AN EASY WAY

To Keep Well. It is easy to keep well if we would only observe each day a few simple rules of health. The all important thing is to keep the stomach right and to do this it I not necessary to diet or to follow a set simply makes a capricious appetite and a feeling that certain favorite articles of food must be avoided. Prof. Wiechold gives pretty good advice on this subject; he says: "I am 68 years old and have never had a serious illness, and at the same time my life has been largely an indoor one but I early discovered that the way to keep healthy was to keep a healthy stomach, not by eating bran crackers or dieting of any sort; on the contrary Firemen of Oluphant Were Unable I always eat what my appetite craves but daily for the past eight years I have made it a practice to take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal and I attribute my robust health for a man of my age to the regular daily use of the Stuart's Tablets.

My physician first advised me to use them because he said they were perfectly harmless and were not a secret patent medicine, but contained only the natural digestives, peptones and distaste and after using them a few weeks I have never ceased to thank him for his advice.

I honestly believe the habit of taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals is the real health habit, because their ess section of Olyphant borough was use brings health to the sick and ailing wiped out yesterday morning by a fire and preserves health to the well and which broke out in the basement of strong." of the fire, was all afire, and little incipient blazes were springing up at various points all along the street for a distance of a block.

It looked as if nothing could save the najor portion of the town from destruction, and property owners in all directions began to move their effects from their stores and dwellings. Superintendent Ferber saw at a glance that the essential thing to do was to check the further spread of the flames. He ordered three streams connected with the steamer and brought them into play in the very storm centre of the fire. After a half-hour's hard work the fury of the flames on the left-hand side of the street was very materially abated and all danger of a general destruction Covered of property on the right-hand side was Concentrated Their Efforts.

It was found impossible to save the block of properties in which the fire originated from total destruction, and the firemen concentrated their attention on the properties on the other side of the street and in the rear, so that by 1,20 o'clock all the flames had been extinguished, and the Scranton companies left for home.

Covered the handsome dwelling of Mrs. Maria Wheeler was totally destroyed by the flames, as well as a small dwelling occupied by Harry Spot. A number of barns in the rear of the burned buildings, and in very close proximity to them, escaped the flames almost miraculously, The flames spread across Willow street and caught the two-story building owned by P. J. O'Donnell and occupied by him as a hotel, and by Miss Ina Linderman as a millinery store. This building was thoroughly gutted by fire and water, and will have to be entirely rebuilt.

The only building on the opposite side store in the borough, and was located of the street which was badly damaged by the flames was the three-story was a three-story building, 150x60 feet frame structure owned by John Lloyd and occupied by H. VAUGHAN LED THE ATTACK

OPPOSED TO OFFICE OF ORDI-NANCE INSPECTOR.

Does Not Like the Manner in Which J. P. Gillespie Was Put on the City Pay Rolls-New Measures That Were Introduced in Select Council Last Night-Considerable Amount of Business Also Transacted at the Meeting Held by Common Council.

The ordinance providing for the office of ordinance inspector was subjected to another and particularly vigorous attack by Selectman D. W. Vaughan at last night's adjourned meeting of the upper branch.

It appears that J. P. Gillespie is now and has been for several months exercising the duties of this office. He is on the pay-roll as a laborer in the street department. Mr. Vaughan, after relating this, proceeded to characterize this method of creating new offices as a "sneaking proposition" and "a surreptitious trick."

Messrs, Vaughan, Ross and Coyne were the only ones to vote against the ordinance, and it passed third and final reading. The ordinance providing for the payment of the cost of paving the intersection of Lackawanna and Adams avenues also passed final reading. New measures were introduced as follows: Mr. Ross-A resolution exonerating the Christian, Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal churches on North Main avenue from sewer assessments. Approved. By Mr. Maloney-A resolution repealing the resolution of November 10, 1900, pro-viding that councils shall not settle out of court any damage claims for amounts greater than $100. Approved.

By Mr. O'Boyle—A resolution transferring $494.40 from the appropriation for electric lights, 1501, to the fund for payment of the city's share of the cost of the Nineteenth District sewer. Approved.

A resolution was introduced by Chairman Merriman, of the streets and bridges committee, declaring it to be the opinion of councils that a temporary bridge, costing not more than $600, should be constructed at once at Ash street, and suggesting that if there is not money enough available for this purpose, in the emergency fund, that the director of public works apply to councils for transfers from other funds sufficient to provide for the construction of the bridge.

A communication was received from Director of Public Works Roche calling attention to the necessity of changing the names of streets where duplications have been found, and asking that a committee be clothed with authority to deal with the matter. The communication was referred to the streets and bridges committee, power to act.

IN COMMON COUNCIL.

Common Councilman H. E. Paine uttered a vigorous protest at last light's meeting of the common branch against granting extension of time to sewer contractors, except in extraordinary cases of emergency.

The discussion arose when a select council resolution granting an extension of five months to the contractors for the Ash street sewer, in the Tenth ward, came up for concurrence. Mr Knoepfel, the councilman for the ward, All that remains of the fine buildings protested against the passage of the in which the fire first gained headway resolution, and said that there was no is a smouldering heap of charred tim- good excuse for a failure to complete the sewer within the original time limit. A motion to adopt the resolution was put and it looked as if it would be carried, when Mr. Paine arose.

"It's about time we settled this thing once and for all," he said. "It's about time this city decides to make its contractors live up to their contract obligations and not keep continually excusing them from doing what they voluntarily agree to do. I favor granting an extension of time to a contractor in a case of emergency, if he can offer a good excuse, but this thing of letting work drag on and then granting an exension for no reason at all, I do not

Referred to Committee.

Mr. Paine moved that the resolution be referred to the sewers and drains committee for investigation, and the notion was unanimously adopted. The joint streets and bridges committee reported that it has selected the end of Sanderson avenue as the best location for the proposed new bridge over the Lackawanna river, to replace the Race street bridge, providing a renewal can be obtained of the options formerly secured for the property which it will be necessary to acquire for approaches. The report was reeived and filed.

Mr. Graf presented a petition signed by a number of property owners on the 600 block of Sanderson avenue, who object to what they term the "enormous" sewer assessment, $6.25 per lineal foot. charged up against them. They asked council to devise some feasible method of securing a reduction of this assessment. The petition was referred to the city solicitor.

The following new resolutions were introduced and passed:

By Mr. Casterline-Directing the moval of a projecting pipe on Green Ridge street near North Main avenue; exoner-ating the Court Street Methodist Episcopal church from the payment of a paying assessment. By Evan Evans-Ordinances providing for a transfer of certain balances from last year's appropriations to pay the balance due on the road roller and to in-crease this year's appropriation for the repair of bridges and culverts. Mr. Paine introduced an ordinance providing for the crection of two electric lights in the Ninth

Appreciates the fact that no costume can prove satisfactory that is not properly lined. Poor linings mean that a perfectly fitting gown may become a shapeless mass, distressing to look on in a few weeks. Good linings will preserve the original lines of any gown intact as long as the outer fabric will hold together. We sell good linings only, and have the most complete lining department in this state.

Laces and Trimmings

Next to the linings comes the adornment of the fabric selected for the gowns. Laces and all sorts of trimmings are here in lavish profusion. New customers tell us almost daily that they had no idea such a line of trimmings and laces as we carry could be found in Scranton. If you have not already visited this department, a pleasant surprise awaits you.
