Marriage of Miss Mable M. Boldry to William Seagreves, at the Home of Her Parents Last Evening.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Boldry, of 1207 Academy street, when their daughter, Miss Mable M. Boldry, was united in marriage to William Seagreves, of 231 Chestnut street.

At 8:30 o'clock, to the sweet strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, as played by Miss Valdo Griffiths, the bride party entered the parlor, and before a bank of palms and cut flowers they were met by Rev. John P. Moffatt, D. D., of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church, who united them in marriage. "O Promise Me" was played as a recessional.

Miss Minnie A. Boldry, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, while Charles DeBow was best man. Miss Beulah Griffin was flower girl. The bride was becomingly attired in gray silk tulle, over gray silk, trimmed with real lace, and carried bridal roses of white. Her maid was gowned in old rose satin tulle, and carried pink roses. The bride's traveling dress was a tailor-made gown of blue.

The ushers were Charles Boldry, brother of the bride, and Roy Killam. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held, and later a beautiful wedding supper was served by Caterer Mrs. Luke Moffatt, of Pittston. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, among them being a Morris chair from the "Crystal Hose company," where the groom is employed, and a set of Haviland china from the Columbia Hose company, where he was formerly employed.

Late last evening Mr. and Mrs. Seagreves left via the Delaware and Hudson for an extended wedding trip to Philadelphia and through Delaware. On their return they will reside in a newly furnished home at 128 South Everett avenue. The bride is a well-known and popular West Side young lady, while the groom is one of the valued permanent men at the "Crystal hose house. Both have a host of friends who wish them every happiness.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. S. T. Towlers and Miss Pearl Hess, of Honesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ackerman, of Chesapeake; the Honorable Miss Blanche Dolph, of Clark's Summit, and Mrs. C. E. Seagreves and daughter, Tessie, of Phillipsburg, N. J.

Jones-Emanuel.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones, of 1612 Jackson street, last evening occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Leah Jones, to Morgan Emanuel, of Pittsburg. The home was beautifully decorated with palms, potted plants and cut flowers.

At 8:30 o'clock, as Garfield Davis played the Mendelssohn wedding march, the contracting parties, unattended, appeared and passing into the parlor, they were met by Rev. T. A. Humphreys, of the Plymouth Congregational church, who, under a canopy of palms and flowers, spoke the solemn words that united them.

The bride was gowned in blue tulle, trimmed with white silk and applique, and carried bridal roses of white. At the conclusion of the ceremony, congratulations and a wedding supper were in order. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful tokens of the friendship and esteem in which they are held by a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel will leave this morning for Plymouth, the former home of the groom, where a reception will be tendered them this evening. On Saturday they will leave for Pittsburg, their future home, where the groom is employed. The wedding was a very quiet affair only the immediate friends and relatives being present. Miss Jones has a host of friends who will deeply regret her departure from the city.

The out of town guests were: Mrs. Samuel Powell and family, of Plymouth; Misses Lizzie and Mary Emanuel and Reese Emanuel, of Pittsburg; Albert Merritt and Joseph Donnelly, of Plymouth, and Miss Anna Montabelle, of Pittston.

Open Window Club.

The Open Window club of St. Brendan's church, Y. M. C., held their second annual social in Mears' hall last evening. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the national emblem, and cut flowers, the object being almost hidden behind a bank of palms and potted plants.

The members of the club are royal entertainers and the hall was crowded with the representative young people of West Scranton and the central city.

Hauser, who took a leading part in the affair.

A donation by Fred Keukes was also well received, while the zither duets of Messrs. Schroedel and Masel were all that could be desired. Others who contributed to the pleasant affair were Mrs. Edwin Ambrust, A. W. Noll, Joseph J. Johler, Mrs. F. S. Hauser and Mrs. John Schroedel.

Basket Ball News.

The undefeated Defenders basketball team will open the season in St. John's hall this evening, and will have as opponents the Twentieth Century basketball team, who also have headquarters at this place.

The champions have made no change of consequence in the players who defeated all comers last season, and they will struggle as determinedly as ever to preserve their record, so that tonight's game will be worth seeing.

The Metropolitan team, also of this side, invited the Defenders, of Providence, to a game Tuesday evening, and the invitation was eagerly accepted. As the Providence boys stood near the top of the list last year, they expected to have an easy thing, but they were mistaken, and when the smoke of battle cleared away the score stood: Metropolitan, 16; Defenders, 14. It was a lively, interesting game from start to finish, with the score favoring first one side and then the other. The players lined up as follows:

M. Coyne.....center.....Mulla Connolly.....right forward.....Gilgallon P. Coyne.....left forward.....Gilberds Padden.....right guard.....King Padden.....left guard.....Ruddy

IT IS DOUBTFUL

If Local Applications Alone Ever Cured a Case of Catarrh.

Most remedies for the treatment of catarrh are in the form of sprays, inhalers, powders, washes or salves, all purely local applications, and many of them often give temporary relief, but the reason none of them ever really cure chronic catarrh is because catarrh is not a local disease and it cannot be cured simply by treating the local symptoms.

Moreover the more serious forms of catarrh, like catarrh of the stomach and catarrh of the bronchial tubes, cannot be reached at all by local applications and the fact that neglected catarrh of the head very soon involves the bronchial tubes, stomach and liver, demonstrates that the disease is a blood disorder, a constitutional malady and not at all a local disease.

To really cure catarrh the system must be cleansed from catarrhal poison by an internal remedy which acts effectively upon the blood and liver.

The success of a new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is because it drives out of the system, through natural channels, the catarrhal poison and the mucous secretion is not furnished from healthy blood.

The excess of a new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is because it drives out of the system, through natural channels, the catarrhal poison and the mucous secretion is not furnished from healthy blood.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain many of the same valuable antiseptics used in sprays and inhalers, but instead of being applied to the inflamed membranes of the nose and throat, they are taken into the stomach and thus reach the blood, the real seat and cause of the disease.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, composed of Charles Bismarck, Bloodroot, and similar catarrh specifics, and so safe to use that little children suffering from colds take them with the same beneficial results as adult persons.

No trace of cocaine or opiates, so common in catarrh medicines, can be found in Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

After the installation services a social session was held in honor of the grand officers and many visitors from other lodges. Rev. Charles H. Newing acted as toastmaster and interesting speeches were delivered by Judge Young, Charles Bismarck, Henry H. Grand, District Deputy Harris, ex-District Deputy George W.
