THE WAYNE INSTITUTE.

Closing Sessions of the Gathering Held at Honesdale Yesterday.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Honesdale, Nov. 14.—At 1.30 p. m., Thursday, Prof. Kemp continued his talk on "Geography and History." Superintendent Pattengill occupied the second period; subject, "Intelligent Patriotism." Dr. Bigelow spoke on 'Nature Literature." In the evening, Hon, Fred Ikeler delivered his lecture, "Agitators," before a large and appre ciative audience.

The closing session of the institute was held Friday morning. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. H. Swift, after which Prof. Watkins conducted a fifteen-minute song service The committee on resolutions made its report, which was unanimously adopted. Then followed the opening of the "Question Box" by Dr. Bigelow, who gave instructive answers to over forty questions. Prof. Watkins sang a solo, to the delight of the audience, and responded to an encore.

The last period of the institute was occupied by Superintendent Pattengill; subject, "Hints and Squints," In his usual jovial and happy manner he held the attention of the teachers while he gave many useful "hints and squints" for their consideration, closing his talk with a spelling match. He pronounced eleven common words for the teachers to spell. Of the large number who spelled, only one had the words all correctly spelled; that was Miss Theresa Sotee, of the Honesdale school.

The excellent programme prepared by Superintendent Hower; the able corps instructors; the interest shown by Baptist church of Elkdale, and their teachers; the spirit of the singing, all friends proved to make the thirty-fifth annual institute one of the best ever held. The sessions were all largely attended. Only making excellent progress. four of the teachers in the county were absent. Superintendent Hower, in his closing remarks, complimented the teachers on their faithful attendance last Tuesday evening. and close attention.

Special to the Scranton Tribune Hallstead, Nov. 16 .- One of the prettiest weddings seen in St. Lawrence's church this year was that of Miss Ida Hill and Mr. Ambrose McCormick, of Binghamton. Wednesday, at 2 p. m. the bridal party entered the church t the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Ida Curley, of Great Lend. The natural charms of the bride were considerably enhanced by the teamty of her gown, which was pale tive silk and a large white beaver hat with white plume trimmings. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lucy Hill, who was becomingly attired in a light blue silk gown and a larg black velvet hat. The groom was wait ed upon by his brother, Alphonso Mc-Cormick, also of Binghamton. Imme diately after the church ceremony number of relatives gathered at the home of the bride, on DuBois street where a reception was held. The house had been very prettily decorated for the event, with palms, ferns and cut flowers. The dining room had been given special attention and tasty arrangements of the decorations presented a striking effect. The collation was a bountiful one. The Philadelphia Orchestra.

One of the finest musical treats of the season will be the appearance of the Phil-adelphia Symphony orchestra of seventy pieces at the Lyceum theater tomorrow evening. Mr. Fritz Scheel, the conductor, nas secured musicians of talent, each naster of his own instrument and the result is an orchestra which compares fa orably with any in the world.

The following letter from Professor Hemberger gives an opinion of this or hestra from a musician's point of view: Editor of The Tribune. Sir: During last season, the Philadel phia orchestra gave a concert here, and perhaps it is well remembered, unde what trying circumstances, for on that very evening a blizzard raged furious! before the orchestra arrived, delaying the train, and what with a temperature almost below zero, etc., it was scarcely the Philadelphia orchestra upon its first visit to Scranton. Unheralded, unadver tised, they came (perhaps that was also reason why the audience was small in numbers), but those few who did venture broad on that stomy night were not only amply repaid but will never forget wha they heard within the walls of the Ly eum on that occasion.

Much was expected, for if their fame is as yet, not widespread, they have, alonthrough their brilliant performances in Philadelphia, become very well known among all the musicians in the land Their performance here was a revelation and surpassed by far all expectations, probably never before at any concert given here has such wild enthusiasm been demonstrated as at this particular concert. In Fritz Scheel as their conduc for they possess a man whose magnetism is wonderful, and who truly deserves the highest recognition. All musicians and students should grasp the opportunity to hear this superb orchestra, and a large at. tendance give them the appreciation the

In a recent issue of the New York Magazine of Sanitation and Hygiene, the recognized authority on all matters pertaining to health, James H. Montgomery, M. D., says editorially:

"After a careful javestigation of Dr.

David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, a specific for kidney, liver and bladder troubles, rheumatism, dyspepsia and constipation with its attendant ills, we are free to confess that a more meritorious medicine has never come under the examination of the chemical and medical experts of the New York Magazine of Sanitation and Hygiene. In fact, after the most searching tests and rigid inquiry into the record of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, it becomes a duty to re-commend its use in unequivocal term to every reader of this journal whose com-plaint comes within the list of ailments which this remedy is advertised to cure.
We have obtained such overwhelming proof of the efficacy of this specific—have so satisfactorily demonstrated its curative powers through personal experiments— that a care for the interests of our readers leads us to call attention to its great value.
