

The News of Carbondale.

H. M. TUTTLE BURIED.

G. A. R. Services at the House and at the Grave in Brookside Cemetery—Commander McComb's Tribute.

Members of William H. Davies post, No. 187, Department Pennsylvania, G. A. R., had charge of the funeral of their late companion-in-arms, Henry M. Tuttle which took place yesterday afternoon.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the post was at the house, No. 87, Archbold street, and the comrades, under command of Col. John McComb, gave their attention to a desire of the deceased so often voiced when he could make his wishes known, that he be buried with G. A. R. honors.

Selections from the M. E. church burial service were read by Rev. A. E. Chaffee, and supplemented by a short talk regarding the importance of preparation for a future life, by striving to make our preparation on earth reach a higher plane along lines of elevated thought and practical Christian endeavor.

Commander McComb stood near the casket of the dead, and to his comrades and the large gathering of grief-stricken friends delivered the following tribute:

Comrades: Our Great Commander, whose orders are never rescinded, has sent his summons to Henry M. Tuttle. This comrade of ours, near whose earthly remains we have assembled, is now to pass from our sight forever.

The record of his life in the ranks of the Union is honorable, and his name is inscribed on the roll of fame among the heroes who helped to make our country's history the rich heritage which we now enjoy, and which future generations will cherish with pride.

In the performance of his duty as a private soldier in the ranks of the Union, he was a young manhood and offered his life, if necessary, to help perpetuate the principles for which so many thousands of our patriotic citizens poured out their precious blood.

His services in the army were such that he was decorated with the Medal of Honor, our great patriotic award, and to have bestowed on him our badge which is more honorable than any symbol of chivalry ever conferred on any soldier to designate the distinctive qualities of knightly.

As a comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic, he has so decorated himself, that personally he has done what he could to preserve the memory of our noble dead who have made our achievements sacred.

It is not for us to extend his merits to attach special significance to any act of his while a soldier. Like the mass of those who served in the ranks, he was part of a gigantic machine which, in the hands of the Almighty, was used to eradicate evils which obstructed the advancement of civilization.

The pages of our country's history glow with heroic deeds of the men of the Union, who were the backbone of the nation, who endured the hardships and braved the dangers of war with a cheerful heart, and for the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

who are allowed to die in quiet, has for a while been in the hands of our friends, and recalls the great sacrifices made by the boys in blue to maintain the dignity and unity of our great republic, and to advance the cause of human liberty and freedom. Our dead comrade was proud to be the bearer of the banner of Stars, and to walk at the head of our column with its beautiful folds fluttering in the breeze, as we with feeble tread tried to keep step with martial music on our Memorial Day march.

The same spirit which animated us in the early sixties has grown in intensity with the passing years. We shall frequently have occasion to draw our colors and our charter, but our patriotism shall never grow indifferent. For when we look at the flag of our country and think of what it stands for we shall always feel that:

As long as the love of freedom lives in the hearts of men, liberty, as long as the sun shines down on the fields where the strife has been, while a single torch is left to speak, while there but one heart that is true, we will cherish with loving devotion our own Red, White and Blue.

After Colonel McComb's oration, the exercises terminated at the house with the military honors of the Grand Army of the Republic.

At Brookside cemetery the impressive ceremony of the Grand Army of the Republic was followed, and Comrade Tuttle was laid to rest with the full honor of a soldier of the republic. As Bugler Heiden sounded "taps," there seemed to be nothing required to add to the solemnity and effectiveness of the ceremony.

The pall bearers were Comrades Enoch Cordner, W. L. Yarrington, Jacob Eltel, W. H. Williams, John Jennings, Chris. Shultz.

Comrades: Our Great Commander, whose orders are never rescinded, has sent his summons to Henry M. Tuttle. This comrade of ours, near whose earthly remains we have assembled, is now to pass from our sight forever.

The record of his life in the ranks of the Union is honorable, and his name is inscribed on the roll of fame among the heroes who helped to make our country's history the rich heritage which we now enjoy, and which future generations will cherish with pride.

In the performance of his duty as a private soldier in the ranks of the Union, he was a young manhood and offered his life, if necessary, to help perpetuate the principles for which so many thousands of our patriotic citizens poured out their precious blood.

His services in the army were such that he was decorated with the Medal of Honor, our great patriotic award, and to have bestowed on him our badge which is more honorable than any symbol of chivalry ever conferred on any soldier to designate the distinctive qualities of knightly.

As a comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic, he has so decorated himself, that personally he has done what he could to preserve the memory of our noble dead who have made our achievements sacred.

It is not for us to extend his merits to attach special significance to any act of his while a soldier. Like the mass of those who served in the ranks, he was part of a gigantic machine which, in the hands of the Almighty, was used to eradicate evils which obstructed the advancement of civilization.

The pages of our country's history glow with heroic deeds of the men of the Union, who were the backbone of the nation, who endured the hardships and braved the dangers of war with a cheerful heart, and for the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

On the broad foundation stone of fraternalism the veterans of the Civil war have established the Grand Army of the Republic. For thirty-six years the ties of comradeship have been tested and the great principles of charity and loyalty have been exemplified by the entire man there were prospects of death, or wounds, or prison, but no probability of receiving the rewards of glory, the insignia of power, the plaudits of the multitude or the emoluments of office.

Harvey M. Tuttle was born in Tancred, Wyoming county, Pa., on January 23, 1836. He served his country as a private in Company I, Fifteenth Illinois Infantry, and was discharged on the 30th day of July, 1862. He was mustered into Davies' post July 14, 1867, and mustered out by death at 9:30 p. m., Saturday, November 15, 1902.

more Lomacors; foreign, Fortunato Cerni di Pietro, Antonio Mazzeo, Mikolay Maryczk.

J. H. Thomas, Postmaster.

Another Good House.

The Ollie Hafford company did not crowd the Grand last night as on Monday evening, when the "S. R. O." sign smiled at late comers, but there was a good-sized house that seemed to receive with interest the production of "Woman Against Woman," the tale of a woman's attempt at revenge because she didn't happen to stand as high in the affections of a man, whom a companion attracted and won as her husband. The specialties were even more enjoyable last night.

This afternoon "Woman Against Woman" will be repeated and tonight, "City of New York" will be the attraction.

Funerals of Today.

The funeral of the late Daniel Loftus will take place this forenoon, leaving the residence, 18 Sand street, at 9 o'clock. A high mass of requiem will be sung in St. Rose church and burial be in St. Rose cemetery.

Funeral services over the late Mrs. Ann Judge will be held this morning in St. Rose church, where a high mass of requiem will be sung, commencing at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Rose cemetery.

BUDGET OF BREVITIES.

The Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip of the Berean Baptist church, will hold its first monthly meeting and reception this evening, at 8 o'clock. The social committee, L. W. Cramer, W. P. Harrison and Edwin Carter will be in charge of the arrangements. There will be an address by S. Fletcher Veyburn, president of the Baptist Social movement, of Scranton, music and refreshments. The refreshments will be served by the committee which will give the unique result of no women being present.

The first work in the construction of the new breaker of the Delaware and Hudson company, at Mayfield, will be commenced this morning. The section gang of the company will commence the removal of the immense ash pile, which has accumulated from the boiler house of the Pottery mine. After the removal of this pile, the excavating will follow, and after the laying of the breaker foundation, the superstructure will be hustled with the intention of having the breaker in operation in the spring.

Leopold Kollinski was surprised by a number of his fellow-members of the United Brewery Workers' local, at his home on Belmont street, Saturday evening. The occasion was his seventeenth birthday. Besides making merry, the visitors made the occasion memorable by presenting Mr. Kollinski with a meerschaum pipe. The committee from the local who had charge of the affair was composed of George Ward, B. Shevitz, John Bernhardt, Herman Gulerman and Frank Coninski.

Miss Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Osborne, will be wedded at home today to Thomas A. Speed. The ceremony will take place at the Osborne residence, No. 15 Porter avenue. Owing to the absence of some of the temporary officers of the Hendrick Hook and Ladder company, the meeting called for last night was postponed until later in the week. In the meantime, the plans for the future of the company are being pushed with forced interest.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Methodist church will be entertained Friday afternoon, from 3 to 6, by Mrs. C. W. Johnson and Mrs. E. W. Reynolds, at the home of Mrs. Johnson on Washington street.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Edward H. Winney, superintendent of the job department of The Tribune, was a visitor in Carbondale yesterday. It was his first visit to the town where in the anthracite industry was born, and he naturally appreciated the visit.

T. D. Briggs, of Boston, agent for Thomas G. Plant & Co. makers of "Queen Quality" shoes, was in Carbondale yesterday, calling on Mr. George Sahm, the local dealer in this product.

John Schuff, of Wyoming street, is suffering from what appears to be an attack of typhoid fever. Yesterday the services of a trained nurse were called in his case.

Chief of the Fire Department J. J. McNulty and John Hubert, spent yesterday in the mountains north, dividing their time between gunning and fishing. Their luck was greater with the latter sport as both are devoted fishermen.

Miss Hannah Tighe, the professional nurse, who was taken severely ill while on a visit here from the Baltimore sanitarium, where she is engaged, is rapidly regaining in strength and expects to leave Emergency hospital this week.

The family of Walter Bennett, of the Clover Leaf Manufacturing company, is sorely afflicted. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, their son Burr and daughter are all suffering attacks of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Butterfield and Miss Stebbins, of Springfield, are guests of Mrs. J. D. Day. They intend to spend the winter in Carbondale.

Lorine and Nellie Cross are both ill with malaria.

Miss Harriet Ward, the talented violinist, of Carbondale, has returned home after a visit with the Misses Carden, of the West Side.

Mrs. William Leonard, of River street, and her sister, Mrs. Will Pierce, who is her guest, are visiting in Scranton.

John F. Cummings, of Olyphant, deputy prothonotary of the courts, was a visitor in this city last evening.

SORE NECK.

Take Scott's Emulsion for scrofula. Children often have sores on the neck that won't heal up. The sores may come and go. Parents may not know what's the matter nor what to do. Scrofula is the trouble and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine.

Scott's Emulsion heals the sores. But that is not all. Scrofula leads to consumption. This is the real danger.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

A Sure Sign of Kidney Trouble. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will cure you.

Pain in the back is a never failing sign of kidney disease; another sure sign is the condition of the urine; if you have a pain in the back then look to the condition of your urine. Take a glass tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, pale or discolored, stringy orropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal.

F. C. Wilcox of 559 New Britain ave., Hartford, Conn., says:

"I had a frightful pain in my back, the result of kidney trouble. My physician seemed powerless to relieve me. I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy; it helped me wonderfully, and in a short time cured me completely."

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is wonderful how it makes that pain in the back disappear, how it relieves the desire to urinate often, especially at night, and drives away that scalding pain in passing water and makes you well and strong.

It is for sale by all druggists in the U. S. at 50c per bottle. The regular 50c bottle is less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is wonderful how it makes that pain in the back disappear, how it relieves the desire to urinate often, especially at night, and drives away that scalding pain in passing water and makes you well and strong.

It is for sale by all druggists in the U. S. at 50c per bottle. The regular 50c bottle is less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is wonderful how it makes that pain in the back disappear, how it relieves the desire to urinate often, especially at night, and drives away that scalding pain in passing water and makes you well and strong.

It is for sale by all druggists in the U. S. at 50c per bottle. The regular 50c bottle is less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is wonderful how it makes that pain in the back disappear, how it relieves the desire to urinate often, especially at night, and drives away that scalding pain in passing water and makes you well and strong.

It is for sale by all druggists in the U. S. at 50c per bottle. The regular 50c bottle is less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is wonderful how it makes that pain in the back disappear, how it relieves the desire to urinate often, especially at night, and drives away that scalding pain in passing water and makes you well and strong.

It is for sale by all druggists in the U. S. at 50c per bottle. The regular 50c bottle is less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, 50c.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. It is wonderful how it makes that pain in the back disappear, how it relieves the desire to urinate often, especially at night, and drives away that scalding pain in passing water and makes you well and strong.

It is for sale by all druggists in the U. S. at 50c per bottle. The regular 50