VICTORY IS NOW ASSURED

REPUBLICAN MANAGERS CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS.

Close of the Campaign Finds Chairman Taylor and His Committee-men Satisfied That There Is No Possibility of a Republican Candidate Being Defeated—Two Meetings on the South Side and One at Archbold Mines Tonight—Meetings at Dunmore and North End.

Probably never before in the history of the county did the Republican approach an election with the assurance of victory that fills the managers of the campaign which closes today. County Chairman Taylor said yesterday that there is no possibility of any Republican being defeated, and in this he voiced the sentiment of every man on the committee. The half-hearted, unorganized campaign of the Democrats, while largely responsible for the conditions of which this assurance is now so wholly responsible. The well-directed, hard, earnest work of the Republican managers and candidates proved simply irresistible. Success had to result. Tomorrow will record a big, well-earned victory.

The good work to be kept up until the very last minute. It is not proposed to allow over-confidence to produce laxity. There is to be no taking anything for granted.

Tonight meetings are to be held in South Scranton and at the Archbold mines. One of the South Scranton meetings will be at Workingmen's hall and the other at Athletic hall. M. W. Lowry, R. A. Zimmerman and Hon. John R. Farr will address the meeting, and Hon. James Moir, John M. Harris and John F. Scragg, the latter. The Archbold mines meeting will be addressed at Jayne's hall by District Attorney W. R. Lewis, Deputy Attorney General Frederic W. Fleitz and John Fern.

Meeting at Dunmore.

A very successful Republican mass meeting, attended by fully 600 voters, was held in Odd Fellows' hall, Dunmore, Saturday night. Addresses were made by ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives John R. Farr, John M. Harris and Hon. Jerry Snyder, of Allentown.

Seated on the platform in addition to the speakers were Attorney H. C. Hubler, who presided; Judge A. A. Vosburg, E. W. Bishop, Dr. J. C. Bateson, James H. Young, Dan Powell and W. S. Jones. In introducing the speakers, Chairman Hubler urged upon the voters the need of electing a Republican congress, that the hands of President Roosevelt may be supported in carrying out the great principles of the Republican party.

Mr. Farr, the first speaker, raised the enthusiasm to the highest pitch by his earnest words in showing the utter fallacy of the claims of the Democrats. Mr. Pattison's regard for the wage-earner was clearly shown by his veto of the mechanics' lien bill, introduced by Mr. Farr, which was intended to give the mechanic the same protection in securing his pay for work done as is now enjoyed by the contractor.

Narrow Gaged Statesman.

Mr. Farr gave it as his opinion, an opinion formed after several years of active contact, that Robert E. Pattison is the most narrow-gaged statesman before the public today. As an instance of this he referred to his twice vetoing the compulsory education bill introduced by Mr. Farr in both sessions of the legislature held during Mr. Pattison's term as governor. The results following the enactment of that law under the Republican administration have certainly shown it to have been a measure much to be desired and aptly illustrates the general policy of the Democratic party of standing still and finding fault with those who believe things and do things for the good of the citizens of this commonwealth.

Mr. Farr said that in spite of the noise and wild talk of the stand-still party, Pennsylvania is the best governed state in the Union today, and he gave facts and figures to support his claim. He closed with an earnest appeal to those present to vote the straight Republican ticket on Tuesday and show to the world that the Keystone state is still the Gibraltar of Republicanism and was not unappreciative of the great work recently done by Theodore Roosevelt.

Mr. Harris' Address.

John M. Harris was next introduced and made one of his characteristic speeches in which he severely arraigned the policies and general do-nothings of the Democratic party. He referred to the tariff question now being reviewed by the false prophet, Grover Cleveland, and urged his hearers not to forget the parties and depression that have always followed in the foot step of Democratic meddling with the tariff question, or indeed any matter with which they meddle.

JUDGE VOSBURG REPLIES TO SKULKING ASSAILANTS

Editor of The Tribune—

Sir: A man who sneaks himself behind a signature of a "Lawyer," or "Citizen," and who does not dare to sign his name like a snake in the grass, which strikes unseen, and usually such an attack would be entirely ignored, I feel, however, that it is due to myself, and to the honorable position in which I have been placed by appointment, to reply in a very few words to the malicious and unwarranted attack which has been made upon me. Taking these matters up in detail, I speak, first, of the amount of the voters' bills against the city. As these bills were all approved by the court, and by the joint auditing committees of the councils, before the suits upon them were referred, no possible defence could have been made against them. As to the honesty and integrity of the voters, which is called into question by these communications, such men as D. J. Campbell, Robert J. Murray, esq., James J. Manley, and others, are fully able to defend themselves.

Second—As to the referee, I never suggested the name of the referee in any of these cases; and I see no reason why, as the representative of the city, I should object to Mr. Dawson. He was not the only attorney to whom cases were referred, and I did not object to others being named.

Third—As to the necessity for a referee. There was no appropriation available to pay these bills; they were upon interest; they were valid claims, having been approved by the court. Yet I was informed by counsel that the banks would not purchase them unless judgment was obtained, and was asked to refer them for the purpose of making them non-contestible, and, therefore, negotiable. To this I assented as a matter of courtesy, and also of duty to the claimants, knowing that the city could not possibly be injured thereby.

Fourth—As to the authority given me by the councils to confess judgment. This only applied to suits brought to recover the share of the city of the cost of sewer construction, and not to voters' bills. I did confess judgment to A. H. Coons & Son, and to every other such claimant who was willing to take a judgment by confession; but Attorney M. P. Donohoe asked me to refer the cases of Donohoe & O'Boyle against the city, stating that the parties whom he represented were not satisfied that a judgment by confession would be valid. To meet this objection, and in compliance with this request, I agreed to refer these cases.

Fifth—As to the effect of the references upon the city. The city was saved cost by these references in every case, as the cost of an arbitration, or of a trial in court, which would be taxed against the city, would far exceed the cost taxed in the case of a reference.

Sixth—As to the effect upon the country. It is cheaper for the county to pay the referee, than to pay the jurors, and the other expenses incident to a trial in court. No case can be referred without the consent of the court, and such consent was secured in every one of these cases. Many cases are referred at every term of court.

Seventh—As to the amount of the bills of the referee. These bills were approved by the attorneys on both sides, by the county solicitor in most cases, and by one of the judges of the court of common pleas in every case. It can hardly be claimed that all of these parties conspired to make a raid upon the county treasury.

This is the whole matter in a nut-shell.

Sincerely yours,
—A. A. VOSBURG.

SELECTIONS MADE BY TWO CONTESTANTS

Mr. Rodriguez and Mr. Sherwood have chosen Bucknell and Syracuse, respectively.

Two more selections have been made by the successful contestants in The Tribune's Educational Contest. William T. S. Rodriguez was particularly anxious to enter Bucknell university, but owing to his age and not being sufficiently advanced in his studies, it was necessary to communicate with the university officials to ascertain if they would be willing to extend the time of entering. The president was out of town and considerable delay was caused, as the question could not be decided until his return. Yesterday, however, the following telegram was received:

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 1, 1902.
Tribune, Scranton:

You may award scholarship to party named in your letter of Wednesday, as you request. James R. Day.

This brings the selection down to the young man in eighth place, Albert Freedman, of Bellevue, who will probably make a selection today.

POLICE COURT CASES.

William Ayers, of Plymouth, drunk and disorderly, was committed for twenty days in default of a $5 fine.

THE FUTURE OF OUR REPUBLIC

SUBJECT OF A TALK BY MRS. MARY HUNT OF BOSTON.

Strict Enforcement of Compulsory Educational Laws Needed, and a Discontinuance of the Landing of Immigrants Until These Now in This Country Are Educated and Americanized—Predicts That the Saloon Must Perish or the Republic Will—Saloon The Greatest Evil.

An exceptionally large audience greeted Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, of Boston, at the Elm Park M. E. church, last evening, to hear her speak on the subject, "The Future of Our Republic." She is the world and national superintendent of Scientific Instruction of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and delivered several lectures before the county teachers' institute in this city last week.

"One of the greatest enemies of self government is the saloon and all the evils it represents, and either the saloon must perish or the republic will perish," she said. "The perpetuity of our government depends upon the character of our people and there is no influence which destroys more rapidly than the alcohol influence. It is a narcotic poison, which, taken in small parts, has power to create a disease for more, and thus destroys and deadens the brain power.

"There is a marked increase, however, in the number of temperate workmen, and this can be attributed to the influence of the public schools on them. There is also a marked increase of the habits of other nations on us, and while this is truly a land of liberty and a home of the oppressed, we are the oppressed by reason of the habits of others who come to our shores.

"The hour has come when we should say it is time to educate and Americanize those who are now among us before others are allowed to come. We also need a more careful observance of the temperance educational laws, because the alcoholic habit is the most dangerous element to our republic.

"God has given us abundant resources and there is no other nation which has such a future or so much wealth as ours, but we ought to shut our gates for awhile and educate the people in this country now before permitting others to land."

Mrs. Hunt believes the saloon will perish through the enactment and enforcement of temperance educational laws, and petitioned her hearers to exercise the power of the ballot in selecting men who will represent this idea and enact such legislation as will bring about such results. She reiterated her belief that the saloon must perish or the republic will perish.

MINE WORKERS.

Vote for Joseph Oliver.

The Republican candidate for Representative to the Legislature in the First district. As a delegate from his local union at the International convention of miners in Cincinnati, last August, he secured, by an unanimous rising vote, an appropriation of $2,000 from the burial fund (there being no money in the general fund) to aid the striking miners in their recent struggle. He is an active union man of many years standing, and will stand by the mining class in the Legislature as he has stood by them in the councils of labor at home and abroad. Judge the calibre of the candidates by their actions rather than by their talk.

WOMAN IS MISSING.

Forest City Husband Thinks His Wife Has Met with Foul Play.

On Tuesday, October 21, the young wife of Isadore Aizer, of Forest City, left her home, supposedly to go in the country for some apples, and has not since been seen. Her husband is confident that she has either been murdered or has been kidnapped, as he claims she had no possible reason for leaving home.

The woman was 26 years old and can speak no English, having been in this country but a short time. She was of medium size, with light blue eyes and with the scars of smallpox on her face. Advertisements in the Susquehanna county papers have failed to locate her.

A CORRECTION.

In Saturday's issue of The Tribune their appeared an article headed "Scranton People Invested in a Big Oil Company" wherein the amount of the capitalization by a typographical error was made to read $500,000,000 instead of $500,000. The company will be known as The Cleveland-Scranton Oil Company and has already five hundred and thirteen acres of the best oil land in Hancock county, Ohio. Upon the property there is now twenty-seven producing wells producing 250 barrels daily. One well which was shot in last Monday is producing one hundred and fifty barrels daily. There is room for seventy-five additional wells on the property which is connected with the Standard Oil Company's pipe line. Five thousand shares of stock, par value $100, will be issued. This stock on the present basis of production will net the share-holders 24 per cent. per annum.

The following gives a list of the few of the more prominent stockholders of the company: Messrs. Elmer H. Lathall, D. M. Reynolds, John Reynolds, H. C. Robinson, E. J. Lewis and M. J. Fawst, of Scranton, Pa., and Walter S. Fowler, James H. Clark, Jr., A. G. Clark, Harry A. Manchester, James A. Manchester, Frank M. Kirk, Charles H. Wellman, William B. White and Harry Jones, of Cleveland, O., and Dr. Casselberry, of Hazleton, Pa.
