

MORE MINES ARE IN OPERATION

Yesterday's Goal Output in the Anthracite Region Estimated at 100,000 Tons.

THE LACKAWANNA COMPANY LEADS ALL

Their Mines Are in Good Condition and There Is Less Friction Between the District Superintendents and the Men Who Have Returned to Work—But Few Complaints Received at Mr. Mitchell's Headquarters—More Work and Less Talk.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 24.—There were twenty-two more mines in operation in the anthracite region today than yesterday, and the output will be close to 100,000 tons.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company continues to lead in production. There are two reasons for this. First, the mines are in good condition and there is less friction between the district superintendents and the men who have returned to work.

President Mitchell continues very reticent and refuses to be quoted on any move made by the operators, either regarding the treatment of the old employees or the advance in the price of coal.

NEXT GOVERNOR IS WARMLY GREETED

Big Ovation Given to Ex-Judge Pennypacker and His Campaigning Party.

MASS MEETING AT THE LYCEUM

Speeches by Ex-Judge Pennypacker, Attorney General Elkin, Candidate William M. Brown and W. I. Schaffer. Best Meeting of the Tour Thus Far.

HON. SAMUEL W. PENNYPACKER.

Scranton was yesterday honored with a visit from the eminent jurist, statesman and scholar, who will be the next governor of the state of Pennsylvania.

The most representative men of the party from all parts of the city and county were invited to the Lyceum and evening to act on the reception committee and from the time Judge Pennypacker arrived in the morning, until he retired at night, he was the center of a welcoming, well-wishing and admiring throng.

The evening event of the visit was the mass meeting at night in the Lyceum. So great was the crush that even ladies had to seek seats in the gallery. Hundreds, unable to secure admission, turned away before the meeting had begun.

Through a misapprehension of train connections, Judge Pennypacker arrived from Tunkhannock earlier than was expected, and the plans for the reception, which it was arranged to give him at the station, had to be altered. A big crowd had collected at 1:08, the time advertised for his arrival, and so that it might not be disappointed, Congressman Connell took Judge Pennypacker to the station and had him present himself to the cheering throng.

When they began to assemble in front of the hotel and saw how the crowds were surging into the theatre, they concluded that if they waited until 8 o'clock they would not be able to get in, and accordingly they joined in the crowds going into the Lyceum.

Judge Pennypacker, Mr. Brown and Mr. Schaffer went to the theatre accompanied by Congressman Connell and Major Warren. When they arrived the theatre was already overflowing, and the stage not only had all of its 350 seats filled, but was packed to the walls with men standing.

Among the prominent men in the boxes and boxes were Judge R. W. Archbold, United States Attorney S. J. McCarell, United States Marshal Fred C. Leonard, Rev. C. E. Gilpin, D. B. Attorney R. A. Zimmerman, Alfred B. Connell, R. E. Conroy, Attorney John P. Strawn, W. H. Whyte, C. B. Pennam, City Assessor Philip Rinland, P. Sillas Walters, Rev. James Hughes.

The audience contained a representation of the gentler sex, very unusual in numbers for a political meeting. They were seen in every box and scattered throughout the parquet, balcony and gallery.
