

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 20.—Except for a few irregular and comparatively unimportant moves, today's stock market was very like that of the preceding days of this week in the sense that attention was focused very largely upon one issue—Manhattan. The increased strength of that stock added to the firm growing belief that important events dealing with the local transportation system are impending. Just what form these probable events will take is still a matter of guess work. Manhattan sold up to 15 1/2, and made a net gain of 3 1/2 points on very heavy transactions. The remainder of the list, irregular for the greater part of the day, made some improvement in the first hour, and the closing was easy, though below the best. Considerable strength was shown by the Gold issues as a group at various times, and there were sporadic rallies elsewhere. The early strength was Sugar and was reported to be due largely to short covering and further gains in the new York Island issues resulted from what appeared to be inside buying. Fractional losses were recorded in the early dealings by all the stock as well as by the more active stocks, while the international group went below London's quotations, though hardening some later. The early reaction was followed by substantial recoveries in St. Paul, Iowa Central, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Louisville and Nashville, Illinois Central and Texas and Pacific, while Missouri Pacific was conspicuously strong. So obviously pronounced were operations all this time, however, that another reaction set in with material declines in some of the issues named. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific were then inclined to heaviness and Manhattan sagged in the absence of confirmatory news. Metropolitan and Brooklyn Transit sold off to the previous day's figures, but there was nothing like a general selling movement, the bear effect showing some fear. The further advance in the afternoon stimulated the rest of the list and "good" buying or Amalgamated Copper was reported. The demand for stocks came chiefly from the shorts and was confined largely to Copper, Sugar, Bonding, New York Central and Manhattan. Total sales today, 1,000,000 shares. The market was much quieter and fluctuations were slight either way. Total sales, par value, $1,250,000. United States bonds were unchanged on the last call.
