A Good Investment.

The mammoth steel plant of the Lackawanna Steel company, costing $40,000,000, in Buffalo is rapidly approaching completion. It will employ 15,000 hands. Two other gigantic plants are going up adjoining this, which will employ as many more. The result will be a young city at that point. Moral: Buy some lots for investment close by. We have them across the main street from the steel plant. Prices now low and terms easy.

The Scranton United Choral society, which is at present engaged in rehearsals for the big Brooklyn festival on November 29, will give a grand concert in the Lyceum theatre on Monday night, October 17, to raise funds to assist in paying the expenses of the organization on its trip to Greater New York.

MYERS SHOT WHILE DELIVERING PAPERS

Young Man Struck in the Head by a Bullet Aimed at a Target and May Die.

Joseph Myers, aged 21 years, who resides with his parents at 239 Fernber court, in the rear Prescott avenue, was accidentally shot yesterday morning, and is hovering between life and death at the Scranton Private hospital, but with slight chances of recovery.

The circumstances connected with the shooting are rather peculiar. Tony Jordan, aged 19 years, and Tony Ambrossa, aged 24, who boarded with the former's brother Michael, at 1034 Mark street, were sitting in the doorway, shooting at a mark on a board, about seventy yards away, with a .32-calibre revolver.

Myers was engaged in delivering newspapers in Little England, and chanced to pass near the mark the young men were shooting at. He was struck in the head by a stray bullet, the ball passing through his hat, and lodging in the head. It struck the frontal bone and fractured the skull.

Dr. Bernstein was called and removed the bullet, but afterwards had Myers taken to the Scranton Private hospital where the operation of trepanning was performed by him, assisted by Dr. Garvey and Dr. Grant. The injury is a very serious one, and the patient's condition is critical. He walked to a nearby house after being shot, but was soon overcome by the injury.

Jordan and Ambrossa disappeared after the shooting and had not been located up to a late hour last night. The police were notified and Mounted Officers Perry and Burko were detailed on the case. Jordan is 5 feet 4 or 6 inches in height, has clean shaven face, dark brown hair and dark complexion. Ambrossa is similarly described.

HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATED.

Keystone Academy Eleven Proved to Be Too Heavy.

The Scranton High School football team was ignominiously defeated on Saturday last by the Keystone Academy eleven at Factoryville, the score being eleven to 0. The Keystone team was much the heavier and its players were in altogether better form than the High school players.

The High School team made a plucky fight against great odds in the first half and held the Keystone players down to six points, but in the second half the superior weight told and they went to pieces. Evans, Willard, Smith and Thayer received injuries in this half which required their retirement from the game. The line-up was as follows:

High School: Keystones.
Willard, Lavelle.....left guard.....Young
Zickman.....center.....Dehn
Hoolligan, Quinn.....right guard.....Webb
Jones.....right tackle.....Brundage

E. G. Coursen,

APPLICANTS FOR PLUMS

THOSE WHO WANT POSITIONS ARE NUMEROUS.

Democrats Who Were Elected Tuesday Are Already Confronted by the Problem of Selecting the Men They Will Have to Appoint—Some of the Men Who Are Mentioned for Appointments—George J. Hartman, of Wilkes-Barre, Put Forward as a Candidate for Speaker.

If there is one thing more than another that the average Democrat is always alive to, it is the main thing. Ordinary mortals, upon being tendered such a delightful surprise party as the local Democracy was the recipient of Tuesday, would have spent their time since in catching their breath, but not so with the local Democracy.

Some several minutes before they were fully awake to the realization of the fact that everything pretty much was theirs, they were out for the plums. The successful candidates who have appointments to make, were proffered assistance in making selections before their breakfasts had begun to digest. Not so much as a tax collectorship in the Twenty-first ward was wanting an applicant.

John Howell, formerly a clerk in the office of city controller, filed his application for private secretary to "Congressman-elect Howell." Attorneys John J. Murphy, C. C. Donovan and John H. Bonner intimated strongly to Durkin and Burschell that the office of county solicitor was the least they would be satisfied with. County Chairman John J. Pahay left town for a few days' rest, but before going stirred up a discussion as to the advisability of transferring him from the office of deputy city controller to that of chief clerk in the commissioners' office. Attorney M. J. McAndrew, pointing to the good showing made by Sando in the Fourteenth ward, has filed an application for the position of "Orphans' court stenographer."

It was understood all along that if Sheriff Scholtz succeeded in making Deputy Sheriff Burschell commissioner, that the sheriff would dictate the appointment of prison warder, which appointment, on January 1, is transferred from the sheriff to the commissioners, under the new regulations for this county, consequent upon its population having passed the 150,000 mark. Sheriff Schadt will, of course, continue his present warder, Miles McAndrew, and jail affairs will, as a result, be administered for the remainder of the Scholtz regime as if the new law had not intervened.

County Secretary John P. Mahon, who is now acting as witness clerk in the commissioners' office, has not as yet pressed his claims for preferment, but, it is safe to say, he will be sorely disappointed if the Democratic majority on the board of commissioners does not advance him to less arduous and more remunerative office of assistant chief clerk.

There are eleven clerkships in the county commissioners' office. Three of them are at present filled by Democrats, appointees of Minority Commissioner Durkin. The nine positions filled by Republicans are not likely to go begging. Less than fifty appointments have already been filed for these places, but the list is likely to be increased.

As far as could be learned, there are two positions for which there are no applicants. They are tipstaff and crier in Orphans' court, at present filled by Wallace Tiffany and Jake Snyder, respectively. Possibly, before the day is out, Judge-elect Sando will be saved the necessity of advertising for a tipstaff and crier.

George J. Hartman, who on Tuesday was re-elected to the legislature from this district, is being prominently mentioned in connection with the speakership of the next house. Mr. Hartman is one of the few old members who have been returned, and who are also familiar with his ability as a legislator and the splendid record he made during the last session he held in that position. During the last session he served on several of the most important committees and the experience he gained would serve him well in the important post of speaker.

Out of the more than 200 members of the last house there was no more active member than Mr. Hartman. He was always in his seat and his vote was recorded for every measure that bore the stamp of merit. The interests of his section of the state he zealously guarded, but in doing so he was not unmindful of his duty to the state at large. He has already been requested by a number of the members elected last Tuesday to allow the use of his name in connection with the office, and if he consents it is likely that he will be chosen as speaker of the next session.
