CHANGE MADE IN SALE OF BURIAL LOTS

No More Will Be Disposed of from Section That Encroaches on Paths or Walks, in Maplewood Cemetery, Superintendent Collins' Annual Report, and Election of Officers.

At the annual meeting of lot-holders of Maplewood cemetery association in the common council chamber, Wednesday night, a resolution was adopted against the practice of selling burial lots from sections that were reclaimed as walks or paths.

W. H. Williams, one of the lot-holders, cited instances where persons were buried in lots that were formerly paths. This blocked the entrance to other graves, he said, and was an injustice to the owners of the latter. The sense of the lot-holders was against the practice, and the resolution condemning and forbidding it in the future was unanimously adopted.

Superintendent Collins said, by way of explanation, that this had been done in some cases, but not during the five years he was sexton.

Roscoe Hughes was elected chairman, C. A. Kane acted as secretary, C. A. Kane and John E. Bone were unanimously re-elected trustees. William H. Williams and James Smith were appointed auditors for the ensuing year.

Superintendent Collins presented his report for the year ending November 1. It was accepted. It is as follows:

Received for digging graves and other work $ 25.00
Received on assessments 72.15
Received for grave lots sold 19.69

AT THE HOSPITAL.

Michael Larkin, Who Lost an Arm, Somewhat Improved.

Michael Larkin, of Carbondale township, whose arm was cut off by an engine while he lay asleep in the Ontario and Western yard at Mayfield, during Tuesday night, was somewhat improved last night. The hospital surgeons do not think, however, that he is yet out of danger.

John Lester, a bridge carpenter, had his hand caught between two joists and so badly squeezed that it was necessary to amputate one of the fingers. The operation took place at Emergency hospital.

Word has been received here of the death of John Moran, a former Carbondalian.

Mr. Moran passed away at his home in California.

COST $12.00.

Advice That Was Worth It.

"I was once a slave to the coffee habit, and became almost a confirmed invalid by drinking it," says Mr. C. H. Alden, of Whiting, N. J.

"I tried to break away from coffee, but every time I stopped, I suffered from severe sick headaches and for relief went back to coffee again, only in the end to suffer from extreme nervousness and severe bilious attacks.

In Leo Valley, Nebraska, Nov. 3. He was born in 1836 and lived in Carbondale from boyhood until 1865, when he departed for the west, which was since his home. He prospered there and was in comfortable circumstance when summoned hence.

Mr. Moran will be kindly remembered by many Carbondalians, who valued his friendship. His trade here was shoemaking, which he learned in the shop of Charles Hagen. Deceased was the brother of Constable Michael Moran, Contractor P. G. Moran and P. F. Moran, secretary of Columbia Hose company.

CARBONDALIAN'S STANDING IN UTAH

The Salt Lake City Herald Devotes a Half-Column Big Caption Article to Visit of William McHale, a Wealthy Mine Owner, to Carbondale—A Half-Brother of ex-Select Councilman Thomas Battle.

William McHale, half-brother of ex-Select Councilman Thomas Battle, of the West Side, is back again in his far western home in Utah, after visiting in Carbondale, his early home, as related in The Tribune a few weeks ago.

Mr. McHale, on the occasion of his return, was made the subject of a half-column article in the Salt Lake City Herald of last Saturday. The story is displayed under a big caption on the financial page of the Herald. The prominence which Mr. McHale enjoys in his adopted home is indicated by the elaborate notice of this daily. He is referred to as "the veteran prospector and claim owner of Frisco, who has made a good chunk of money during the past year or two." These evidences of Mr. McHale's success and standing will be a source of satisfaction and pride to the many Carbondale associates of his youth and the numerous additional friends that his attractive personality won on the occasion of his recent visit to Carbondale.

The story in the Salt Lake City Herald contains a characteristic interview from Mr. McHale. It is as follows:

William McHale, the veteran prospector and claim owner of Frisco, Beaver county, who has made a good chunk of money during the past year or two, and who stands to make a great deal more in the time to come, returned yesterday from an extended visit to his old home near Scranton, Pa., accompanied by his son, H. It is twenty-three years since Mr. McHale left his old home to seek his fortune in the wild and woolly west, and he relates that while he met many numbers of people whom he knew and who recognized him, many of them, like himself, were crowding old age.

"I did all I could," said he, "to impress everybody I met with the fact that Utah had a great deal of the kinds of money was to be made in following mining. I had to crack a few jokes, of course, and among other things I told them I ran all the way home in a palanquin, and that next time I proposed to occupy a special train all by myself.

But, speaking seriously, I found a great many ready investors in Utah mining enterprises, and any number who were looking for chances to invest. I went as far as Boston, where I remained several days, and at every stop was besieged by people who wanted information concerning the mining regions of this state. I had with me quite a collection of Utah ores and the samples were worn smooth with handling. From all I saw I got a great deal of satisfaction, and only just began to roll this way."

Mr. McHale and his son will leave for Frisco tonight and during the winter they will get work secured by a number of men to be employed for the purpose, developing a big group of claims which Mr. McHale owns on the mountain dividing the Coos from the Horn River.

Mr. McHale did not forget his Carbondale friends on his return, sending acceptable remembrances to a number. Among them was The Tribune man, who heartily acknowledges Mr. McHale's generous thoughtfulness.

BURIAL IN UTICA.

The Late John L. Gallands Taken to New York State.

The late John L. Gallands, the popular Ontario and Western conductor, was taken to Utica, N. Y., yesterday forenoon, over the road on which he ran, for burial.

The funeral services that preceded his departure were largely attended. Conspicuous in the outpouring of friends were members of Carbondale lodge of Masons and the order of Railway Conductors. Services were conducted in Trinity church by the rector, Rev. R. A. Sawyer. A delegation of Masons and railway men accompanied the deceased to Utica to conduct the services at the grave.

The pall-bearers were: J. M. Stewart, Isaac Singer and H. G. Lukely, of Carbondale lodge of Masons, and Ellisworth Meyers, James Miller and John Gilbert, of the Order of Railway Conductors. An exquisite floral pillow was the remembrance of the conductors.

REV. J. WILBUR CHAPMAN, D. D. Cannot Come to Carbondale, as Was Earnestly Wished.

It will be great disappointment to the earnest wishes of many to hear that Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., will not be able to come to Carbondale to hold a series of one-day conferences on religious matters in this presbytery. Rev. Charles Lee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has been trying for months to secure Dr. Chapman's attendance. Dr. Chapman, however, has just resigned from his charge in New York, to devote his whole time to the evangelistic work of the general assembly's committee. The chairman of this committee is John H. Converse, of the Baldwin Locomotive works, who gave $25,000 last year and an equivalent sum this year to further the work.

RUSSIAN ENGINEERS. Two Men from Czar's Land Inspect Coalbrook Breaker.

Carbondale had two distinguished visitors Wednesday. They were Stephen Panuchenko, engineer of ways and communications to the Russian government, and director of the J. S. Panuchenko paper mills and coal company at Rostoff-on-the-Don, and Paul Tiershausen. They are in this country on a tour of inspection of the coal fields, as representatives of the czar. The rector, on the occasion of their visit, will, when adopted, revolutionize coal mining in Russia, where there are no coal breakers, the coal being broken by the consumers, and where there is no washery process to screen the immense quantities of the accumulation of years.

The two Russians visited the Coalbrook breaker, which they inspected in every corner, and were introduced to the coal storage at Anthracite park, which greatly impressed them. Their guide was Superintendent R. B. Williams, of the Ontario and Western. After taking luncheon at noon at Frank Brown's cafe, they left for Scranton.

TO RAISE FUNDS. Foot Ball Kickers to Give an Entertainment.

The foot ball team of the Carbondale High school has arranged an entertainment which will be given in the assembly room of the central school building on Wednesday evening next.

An entertaining program will be offered, and the patronage of the public is solicited in order to assure the success of the season's athletic sports which the students have planned as a means of relaxation from the grind of study and for physical improvement. The foot ball team will go to Susquehanna on Saturday, November 22, to play the High school eleven there, and on Thanksgiving day the Carbondale team will come to this city. The entertainment project, if supported by the public, will defray the expenses of both games.

AMUSEMENTS. A Week of Repertoire.

The Ollie Hatford Stock company presenting Miss Hatford, supported by a troupe of excellent dramatic and vaudeville entertainers, will open a week's engagement at the Grand, Monday night, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees. They will be seen in a repertoire of artistic productions. The plays are all new, many of them being presented by no other popular priced organization.

Miss Hatford is well known in many sections of the country. John J. Kirk, her leading man, is an effective actor and a close student of his art. The vaudeville members of the company are said to be high class artists and give a very pleasing entertainment. The usual 15-cent "matinee" ticket will be issued for Monday night.

OBITUARY. SIMON ZELLENIK, who had a large acquaintance in Scranton, passed away, Wednesday, after a long illness. He was 54 years, married, and employed at the North side of the city. He is well known to the people of the city. Burial will be in the Greek Catholic cemetery at Mayfield.

Common Councilman Sahn Ill.
Common Councilman Abe Sahn was taken suddenly ill on Wednesday. The physician who was called diagnosed the trouble as acute indigestion. Yesterday Mr. Sahn was able to be out for awhile, but last night there was a violent recurrence of the attack which compelled him to remain in bed. In his condition he is unable to eat. An operation may be necessary to relieve him, unless the symptoms abate.

Wedded at Scranton.
Miss Matilda Teresa McGowan, of the South Side, and Harry Bohman Lewis, were wedded in Scranton on Wednesday. Rev. Rogers Israel, rector of St. Luke's church, solemnized the nuptials.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have gone house-keeping on Park street. The groom is an employe of Van Beck Brothers, and a member of the Real Men, and is well known among the young men of the town.

Postponed Until Tuesday.

The meeting of E. E. Hendrick Hook and Lumber company, No. 1, scheduled for last night could not take place owing to the illness of Common Councilman Abe L. Sahn, who is foremost among the organizers of the meeting. The meeting will take place, instead, on Tuesday evening next, at 7:30 in the Columbia Hose company's quarters.

Will Hold a Smoker.

The Carpenters and Joiners of Carbondale will hold an important meeting in their hall on Salem avenue, Saturday evening, to which the attention of every member is especially directed. Aside from the business there will be a smoker and social time which offer an enjoyable evening. The president urges the attendance of every member.
