins against John Coggins, rule for decree in divorce; W. A. Lathrope against Ethel Lathrope, rule for decree in divorce; Allen Smith against Sarah Smith, rule for decree in divorce; W. H. Campbell against Julia M. Campbell, rule for decree in divorce. In re: adoption of Cora Mullinex.

Reversed—City of Scranton against Frank Miller, certiorari; J. O. Ackerman against J. E. Hess Baking company, certiorari; S. Hinerfeld against Scranton Railway company, certiorari; A. Peterson against D. Tinsley, certiorari; George H. Lowrie against Ontario and Western Railroad company, certiorari; John Nolan against H. P. Schloss, certiorari; James A. Reilly against Anthracite Beer company, certiorari; Henry Southald against Anthracite Beer company, certiorari; city of Scranton against E. Gennose, certiorari; Mary Schwilchock against Samuel Elsner, certiorari; Emma Hughes against Mary Durkin, certiorari; D. S. Ryan against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company, certiorari; William Edwards against New York, Ontario and Western Railroad company, certiorari; Jenkin Davis against William P. Joyce, certiorari; M. Odmahl against Stanley Shop, certiorari; commonwealth ex-rel. David Sipp against A. Striker, certiorari; commonwealth of Pennsylvania against Peter Filitsky, certiorari.

Rule Absolute—German Building association No. 9 against P. McAndrews and others, rule to open judgment; George Jones against Edward Conway, rule to take off non-suit; A. Gilmore against A. P. Duffy, exceptions to affidavits of defense and rule for judgment; Thomas Darling against Edward Miller, rule to enter judgment.

Rule discharged—Thomas G. Moore against E. A. Peters, rule to open judgment. Charles Misch against John Spangenberg and others, rule to open judgment.

Demurrer Sustained—City of Scranton against Thomas G. Evans, demurrer.

Off List—Commonwealth of Pennsylvania against William P. Joyce.

Special Session of Orphans' Court.

A special session of Orphans' court was held yesterday before Judge A. A. Vosburg, a petition for an issue in the estate of Elizabeth Zeigler, deceased, having been set down for a hearing at that time. Charles and Luzetta Rose contend that two policies of insurance in the Prudential Insurance Company of America were assigned by Mrs. Zeigler to them, during her lifetime; and that the policies and premium receipt books were delivered to them before her death; and that after her death they submitted the policies and receipt books to the officers of the company, and claimed the insurance; but that by mistake it was paid by the company to August Schneider, the executor of the estate of Elizabeth Zeigler.

The petitioners contend that an issue should be framed to determine their title to the proceeds of this insurance, and obtained a citation upon the executor to show cause why such an issue should not be certified to the common pleas court for trial. The executor representing the estate and the legatees objects to this claim, and contended that the proceeds of this insurance belonged to the estate, and has filed an account charging himself with this insurance. The hearing was not concluded, but will be continued on November 8, at 10 o'clock a. m. The petitioners were represented by Attorneys John F. Murphy and C. W. Dawson, and the respondent by Attorneys D. L. Fiekes and R. A. Zimmerman.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

Attorney A. A. Chase, representing Peter Manley, yesterday began an action in trespass against the Wilkes-Barre and Scranton Railway company and the Scranton Steel company. It is another of the flood suits.

Executions against Hudson & Metcalf, hotel-keepers, of Von Storch avenue, in the sum of $1,650 were placed in the hands of the sheriff yesterday. One of the executions is on a judgment for $1,400, held by Charles Robinson, and the other is for $250, on a judgment held by the Central Pennsylvania Brewing company.

TWO CLEVER CROOKS COMMITTED TO JAIL

Darling and McDonald Are Wanted in Elmira, Auburn and Williamsport for Plundering Hotels.

Chief of Police Cassidy, of Elmira, came to this city yesterday and identified James Darling, alias "A. J. Gilman," and J. W. McDonald, the prisoners held at police headquarters, as the men wanted at Elmira for stealing four dress suit cases from hotels in Elmira.

Cassidy identified the contents of the grip found in their possession as being articles taken from other grips, but the dress suit case at police headquarters is not one of the four taken from Elmira. It is new and looks as if it had not been used yet.

One of the grips taken from Elmira contained $200 worth of goods, but this was recovered there before the thieves could get away, and another was found in Binghamton. The extent of their operations has not yet been fully determined. McDonald is wanted in Auburn and Williamsport, and both are wanted in Elmira.

The prisoners were taken before Judge Edwards yesterday, and both admitted they were the persons named in the warrant issued by Recorder Harry L. Bogart, of Elmira. They were remanded to the custody of the sheriff, pending the arrival of requisition papers from the governor of New York.

The police believe they have in Darling and McDonald two of the slickest crooks in the country. Both have served time in Elmira, and have been plying their game successfully throughout the country. McDonald had in his possession a hotel check for a grip, but refused to tell where it was.

Both were measured and photographed yesterday, and their pictures will be added to the local rogues' gallery. They were intoxicated when arrested, and were trying to dispose of a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western employe's pass, but were released on this charge and afterwards re-arrested on complaint from the Elmira authorities.

A MIXED AFFAIR.

In Which Alderman Howe Was the Arbitrator.

Ignatz Kubowitz, of 315 Elm street, yesterday caused the arrest of Joe Cinciski, of 2121 Price street, for the larceny of $45.75, a watch and chain, from him while they were at the house of Michael Wyloscke, 1331½ Morris court, last Friday night.

The men had been drinking together and Kubowitz fell asleep in Wyloscke's house, and when he awoke missed his money and watch. A search warrant was issued by Alderman Howe, and Constable Koehler went through Wyloscke's house, but did not find the missing articles and money.

Then Wyloscke had Kubowitz arrested for defrauding him out of a board bill, but admitted at the hearing before Alderman Howe that he did not owe it. The alderman dismissed the whole proceedings.

Ignatz was later arraigned before Alderman Millar on the charge of perjury, preferred by Joe, and held in $500 bail. Wyloscke also had Ignatz arrested for making forcible entry into his house, and he was also held in $500 bail on this charge.

FOUND HER RELATIVES.

Woman Sent from This City to Philadelphia Locates Husband.

Several weeks ago Mrs. George Kusnir and son appeared before the Scranton poor board and asked assistance in locating her husband and two children, who were residents of Philadelphia.

Through some mistake the woman and her boy were sent here from Hoboken and Director Dickert presented her case to the board. Mrs. Duggan, the agent of the board of associated charities, has been informed by the Philadelphia society for organizing charity that the family has been reunited.

HOW THE NEWS WAS RECEIVED

BROUGHT JOY THOUGH CONFIDENTLY EXPECTED.

President Mitchell's Reassuring Words Concerning the Probabilities of All Men Being Taken Back Did Much to Lessen Apprehension on This Score — Superintendent Rose Says It Is Likely There Will Be Places for All—Company Hands and the Like to Return Today.

Yesterday was the happiest day Scranton enjoyed in half a year. The news that the miners at Wilkes-Barre had voted to accept the arbitration proposition and return to work Thursday, spread rapidly from one end of the city to the other, and though it was confidentially expected, it was none the less potent in provoking good feeling.

Not the least happy of the people were the miners themselves. The "corners" at Hyde Park, Providence and Dunmore, and the principal street intersections in the central city, had groups of them congregated all morning, waiting for the news. When the word came that the fight was all over and that they could now return to work, they went to their dinners—if they had dinners to go to—highly elated.

There was only one drop of bitter in their cup of sweet—the possibility that many of them would not find work to return to. The reassuring words of President Mitchell tended to moderate the apprehensions on this score. The fact that the companies want to get out all the coal they possibly can and that the usual force at the mines is about 30,000 short by reason of so many men leaving the anthracite field during the strike, was looked upon as an almost positive assurance that there will not be many men out of places, when the mines get in good running order again, which will be in the course of not more than a week or ten days at the most. Non-unionists who were brought from other places continue to leave the region in large numbers. The companies are not making any very strenuous effort to restrain them. When Thursday morning comes, it is safe to guess, there will be comparatively few men found at the mines who did not work there before the strike.

Superintendent Rose, of the Delaware and Hudson mining department, said yesterday: "There will be very few of our old men but what will be provided with places. I guess there will be work for all of them. I want our men to understand, though, that they have got to be manly men. They will have to realize that the mine boss is the man who will run the mines."

It may take some time before the situation at the Oxford becomes normal. The company is not disposed to change its present force and the old employes have declared they will not return unless in a body.

The union has given permission to the engineers, pumprunners, firebosses, company hands, blacksmiths and the like to return to work today to help in the work of getting the mines in shape for resumption.

Delegates Peter Miller and Andrew Keating, of Local No. 1016, United Mine Workers of America, request the members of their union to meet with them at St. John's hall, Capouse avenue, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, when they will make their report of the Wilkes-Barre convention.

Our First Silk Sale Begins This Morning

We aim to make it an event long to be remembered by silk buyers in Scranton and vicinity, and for that reason have planned an opportunity for intelligent bargain hunters that stands without a parallel in the silk selling history of this city.

Important To Remember---That there is not one yard in all the Silks offered in this interesting sale that was not made expressly for this season's trade. Therefore

This Is Not a Clearance Sale.---It is simply a bargain opportunity intended to make silk buyers shopping in Scranton more familiar with the unquestionable merits of this department, which lacks nothing either in variety, extent of stock and matchless values to make it complete. We want the public to fully understand and appreciate these facts, and all that is necessary to accomplish our aim is to get people in to look and compare what we have to offer, with what they see elsewhere. That is the real

Secret of This Sale.---Does the idea appeal to you? If it does, come and look even though you don't want to buy. You'll be sure to talk about it to your friends and that is just what we're after. To tell the truth, we're not over-anxious to sell these silks at the figures quoted for this week. Still you can have what you want of them, if the price appeals to you.

Some Sample Bargains.---Other Silks not quoted here are reduced in price proportionately.
