GLORY FOR CARBONDALE.

Two of Tribune's Successful Contestants from This City—Maxwell Shepherd, in a Garrison Finish, Takes Second Place and Herbert Thompson Is Fifth.

For the second time in an educational contest conducted by The Tribune, Carbondale has won laurels that are worthy of being exploited with an exulting spirit.

In the contest of last year, Garfield Anderson, a hustling young man of this city, directed the attention of the presidents in the wide field covered by The Tribune to the kind of energy and go that are stored in youths of the Anthracite City...

The news of Messrs. Shepherd and Thompson's successes has been joyful tidings to the best of persons whom they interested in their behalf, while their work will be applauded by every one who admires a lad of ambition, pluck and perseverance.

Both young men fought a gallant fight. For five months they worked under the most discouraging circumstances. The great coal strike, with its depressing tendencies, caused almost everybody to hesitate to make even the smallest investment, lest pinching times would follow later.

Mr. Shepherd's finish was truly of the Garrison sort. A month ago he claimed only 300 points, but his aim was at the topmost mark, which he missed by only 22 points.

Thompson worked steadily from the start, like the patient, persistent plodder that he is, and shares, in large measure, the fruits of victory.

COFFEE FLYERS.

Can Be One If You Stick to It.

The coffee habit is as infectious as other drug habits of the same nature. Don't think so? Well dig in and see.

When we are as fortunate as Mr. James M. Kimble of Northampton, Mass. to realize that we have got to stop or the penalty will be severe, it is a little startling at first to consider, he says, "I was an inveterate coffee drinker during twenty years of my life."

My appetite became very poor and solid food repugnant to the sight, dyspepsia and indigestion were my inseparable companions and food did me but little good. About four years ago a friend advised me to try Postum Cereal Food Co. I was loath to believe that coffee was the cause of my trouble...

Mr. Kimble mentions in his letter that he had recovered health and strength after using Postum in his recommendation.

enterprise has been well justified in the young men's victories.

STRENUOUS LADS.

Hurly Hurly Boys Put Brooklyn Stars on the Tramp.

The eleven lads whose name, the Hurly Hurly Boys, indicates a muchness of strenuousness in the very strenuous sport of football, are living up to their name.

On Saturday for the third time, and in the third game they played this season, they scored a shut-out. Their opponents were the Brooklyn Street Stars who were bumped hard enough to change their name to the Brooklyn Street Mine Lamps.

The two bright stars of the game were Peck, full-back, and Bill Peel, half-back, of the Hurly Hurly Buffers. Peck's kicking-of-the-pig-skin, if you please—and Peck's end runs, earned them their reputations as shining lights.

The Hurly Hurly Boys, while not suffering from swelled-head, are of the opinion that they can be "Johnny-on-the-spot" for a team of their weight, namely 110 pounds. Perhaps the Swiftness would care to have a look; it won't cost a cent, and the Hurly Hurly Boys' manager would likely accommodate them.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

Runaway on Lincoln Avenue Hill, in Which a Woman Was Injured. Engine Backs Into Pit—Other Happenings.

In a runaway down Lincoln avenue hill, Saturday forenoon, Mrs. Frank Wayman, of the East Side, sustained a fracture of the arm and numerous painful contusions and severe shock.

She was in a rig rented from E. J. "Parson" Lively. Her daughter and Edward Travis were with her. They were on their way to Clifford. Travis was driving. The horse began to rear before the Delaware and Hudson railroad crossing, over Lincoln avenue, was reached and continued to act wildly all the way down the hill.

Dr. W. H. Dixon and Dr. F. J. Wagner, who were nearby, attended to Mrs. Wayman. Her injuries, though not dangerous, are painful and will be somewhat slow in healing.

There was an interesting sequel to the happening. Mr. Burns gave Travis a carriage in which to convey Mrs. Wayman to her home. In the meantime, he was informed that Travis was a hard driver and was in a measure responsible for the runaway. He decided, therefore, not to allow him to drive to Clifford.

Travis came back in the evening. Though Mr. Burns was indignant at him, he took no action against Travis, feeling relieved that the outfit was returned without loss or damage.

The train attached to the route wagon of John Edwards, the Salem avenue meat dealer, gave the driver an exciting time for a few moments Saturday. The wagon was being driven through the alley, between Maple avenue and Birckett terrace, when a collision took place with a wagon that was along the driveway.

Engine No. 189 was standing on a siding in the Ontario and Western yard at Mayfield, on Saturday afternoon when several cabooses came down the track and bumped into it. There was considerable momentum to the cabooses and the engine was pushed along until the tender was shoved off into the pit of the turntable. It required the efforts of the wreck crew for two hours to reinstate the locomotive.

James May, who has been in the company's employ for years, was walking through the yard after leaving his duties, which are to look after the company's tool car. The torch he carried went out and in groping in the dark he stepped off the bank of the small stream which has worn its way through the yard at different times during the year.

As suggested before, this happening emphasizes the necessity of electrical illumination to assure the safety of workmen. The danger from moving trains is greater, but by a series of arc lights employees would be safeguarded.

It would appear that the consideration of the officials with respect to generally lighting the yard is demanded by this latest accident. The experience in other cities, where railroads are lighted by electricity, shows that the number of accidents has been appreciably reduced.

Patients Dangerously Ill. James Carden, of Scott street, father of Patrolman Patrick Carden and Constable Martin Carden, is dangerously ill of miners' asthma, from which he has suffered severe attacks lately.

George Smith, of Pike street, who has been ailing for sometime has been admitted to Emergency hospital. His illness is due to old age and to the circumstance that he lived alone and was denied the nourishing and care his condition demanded.

IS KNOWN HERE.

Recorder of Coal Strike Arbitration Committee Lectured Here.

In the press dispatches of Saturday was the following, in connection with the personnel of the arbitration committee of the coal strike:

The two assistant recorders appointed by President Roosevelt are Edward A. Mossey, secretary of the interstate commerce commission, and Charles P. Neill, vice president of the board of directors of the District of Columbia. He is also professor of political economy in the Catholic university.

Mr. Neill is known personally by quite a few Carbondalians, and he has been heard in a lecture by several hundred of our residents. The occasion was during the Knights of Columbus lecture course last winter, when Professor Neill appeared in St. Rose hall and delivered a lecture on the labor question prepared by Rev. Dr. Kirby, professor of sociology at the Catholic university of Washington.

It will be of interest to mention that Professor Neill first familiarized himself with the situation that the commission of which he is an assistant recorder will deal with, on his visit to Carbondale. He had hardly alighted from the train when he expressed the wish to enter and explore, as far as possible, a coal mine.

He was accompanied, being conducted to the Erie mine at Mayfield by the reception committee of the Knights of Columbus and a couple of newspaper men. He came a miner's coat and cap to protect his clothing, and was a most diligent visitor of a couple of hours. He piled question to the mine foreman and others of his escort, in Minister Wu fashion, and was in possession of almost all the information of the mine men, and sought some of which they knew not.

Young Men Returning to Their Former Positions in Carbondale. Casper Weidner has returned to his home in Simpson after a month in the bituminous field about Cartersville, Ill. He left here for the west with David G. Morgan, Fred Wagner and son, Fred. Mr. Weidner states that he left his companions in the best of health and spirits. They intend to remain in Illinois indefinitely, as they have paying jobs in the coal workings there.

Henry McKenna, Hubert Gerrity and John Hoffman returned Saturday evening from Schenectady, N. Y., where they had been employed in the electrical works during the strike.

McKenna is active among the football players in this city. He was half-back on the High school team last season and a substitute on the Carbondale Indians. His return is a timely one, as a place will be readily found for him in the ranks of the local pigskin buffers.

David Batebridge and David Watson, both of Belmont street, returned to Carbondale, Saturday night, from Rochester, N. Y., where they were shortly after the strike was declared. They were associated in the insurance business with Edward Coddington, formerly of this city. They will remain in Carbondale, taking up the work which they had abandoned when the miners ceased operations.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S BLAZE.

Prompt Interference Checks Fire in Cotler's Plumbing Shop.

A quantity of oakum, ignited by the spark of a candle, produced quite a fire in the plumbing shop of J. B. Cotler on Salem avenue early Saturday evening, and so alarmed Mr. Cotler that he hurriedly turned in an alarm from box 21, Main street and Salem avenue. Prompt action on the part of Cotler's neighbors quenched the fire and put it out before the arrival of the hose companies.

Mr. Cotler went to the upper floor in quest of some article, carrying a lighted candle. A spark must have dropped into the oakum, for when Mr. Cotler turned to leave he discovered the material ablaze. Realizing that flammable stuff like oakum is a dangerous factor in a fire, he hastened to summon the hose companies. In the meantime, Glycerine Wagon and Joseph Powderly hastened from the laundry a few doors away and with a blanket and a few buckets of water put the lively blaze out of business. The damage was trifling.

A DELIGHTFUL EVENT.

The entertainment of the New Literary club by Mrs. L. A. Bassett on Friday evening was a delightful event, the guests being most hospitably cared for by their hostess and deriving a good deal of pleasure and instruction from the talk of Miss Annie Maginnis Earle, of Philadelphia, who described "Old London." The club voted to adopt "Little Journeys Through the British Isles" as a general theme for the club's winter meetings.

DON'T DELAY.

It is "Putting Off" Till Some Other Day that Causes so Many Sudden Deaths.

If its for the kidneys, liver, bladder or blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, or the weaknesses peculiar to women, the most efficient medicine known to the medical profession is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and a very simple way to find out if you need it, is to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky, cloudy appearance, if it is ropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following: "It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, but a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy,' have entirely removed the malady."

"Favorite Remedy" speedily cures such dangerous symptoms as pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, burning scalding pain in passing water, the staining of linen by your urine. It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Baby Clothes

Any store can say it has the finest baby clothes, but not every store can back up the statement with things like these:

Black Dress Goods

Some fine imported black goods, by an accident of trade, have just come to us to be sold for a half to two-thirds of the usual prices.

Men's Dress Shirts

They have a trade-mark on them that is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific and is a guarantee of good material and good make.

Tailored Suits

For women, built partly on Paris ideas, partly on our own designs and partly on the suggestions made by our customers, are arriving now nearly every day.

Particular Men

Often find here many exclusive things from abroad—things that are off the beaten track.

Corduroy

Take a dark blue or pale castor colored corduroy, make it up with a seven-gored flaring skirt and a blouse or Norfolk jacket—perhaps with plain velvet collar and cuffs—and you will have one of the prettiest possible walking suits for this winter.

Since velvet and velveteen came into favor with such a jump everything related to them is growing popular, too.

Because we've said blue or castor don't think those are the only colors to choose from—there's everything from black to white; from pale blue and pink to deep moss green.

Women who aren't buying them for suits are getting them for shirtwaists.

75 Cents a Yard.

Wonderful Towel Value

Hemmed Huckaback Towels, size 17x34 inches; 9c. each, or $1.00 by the dozen. The lowest price ever quoted by any house for this grade of towels.

It isn't given off hand—we have been consulting for months with the greatest furriers of the world.

All-Wool Serge, 50c Yard

Women who want moderate-priced stuff for skirts and gowns couldn't get anything better than this. The wool is clean scoured, soft and fine. It has the weight that is lacking in most 50c. goods. Not another maker in the country turns out anything to compare with this in price and quality. 12 colors.

Fall Shirt Waists

Everyday waists are just as "best" this fall. They show all the little touches that make for grace and attractiveness and a distinctly feminine style.

But while elaborate blouses are made of Louise, and soft silks and crepe de chine, the everyday waist comes in sturdier and warmer materials.

Most every kind here that a woman could want.

Sash Curtain Materials

Favorites with most housekeepers, sash curtains are pretty trimming in the room as well as screens from out-doors.

All the crisp, fresh, thin stuffs for sash curtains are ready, at the time housekeepers are wanting them.
