COMMISSION IS COMING HERE

MEMBERS ARE EXPECTED TO ARRIVE TODAY.

Not Known How They Will Proceed to Their Task, but It is Quite Possible No Testimony Will Be Taken Until After a Tour of the Region Has Been Made--Mines Are Getting Out More Than 75 Per Cent. of Their Normal Capacity.

The members of the coal strike commission, which begins its investigations here tomorrow morning, will arrive this evening and take quarters at the Jermyn, Thomas H. Watkins, at whose suggestion the commission will begin its work by visiting the coal fields, will return from Washington this morning and arrange the necessary preliminaries. Just how the commission will go about its work has not as yet been learned. All that is known is that it will make a tour of the anthracite region to acquaint themselves with the physical features of coal mining and then sit at some central place, probably Wilkes-Barre or Scranton, to hear evidence from the miners' side. After that they will come sessions in New York, Philadelphia or Washington, to hear the operators' statements and to frame their report.

Gathering Material. The companies, through their local superintendents, and the miners, through the officers of their union, are hard at work gathering material for the statements to be presented to the commission. District President Nichols, of the miners, is being assisted by four amanuenses in collecting the material to be forwarded from this region for use in National President Mitchell's statement.

After the commissioners compare the mine or more of facts and figures likely to be presented by both sides, the situation will be perfectly clear to them, maybe.

The five big coal companies, having their headquarters in Scranton, are now getting out more than seventy-five per cent of their normal output. The output for Monday was 65,000 tons, which is only 25,000 tons less than what is ordinarily produced. The following table compiled from figures secured at the companies' offices shows the normal output of each company, the tonnage for Monday, the number of mines owned by each company and the number at which no work is being done:

Table with 4 columns: Company, Output, Mines, Idle. Rows include D. L. & W., Erie, D. & H., G. & W., Temple.

The output yesterday will exceed that of Monday by fully five thousand tons, it is estimated. The Delaware and Hudson company got two new places going yesterday, the Ludlow and the new mine on only three places idle, the Laurel Run, Plymouth No. 5 and Baltimore slope. All the companies increased their forces and most places are practically working full-handed.

Number at Work.

About 85 per cent. of the old employees are back at work, according to the statements of the companies' representatives. District President Nichols says the proportion still remaining idle at 20 per cent. These percentages both include the men who were employed at places that have not as yet resumed. It is confidently expected that every colliery in the valley excepting the Hallstead and Richmond No. 3, which is being repaired, will have started up before the end of the week and that practically all the old hands will be back in their places. It will probably be ten days or two weeks before the normal output will be reached.

All the companies will attempt to work their collieries today, though it is likely few, if any, places can be operated, because of the determination of the men to take a day off to celebrate Mitchell day, the anniversary of the ending of the 1900 strike. The companies have received no notice from the men that they do not intend to work. District President Nichols, of the United Mine Workers, stated that no notice had been sent out by the union against the observance of Mitchell day this year, but everybody concerned has notice of it, he said, through the action of the Shamokin convention, two years ago, prescribing that October 29 each year should be an idle day.

The fact that the mines should be thrown idle unnecessarily just at this time is a source of much regret to the companies.

Reports Not True. The reported discharge of alleged incompetent non-union engineers at the Continental and the Storrs No. 1 collieries of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western companies and the substitution of the old union employees proves to be untrue. In one instance all the old engineers continued at work. In the other there was no such incident as reported.

Colonel H. A. Coursen, ex-commander of the Thirtieth, has been appointed by Governor Stone to take the vote of the Thirtieth, if the regiment is in camp on election day. The fact that such an appointment was made tends to the belief that there is at least no present intention to order the Thirtieth home this week, as was rumored Monday.

Visitors will be admitted to the Thirtieth regiment camp tomorrow from 12:30 to 3:30 p. m. There will be guard mount at 1 o'clock, followed by a band concert. Dress parade will take place at 4 o'clock.

ONLY ONE SELECTION MADE YESTERDAY

Charles Burns, of Vandling, Chooses a Scholarship in Newton Collegiate Institute.

Only one more scholarship was chosen yesterday in the awarding of The Tribune's prizes to the successful contestants.

Charles Burns, of Vandling, selected Scholarship No. 8, a two years' course in the Newton Collegiate Institute and Military Academy, at Newton, N. J., covering tuition, board, furnished room, heat, light and washing. This scholarship is worth $720.

Four scholarships have in all been chosen, as follows:

- 1. A. J. Kellerman, Keystone Academy. 2. Maxwell Shepherd, Williamsport Dickinson Seminary. 3. Oscar H. Kipp, Dickinson Collegiate Preparatory School. 4. Charles Burns, Newton Military Academy.

Several of the fortunate contestants wrote letters yesterday to The Tribune. Three of them are given below:

The Scranton Tribune, Scranton, Pa., Gentlemen: I was agreeably surprised on learning that I was so fortunate as to secure second place in the Educational Contest. It had always been the height of my ambition to get an education, and especially so since leaving school, three years ago, to go to work, made necessary by force of circumstances; but have made best of my opportunity in the meantime, studying considerable at night, hoping that the way might some time offer for me to add to my education through a college.

Now that my desire is about to be realized, I can scarcely believe that it is true. The Tribune has opened the way for me to get that education, and I shall endeavor to enter college next fall. The Tribune should certainly be commended for these meritorious contests, for many a young man gets an education through them that could do so in no other way--I believe that is so in my case.

Now, while I have been very fortunate in securing the scholarship I had in mind, yet, had I finished further down the list, I should have been equally happy if every one of my contest friends receive the particular scholarship they may have looked forward to; but if they do not, they should remember that in a contest of this kind some must necessarily meet disappointment, and that, "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Mr. Kellerman, having made his choice of the scholarships, I am delighted to select the Williamsport Dickinson Seminary as my choice, which I now do, considering it best adapted to my wants. I wish Mr. Kellerman and the rest of the contestants every success possible, and most heartily thank The Tribune for the meritorious contest prize and the above scholarship. I am certainly one of the two happiest boys in Carbondale today.

Hoping for the continued success of The Tribune, I remain, Very truly yours, Maxwell Shepherd. Carbondale, Pa.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 28, 1902. The Tribune Publishing Company--Gentlemen: I wish to thank my friends who so kindly assisted me in your recent Educational Contest, through the interesting columns of The Tribune. I also wish to thank you for the wonderful help to me, I may not secure what I aimed for--a musical scholarship--but whatever may fall to me will amply repay me for my pleasant employment.

I am sure we all appreciate your kindness and will never cease to be grateful. Yours respectfully, Edna Coleman. 218 Spruce street.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 25. The Tribune Publishing Company--Gentlemen: I desire to thank most heartily my many friends who so willingly and kindly assisted me in the Educational Contest conducted by The Tribune. SHOT AT BY ANGRY MOTHER

ALMOST A TRAGEDY IN ALDERMAN RUDDY'S OFFICE.

Mrs. Declan Kenealy Shot Point-Blank at Thomas Downs, a Married Man, Who Had Been Arrested on a Charge of Criminally Assaulting Her 17-Year-Old Daughter. Bullet Narrowly Missed Him--She Was Disarmed Before She Could Fire a Second Shot.

A mother's anger over an alleged assault on her 17-year-old daughter, resulted in an attempted murder in Alderman M. J. Ruddy's office yesterday afternoon, and but for the prompt action of Constable J. M. Sheffield, a much different story might have to be told.

A shot from a revolver in the hand of Mrs. Declan Kenealy just grazed Thomas Downs' head, and lodged in the wall beside him. As the woman was raising her arm for a second shot, Sheriff caught her, of her and wrenched the weapon from her hand.

The shooting was the outcome of an alleged criminal assault by Downs on Johannah, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenealy. Downs resides with his wife on Leveque street, in South Scranton, and left his home on Monday morning to look after some coal he had picked.

He says he passed by the Kenealy home and spoke to the members of the family, and shortly afterwards the girl came along the road in the direction in which Downs was going, and asked him if he would show her where to obtain some empty cans to use as flower pots.

Downs says he pointed out a place to her, and did not notice her again until he was returning home. Later in the day Mrs. Kenealy went to the Downs home and told Mrs. Downs that the girl accused Downs of committing an assault on her.

When Downs returned home his wife asked him about what had happened and he denied the accusation, and offered to call in a physician to examine the girl. In the evening Mrs. W. E. Dugan, of the Associated Board of Charities, was informed of the circumstances.

She went to the Kenealy home, and learned from the parents that the girl is weak-minded, and advised them to stop the matter, and send the girl to the Hillside Home. It was apparent to her, however, that the parents were considerably wrought up over the alleged assault and believed the girl's story.

This left an open space between Mrs. Kenealy and Downs, over a chair and the railing separating them. As soon as Mrs. Downs changed her seat, Mrs. Kenealy sprang to her feet, and walking a few steps towards Downs, drew a 32-calibre revolver from her breast, and fired point-blank at him.

During all this, not a word was spoken on either side, but when the shot rang out, everything was in the room screamed, and Constable Sheffield, who was sitting a few feet away from where Mrs. Kenealy sat, sprang forward and caught the woman's arm as she was about to fire the second shot.

He disarmed her, and later handed the revolver over to the alderman. It contained five cartridges and one empty shell. The ball fired lodged in the wall an inch or two from Downs' head, and the plastering fell on his shoulder. He was not injured, but was frightened so badly that he almost collapsed.

The father of the girl deplored the bad aim his wife had, and made threats to kill Downs. The mother also threatened to shoot him on the first opportunity that offers itself.

Downs caused the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Kenealy for attempting to kill him and making threats to kill. Owing to the excitement, Kenealy, his wife and Downs were sent to police headquarters to await hearings. The girl threatened to kill herself if her mother was sent to jail, but was persuaded not to do so.

The hearing in both cases will be conducted by Alderman Ruddy in his office this morning.

HANDY WITH HIS GUN.

James Gibbons, of Mudtown, Committed to Jail. James Gibbons, of Mudtown, who was arrested Monday evening on South Washington avenue, for being drunk and flourishing a revolver, was sent to jail yesterday for 29 days in default of a fine of $5.

He was found lying near the Delaware and Hudson Railroad tracks at Elm street, by a number of boys, and when they attempted to assist him to a place of safety, he pulled a revolver and threatened to shoot the boys. They restrained him and turned him over to Patrolman Connerly and Walsh.
