REPUBLICAN RALLY ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Hon. Sereno E. Payne, Chairman of Ways and Means Committee, and Major Everett Warren, of Scranton, to Be the Speakers at the Grand.

Republicans of Carbondale and vicinity welcome with enthusiasm the announcement of the rally scheduled for the Grand opera house on Saturday night of this week.

The fact that this will be the first Republican rally in Carbondale and the only mass meeting in this city during this campaign, will be eagerly seized by Carbondalians as an opportunity of displaying their feeling of confidence in party success and victory this November election.

All that the most enthusiastic voter might wish for in telling campaign oratory will be gratified. The speakers will be Hon. Sereno E. Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of congress, and Major Everett Warren, of Scranton, whose incisive talks have more than once aroused audiences hereabouts.

Mr. Payne comes with a rarely well-informed mind, with a spirit of eloquence to make effective what he will impart. In the invitation to the public, women are cordially invited to come to the opera house to hear the eloquent and interesting talks which should be of interest and value to them, as well as their husbands and sons.

The candidates for county offices will be present at the rally.

ON FULL TIME.

Delaware and Hudson Mines Are Working to the Limit.

It's a long time since there was such activity in the mine workings of the Delaware and Hudson in this city as on the past two days.

The mines are now on full time and are being worked to the limit. The order to change from three-quarters to full time was received just as the miners were coming out of their places Monday night. Though some of them were on their way home, the order to get out all the coal possible was considered so imperative that it was a case of "back to the mines, and back the men went to put in the other quarter of a day.

It is being illustrated anew these days how far the mines and collieries in this vicinity engage labor that is available. At the Hendricks and the Carbondale Machine companies' plants there is such a scarcity of laborers since the strike that it was found necessary to increase the wages of laborers to ten cents a day, in one of the shops, as a premium.

But even with this expedient, enough laborers cannot be secured. The same is true in the experience of builders and contractors. It is almost a hardship to get men to do the work of laborers; all seem to have returned to the mines.

There are numerous cases of dissatisfaction and discontent among the miners of Forest City, because of the retention of non-union men in the positions they held during the strike. There is a possibility of some action looking towards redress among the union employees.

AFTER THIRTY YEARS.

William McHale Visits Carbondale After Prospering in the West.

William McHale, a former Carbondalian, step-brother of ex-Secretary of State William H. Taft, is visiting in this city after an absence of thirty years.

Mr. McHale left here in early manhood and has prospered amid the land of opportunities in Utah which is now his home. He is the owner of numerous mineral tracts, some of which are rich in copper and will "His Offers" are they are developed. One mine peculiarly named, "The Hired Girl," has of itself, made him a wealthy man. His possessions, however, were not the gift of chance. When he first went west, Mr. McHale labored hard and long and was employed for some time on the Union Pacific railroad, which was then being fastened to the earth to unite the Coast with the West. His keenness, his good judgment, his industry, patience and perseverance brought him the modest fortune which is now his.

Mr. McHale has those sturdy characteristics found in a man who has grown with a country from its state of wild freedom. He is full of wit and humor and in renewing acquaintances of the days when Carbondale was but a score of years a city, he offers society that is companionable and highly enjoyable. He will be here for a few weeks. The numerous friends of Mr. McHale, who may not have greeted him since his return, will be pleased to learn of his good fortune.

Anthracite in Susquehanna. The Susquehanna Transcript describes as follows the transit of the first train of anthracite through the town of hills after the coal strike:

"Fifty-seven cars of anthracite coal, the first to pass over the Jefferson division since the ending of the miners' strike, reached this place Saturday evening. Conductor Fay was in charge of the train. They came unheralded and unannounced, else the populace would have turned out en masse, the band would have played, and the new-comers would have been tendered the freedom of the city."

REFORMATION DAY AND MITCHELL DAY

Notice from Rev. F. Ehinger on Lutheran Church Observance.

To The Tribune: Reformation and Thanksgiving day in St. Paul's Lutheran church coincidentally fall on the same day, this year, as John Mitchell day.

On the occasion of our monthly Wilkes-Barre German conference's private circle there will be this evening, beginning at 7.30, the following:

Thanksgiving services to God Almighty for his blessings, spiritual and temporal, especially for a rich crop, for holding body and soul together, also the warming of the fireside by ridding the coal strike, through the magnanimous efforts of our beloved President Roosevelt and President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers.

The following pastors, Rev. J. W. Randolph and Rev. J. Wilke, of Scranton, and Rev. Behrends, of Honesdale, will deliver addresses. The Petersburg choir will also be present and will render an appropriate programme of vocal music.

A collection in silver coin will prove the readiness of the congregation to meet a bank note now due, given last year to free the church from its mortgage encumbrance. "Deeds and not vague pious words" should be our motto.

At the end of the services, A. Gerhardt, secretary of the church, will be ready in the vestry of the church to accept the ballots of the members of the church for one trustee in place of A. Protzsch, whose term of office has expired. The candidates are J. Branch and Frank Rommelshymer. A majority is necessary to elect. The wives of members are entitled to hand in the votes of their husbands to the secretary, who will count them in the election.

We have many reasons for our thanksgivings, as the attitude of our strikers, though true to their cause, was one of dignity to them, and made us feel that we were not in the strike region at all. All credit to their coolness, but through of position. God bless us all!

Rev. F. Ehinger, Pastor St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

TO-DAY'S PARADE.

A Big Demonstration of United Labor Is Expected—The Formation and the Line of March—Letter from Local Ministers.

Arrangements for today's demonstration, in honor of John Mitchell day, were completed yesterday, and at this stage only the assurance of fair weather is needed to realize the sanguine expectations that the occasion will be memorable in the history of organized labor in this vicinity.

Only Carbondale locals of the United Mine Workers will be in line. It was hoped that the Vandling and Mayfield miners would join with their brethren in Carbondale in observing the day. There is disappointment, however, as the former will take part in the Forest City demonstration, and the Mayfield miners will parade in Jersey.

The unions of mechanics and tradesmen affiliated with the Central Labor union will be out in force. It is promised, and will have the right of line. They are requested to report to the grand marshal at the place of formation.

WHY STAY PALE. A pity to see pale girls stay pale and dull when it is so easy to get Scott's Emulsion.

One of the best things Scott's Emulsion does is to give rich blood to pale girls.

The result of regular doses of Scott's Emulsion is an increase not only in the red color of the blood and in the appetite but in the good looks and bright manners which are the real charm of perfect health.

Radical Socialist Speaker from Kansas Says Tart Things.

If there is anything to boast of in the distinction of being the most radical speaker ever heard in Carbondale on Socialism, then Frank P. O'Hare, of Kansas City, Mo., can enjoy this distinction.

Mr. O'Hare was at the Academy of Music last night sharing the platform with J. W. Slaton, of New Castle, Socialist candidate for governor of Pennsylvania. J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, President Baer, of the Reading railroad, were put on the rack and given a flaying for their attempted ownership of the earth, that

According to Mr. O'Hare's point of view. According to the speaker, we cannot say "My Country 'Tis of Thee," until we have another bonfire such as was kindled in the revolutionary war to destroy the charter rights of King George. The new bonfire, which will be a bigger one, will destroy the charter rights handed down through all the ages and now held by Morgan, Rockefeller, et al. We might also chant the words of freedom when every man is allowed to labor in "God's Workshop and Not in the Factory of Morgan."

According to Mr. O'Hare under present economic conditions we are all slaves. The man who controls the means that provide the necessities of life, likewise owns the souls of those who work for him.

Socialism, he warmly recommended, and with a good deal of fervor, is the crackjack remedy for all these ills and evils and he declared the movement to be the greatest religious, political and economic ever conceived and carried on.

Mr. O'Hare frankly admitted he was a radical, a fact that was quite patent and clear without directing one's attention to it.

Mr. Slaton gave a conservative talk which clearly presented the arguments of Socialism.

Bill Franz Greets Carbondalians. William F. Franz, of Scranton, familiarly known to a legion of close friends as Bill Franz, was in Carbondale yesterday in the interest of his candidacy for county commissioner, on an independent ticket.

Mr. Franz has enjoyed the warm friendship of a host of Carbondalians for years, and everywhere yesterday he was received with cordial greetings and kind words of encouragement.

Killed a 'Coon. Lawrence Malone, the barber, and James Loughlin spent Monday in Munson's woods, beyond Farview, in search of game. The winged trophies were scarce, but the day was not without results, as they killed a raccoon.
