BIG MASONIC CELEBRATION

WASHINGTON INITIATED INTO ORDER 150 YEARS AGO.

The Anniversary of This Event Was Observed at the Dixie Theatre Last Night by the Masons of This City. Addresses Were Delivered by President Judge H. M. Edwards and James M. Lamberton, of Harrisburg—Exercises Presided Over by D. D. G. M. Thomas F. Wells.

The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the initiation of George Washington into the order of Free and Accepted Masons was elaborately celebrated last night at the Dixie theatre by the Masons of this city and from the part of the state generally.

The number of members of the organization who participated in the celebration was about 1,400, every seat in

THOMAS F. WELLS, District Deputy Grand Master, who presided.

The theatre being taken before the exercises began, so that many were obliged to stand. The members of Peckville lodge, Jernyn lodge, Kingsbury lodge, of Olyphant, and Acadia lodge, of Taylor, attended in a body.

The theatre was beautifully decorated with blue and white, the Masonic colors, and the stage was set for the carrying out of the ritualistic exercises attendant upon a lodge session. A handsome picture of Washington hung over the centre of the stage and was flanked on either side by the dates "1752" and "1902" wrought in electric lights. There were also a number of other electrical designs representing various Masonic emblems.

Each Mason entering the theatre was furnished with a Masonic apron and a beautiful souvenir programme, containing a splendid steel engraving of George Washington on its cover.

Mr. Wells Presided.

The exercises throughout were conducted as a lodge meeting is conducted. District Deputy Grand Master Thomas F. Wells presided as worshipful master, and was assisted by the following temporary officers: Senior warden, P. M. E. P. Kingsbury, of Union lodge; Junior warden, P. M. R. A. Zimmerman, of Green Ridge lodge; treasurer, P. M. E. L. Worniser, of Schiller lodge; secretary, P. M. L. G. Schantz, of Union lodge; senior deacon, P. M. Alfred Connell, of Peter Williamson lodge; junior deacon, P. M. Joseph Fildam, of Hiram lodge; senior master of ceremonies, P. M. J. D. B. Albertson, of Hiram lodge; junior master of ceremonies, P. M. J. F. Wardell, of Union lodge; purveyor, P. M. A. B. Holmes, of Hyde Park lodge; chaplain, Rev. Dr. Robert F. Y. Pierce; Tyler, Jacob E. Hetzel, of Schiller lodge.

The lodge was formally opened by District Deputy Grand Master Wells, after which Rev. Dr. Pierce gave the opening prayer. The assembled Masons then sang that grand old hymn, "Old Hundred." After the secretary had read extracts from the records of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, giving the date of Washington's initiation in the order, Philip H. Warren rendered a baritone solo.

The first speaker was President Judge H. M. Edwards, whose abilities as a public speaker are so well known in this city, and who spoke upon "Washington as a Citizen." He spoke, in part, as follows:

Judge Edwards' Address.

"Nothing can cover his high fame but Heaven; No pyramid set off his memories. But the eternal substance of his greatness."

A colonial gentleman of Virginia, George Washington, by the overwhelming responsibilities, the trials and disappointments, the defeats and victories, of the Revolutionary war, laid broadly the foundations of true American citizenship and became known to the great American citizen of his time. A century has passed, and by the universal verdict of history, he has become one of the great citizens of the world. Contemporary history began to pronounce judgment on Washington soon after his death. In less than two months after that event, Napoleon Bonaparte decreed a triumphal celebration in Paris in honor of his own victories. A part of the ceremony consisted in the burning of the effigy of George Washington, the great American citizen of his time. A century has passed, and by the universal verdict of history, he has become one of the great citizens of the world. Contemporary history began to pronounce judgment on Washington soon after his death. In less than two months after that event, Napoleon Bonaparte decreed a triumphal celebration in Paris in honor of his own victories. A part of the ceremony consisted in the burning of the effigy of George Washington, the great American citizen of his time.

Talleyrand's Report.

The speaker quoted what Talleyrand said in the report which closed as follows:

"Bonaparte, first consul of the republic, decrees as follows:

"Article 1. A statue is to be erected to General Washington.

"Article 2. This statue is to be placed in one of the squares of Paris, to be chosen by the minister of the interior, and it shall be his duty to execute the present decree."

The statue recommended by Talleyrand was never erected. France soon had other matters to think of. Nevertheless, to the French people Washington looms up in history as a great and majestic figure.

VISITORS WELCOME.

ure, second only to their own idolized and idealized Napoleon.

Other nations paid their tribute to the greatness of Washington. Even Great Britain, it is said, ordered the flags at half-mast on their channel fleet. But, he this is it may, I can satisfy myself that Washington's place in history is fixed, as a star in the heavens is fixed, as a towering rock in mid-ocean, as the mountain upon which the condensation of nothing I can refer to which is more emblematic of the regard of the nations of the world for Washington than Washington's monument.

"The people of the earth, with very few exceptions, have contributed something to the building of the monument. Great Britain, Germany and Austria, France, Italy and Portugal, the Russians, China and Japan; yes, Teuton, Celt, Latin, Slav and Asiatic—all have helped to build, not only the material structure known as Washington's monument, but the imperishable fame which rightly belongs to the 'Father of His Country.'"

More than all the time that has been allotted to me could easily be taken in reviewing Washington's history as a soldier, statesman and statesman, and as a man, but such an academic effort would poorly answer the object I have in view. I hope to accomplish a more useful purpose, and perfectly to answer the question: What can we learn from Washington's history that will improve the American citizen today?

The Lessons of Washington's Life.

The poet has well said that "Lives of great men all remind us. We can make our lives sublime, And departing, leave behind us Footprints on the sands of time."

The poet is for our instruction, edification, warning and encouragement. Washington's life might as well be a romance, as the story of his life. He was a man of his time, and his life was a lesson to all men. He was not a man of his time, but a man of all times. He was a man of his time, and his life was a lesson to all men. He was not a man of his time, but a man of all times. He was a man of his time, and his life was a lesson to all men. He was not a man of his time, but a man of all times.

Committee in Charge.

The general committee which had charge of the affair represented all the local lodges and comprised the following members: Chairman, T. F. Pennington; secretary, John W. Morgan; Peter Williamson lodge, W. S. Diehl and C. D. Sanderson; Union lodge, E. P. Kingsbury, Louis G. Schantz and James F. Wardell; Hiram lodge, George W. Benedict, Jr., Joseph Fildam, S. H. Swingle and Armit Thomas; Schiller lodge, Joseph H. Gunster and Jacob F. Hetzel; Hyde Park lodge, Albert Davis, A. B. Holmes, C. W. Lull, Joseph Oliver and Harry A. Sprouts; Green Ridge lodge, C. S. Seaman, E. G. Stevens and R. A. Zimmerman.

The sub-committee which did the actual work was composed of: C. S. Seaman, C. B. Dorman, Albert Davis, C. D. Sanderson, George W. Benedict, James F. Wardell, Walter Davis and John W. Wagner.

MOVING PICTURE SHOW.

Excellent Exhibition Given in High School by Lyman D. Howe.

It would have been hard indeed to have found a better pleased audience in the whole country last night than that which gathered in the Scranton high school auditorium to witness the exhibition of moving pictures given by Lyman D. Howe for the benefit of the High School Athletic association. Every seat was taken and the spectators cheer and applauded and laughed so heartily that Mr. Howe was forced to admit that he had never appeared before such an enthusiastic gathering.

The pictures shown covered an infinite variety of subjects and what was especially noticeable was their cleanliness and the absence of any of the eye-ringing flickerism which is their general accompaniment. The pictures which occasioned the loudest applause were a number of splendid views showing the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

OFFICIAL COUNT OF THE RETURNS IS BEGUN.

Howell's Majority Is Reduced by Fourteen—Difference in the Penman and Morris Vote Is Decreased by Two—No Important Discrepancies Discovered Between the Open and Closed Returns During the First Day of the Count—Socialist Parties Outvote Prohibitionists.

The official count of the returns of Tuesday's election was begun yesterday afternoon. Judge Newcomb is conducting the count. He is assisted by the following:

Comparing Clerk—John J. Murphy.

Recording Clerks—John J. Tooley, James E. Watkins, David J. Davis, Joseph E. Bourman.

Reading Clerks—Charles E. Oliver, Thomas A. Donahoe.

Clerks—Thomas J. Handley, William J. Fitzgerald and Walter L. Schanz.

Attorneys C. P. O'Malley and R. H. Holgate and Stenographer John M. Edwards are watching the returns for Congressman Connell. Mr. Holgate, who is a specialist in election contest law, is looking after the interests of the like. Attorney Herbert L. Taylor, assisted by John von Bergen and Fred W. Kirchoff, of the commission's office, is looking after the interests of Morris and Penman. Attorney M. Lowry is also looking after the Penman votes.

Watching the Count.

Attorneys David J. Reedy and C. C. Donahoe are watching the interests of the Democratic candidates, generally, and Mr. Reedy besides is particularly watching the mine inspector vote in the interest of Moore. Attorney Clarence Baintine is specially representing his client, Mr. Penman. Mr. Howell, Attorney Lowry and Attorney John H. Bonner, respectively, are representing James and Litta. Attorney James J. O'Malley is keeping tabs on the Fourth district returns for Mr. White.

The count yesterday proceeded as far as Dalton borough. Few discrepancies between the open and sealed returns were discovered. Penman's lead of forty over Morris for minority commissioner was reduced to two. Morris gained two in the Third district of the First ward of Carbondale and one in the Second district of the Third ward of Carbondale. Penman gained one in the Second district, Second ward, Carbondale.

In the Second district, Fifth ward, Carbondale, Connell gained four on Howell, and in the Sixth ward, First district, Carbondale, Connell gained ten. Both these discrepancies were discovered and announced by Judge Newcomb.

Williams Gained.

Williams, for mine inspector, gained fifty on Evans in the First ward of Blakely borough. Evans' vote should be 142, instead of 192. There was a gain of five for Evans in the other districts, and four for Williams, leaving Williams with a net gain of forty-nine. Williams' plurality on the face of the open returns was 547.

Litta gained one over James in Dalton. The open returns failed to credit him with a vote he received on the Anti-Machine ticket. Philbin lost one to White in the Fifth ward, First district, Carbondale. His vote should be 158, instead of 159.

The only errors of any consequence so far disclosed in the Tribune's tables, printed yesterday, were transpositions of the Second district of the First ward and the Second ward in the Archbald borough returns, and the Northeast and Northwest districts of Carbondale township.

A Select Audience.

The most interesting spot in Scranton the past two days has been the store of Mr. George W. Watkins, at 500 Lackawanna avenue. The place is crowded with the most elite of the city, to attend the auction sale of the Oriental rugs. Several six or seven hundred dollar rugs brought less than two hundred dollars. Some beautiful little mats sold as low as fifty cents. It seemed the audience was very well satisfied with their bargains, but the auctioneer looked very down-hearted and constantly complained of the ridiculous lowness of the prices which the rugs brought. Sale will continue afternoons and evenings until the end of this week.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

A CURE FOR ALL.

Not a Patent Cure-all, Nor a Modern Miracle, but Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia.

In these days of humbuggery and deception, the manufacturers of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to think their medicines will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making any undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make but one claim for it, and that is for indigestion and various stomach troubles. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no farther than this and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it, that the facts will not fully sustain it.

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medical properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. It rests the overworked organ and replenishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, giving refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take these Tablets at each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach which rapidly regains its proper digestive power, when the Tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous Dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package.
