PRETTY WEDDING AT METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. A. F. Chaffee Weds Miss Elizabeth Moyles and Frederick G. Watt with Simple Ceremony—Miss Florence M. Osborn and Theodore A. Spert Also United in Wedlock.

A nuptial event of eager interest among their wide circle of friends was solemnized last night in the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Moyles and Frederick G. Watt.

The nuptials took place in the parsonage of the First Methodist church at 8 o'clock. There were no attendants, and the simple, though deeply impressive ritual of the Methodist church was observed by the pastor, Rev. A. F. Chaffee. The fervent wishes of the immediate friends accompanied the lighting of wicks.

The bride was modestly and most becomingly attired in a traveling suit of Yale blue silk voile. She wore a hat to match.

The customary reception, with its accompanying round of congratulations and felicitations, were not observed. Instead, Mr. and Mrs. Watt were immediately driven to the Delaware and Hudson city station, where they departed on the 8:30 train on their wedding tour. They will be absent two weeks, divided between Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. After December 10, they will be at home at 69 Washington street, the residence of the mother of the groom, Mrs. J. Edwin Watt.

The bride can happily claim to be one of Carbondale's fairest daughters. She is blessed with rare charms of person and her character is adorned with the beautiful traits of fine womanhood. Her friendships are without number and she enters her new and happy state of life with the happy consciousness of a multitude of sincere well wishers.

Mr. Watt is a member of one of the oldest and most respected families in Carbondale; than which no family is more closely identified with the history of the city. He is a son of the late J. Edwin Watt, who was a conspicuous figure and one of the most substantial citizens of Carbondale for more than the last quarter of a century. Among the young men of the town he is held in highest favor, and enjoys friendships upon which he can place a high value. This cordial good will and warm friendship are increased on this happy occasion of his life.

Osborne-Spert Nuptials.
The wedding of Miss Florence Osborne and Theodore Spert took place at noon yesterday, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Friend M. Osborne, 12 Commercial avenue. Rev. A. F. Chaffee, pastor of the First Methodist church officiated, uniting the young couple as they stood beneath an arch of evergreen, topped by a keystone of roses in the center of the parlor. The orchestra rendered the march from Lockengien as an accompaniment.

The bride was gowned in blue silk and carried bridal roses. There was no maid or best man.

A reception and wedding dinner followed the ceremony and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Spert left on their wedding tour. On their return, they will reside in a pleasantly furnished residence at No. 6 Drummond avenue. They have a host of friends who hold them in popular esteem.

Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Spert, Mrs. J. W. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spert and daughter, and Fred Spert, of Susquehanna; H. A. Osborne, E. H. Swingle and wife, of Canaan; J. C. Dunham and wife, of Dunmore; and Sanford Swinge and wife, of Green Ridge.

A Profitable Evening.
One of the numbers of the entertainment at St. Aloysius society at St. Rose hall, Friday evening, which will be of particular interest to Carbondalians is the address by Rev. J. J. Curran, of Wilkes-Barre, diocesan president of the Catholic Total Abstinence union. Rev. Father Curran was formerly assistant priest at St. Rose church, this city, and will undoubtedly be greeted by a large audience of Carbondalians, in whose heart he has a warm place.

The program of the evening will be as follows: Piano solo, Mrs. J. P. Loftus; address, Rev. J. J. Curran; vocal solo, E. B. Battle; violin duet, Miss Frances Clark and Edward Carvill; piano accompaniment, Miss May Devine; vocal solo, Miss M. Moffitt; recitation, Miss Mildred Morrison; vocal solo, M. J. Kearney; Irish reel, Owen McAndrew; recitation, Miss Florence McHale; violin solo, Frank Munion;

FOOD TO USE

When Doctor is Not Convenient.
Many people dislike to call in a doctor until it is absolutely necessary; frequently a change of food will work wonders.

A young lady in Russellville, Ky., says: "I was taken ill six weeks ago, and could not take solid food; was only allowed to eat soup and milk. In about a week I got so weak and nervous that I could sleep soundly all night, and in call in a doctor, but I objected, as I didn't feel I needed it, and as much as good food. The next day I had to go to town, and brought back a package of Grape Nuts with me, and I commenced to eat it twice a day in milk. I would get hungry for it from one time to the next. In a few nights I could sleep soundly all night, and in two weeks I was up, and had actually gained flesh, and was as strong as before I got sick.

A HOUSE WRECKED.

August Swackholer's Double Dwelling Sinks with Erie Mine Fall. House Has a Topsy-Turvy Appearance.

The destructive work of the settlements of the Erie mine workings underlying the double dwelling section goes on unchecked. Every little while there is a drop in real estate in that vicinity. Sometimes it is a big area of the roadway, involving the street car tracks, that goes down, interrupting travel and hampering not only the street cars but the shops and round-houses of the Ontario and Western by breaking the water main that supplies them.

A few months ago, the disturbances crept south, until the old "Cottage", the historic home of the Swackholers, twisted and partially wrecked by the heavy fall in the old workings, where robbing of pillars is in progress and is responsible for the degradation that property owners are called upon to suffer, without redress or hope of it.

The latest disturbance and the most destructive of them all, was the beginning of this week, when the double house of August Swackholer was shaken from its foundations and badly wrecked.

The crash came during the night, when the occupants were asleep. The quaking of the house and the noise, which with terrifying apprehension, led to its impression for some time. When morning came the destructive force of the disturbance was realized. The big house was toppled over, its topsy-turvy condition being plainly seen from passing trains on the Ontario and Western, and the trolley cars. The work of re-establishing and repairing the disturbed and damaged dwelling is now under way.

The Swackholer dwelling is located on the corner of "Cottage" and the last house before this that was damaged. This is the direction followed in the "pillar robbing" process. The feeling among property-owners in this vicinity is that the end is not yet, and that almost any kind of settling or disturbance would not surprise them.

Borough Attorney Battenberg was present and gave his opinion on the proper course to pursue. On the motion of Councilman Wheeler, it was decided that the attorney try and effect an amicable settlement with the borough district, if possible, and if necessary to commence legal action for the recovery of the amount.

The committee appointed to investigate the rights reported having seen the representatives of the Lackawanna Valley Light company, who had tried to make the committee believe that the borough was getting better lights than ever before. After a lengthy discussion it was voted to lay the matter over and hold a special meeting, at which the officials of the company and the public interested in the matter are to be invited to be present.

PRINCETON.
Special to the Scranton Tribune.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 19.—Saturday afternoon's football game closed an otherwise entirely satisfactory season for the Tigers of Old Nassau. The team easily disposed of every team it met earlier in the year, and showed up especially strong in the games with Columbia and Cornell. The only team able to cross the Princeton goal line, by direct rushing or running was Yale, the only other score made this season, being that by Washington and Jefferson, which managed to get in a place to kick goal. Saturday's game was entirely unsatisfactory to the great crowd of Princeton partisans, and Yale's victory was especially galling, as it is the third consecutive year that the New Haven bulldog has downed the local tiger.

The game was witnessed by over twenty thousand people, including hundreds and hundreds of old alumni, who came back to their alma mater, accompanied generally by a retinue of friends, whose sympathies were as much on the Princeton side as the Princeton side. There were present a large number of Scrantonians, among the old grads of both Yale and Princeton, as well as many other athletic loving Scrantonians. Mortimer Fuller was a privileged character, inside the side lines with trainers, coaches and scrub players alone, and in the east stand could be seen H. B. Brady of Monroe avenue, formerly manager of the baseball team, accompanied by Mrs. Brady, Attorney W. J. Torrey, Mr. Bliss and Mrs. Bliss, and among the Yale partisans, and Louis A. Lange was also an interested spectator.

As of yore, this year's entering class contains a number of young men from Scranton. Among those numbered in the class of 1906 are H. J. Connolly, J. C. Davis and MacNair Phillips.

Work is being pushed on the splendid new gymnasium, and it is expected that the building will be completed by May 1. Hopes were entertained that it could be finished by Jan. 1, but the difficulties encountered by builders throughout the country in obtaining steel trusses, has Special round trip tickets will be on sale at the station office good going only on this train, and for return on any regular passenger train up to and including December 5. Fall Trip to New York.
New York is interesting whenever you visit it, but the fall days in the great city is always delightful. The parks are at their best. The theatres have attractions which time have made perfect. The stores show a wealth of new and up-to-date merchandise, and the weather is comfortable.

Old Fifth avenue, the pride of the city, is one of the features of visitor should miss, and Central Park and Bronx Park will interest everyone.

No matter where you go, something worth seeing will be found and for a space where the hours are like minutes, New York leads.

A trip to New York does one good, and the opportunity to visit New York under favorable circumstances comes on November 26, when the New Jersey Central runs its Fall Excursion to the great city.
