untimely death was a sad blow.

"The Inner Light," was the subject | and less over the same person now than "The Inner Light," was the subject of Rev. T. A. Humphrey's sermon Sun-lay morning in the Plymouth Congregational church. His text was found in Matthew, 6:23, and in part, he spoke as follows:

This sun-like physical organ of sight, the eye, transmits light, according to the the eye, transmits light, according to the Saviour's description, to the whole body. It is practically the sun itself to us to discern physical objects. If the eye be "single," that is, sound, in a healthy condition, so as not to give blurred, double, dition, so as not to give blurred, double, or any imperfect visions, it supplies the whole body with light in fitting degrees and proportions. No other sense, although exquisitely perfect, can perform the functions of the eye. The sum is the eye of heaven, and the eye is the sun of the body.

As to the soul, this organ of sight is the eye of reason, the eye of affection, the earthly treasures in a false light, with an "evil" eye, presenting ignis fatuus, and store the soul, this organ of sight is the eye of reason, the eye of affection, the eye of conscience. The physical eye is an instrument of the mind to reveal physical objects, and through them as mediums to exhibit God. The eye of reason, or our moral nature, can see God, and that with exhibit God. The eye of reason, or our moral nature, can see God, and that with greater clearness and perfection and certainty than the bodily eye can see any earthly object and more still, this spiritual eye can be hold the attributes of God. his natural and moral attributes. It can see his omniscience and omnipotence and omniprescence and all-wisdom and love and goodness.

This spiritual eye, furthermore, sees the objects of affection, that is, God, the inhabitants of heaven, heavenry treasures.

Again, this inner light or eye can perceive the moral law, so we are in no more doubt of the existence of that than of our own. The nature and relations of God and His moral creatures make this plain to our moral nature. This inner eye sees the law of subjective, essential duty un-mistakably clear, the duty of love to God and man, the Golden rule. No man is born blind respecting conscience and duty. He has light upon the path which leads to the worship and service of God; and if he follows this light he will be brought to Jesus, the Light of the world, and to the world of light. Our first need is not more light, but rather a fixed pur-pose to appreciate and appropriate the

How is this inner light made darkness? By sinning. It is sin that separates us from God, the fount of light, and as man as a whole standing against the government of God is a cloud between himself and the divine light. 2. By neglect. The fishes of mammoth cave by living in an underground river where there is no light have lost their power to see; and their organ of sight has changed its type. When man shuts his eyes against the light he cannot see then with the same

What are the results of making this inner light darkness? 1. It makes the truth and love of God, the Gospel and the operations of the Holy Spirit of less effect. This explains why the truth has less power over one person than another

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham: — There are but few wives and mothers who have not at times endured agonies and such pain as only women know. I wish such women knew the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a remarkable medicine, different in action from any I ever knew and thoroughly reliable.

"I have seen cases where women doctored for years without permanent benefit, who were cured in less than three months after taking your Vegetable Compound, while others who were chronic and incurable came out cured, happy, and in perfect health after a thorough treatment with this medicine. I have never used it myself without gaining great benefit. A few doses restores my strength and appetite, and tones up the entire system. Your medicine has been tried and found true, hence I fully endorse it."—Mrs. R. A. Anderson, 225 Washington St., Jack-

"I have been a great sufferer with female trouble, trying different doctors and medicines with no benefit. Two years ago I went under an operation, and it left me in a very weak condition. I had stomach trouble, backache, headache, palpitation of the heart, and was very nervous; in fact, I ached all over. I find yours is the only medicine that reaches such troubles, and would cheerfully recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all suffering women.'

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once

The experience and testimony of some of the most noted women of America go to prove, beyond a question, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all such trouble at once by removing the cause and restoring the organs to a healthy and normal condition. If in doubt, write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass, as thousands do.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any substitute.
