

Thanksgiving Day Is Not Far Off..... How About Clothes?

You know the long and successful career of this store. Every year—yes, every season, it grows larger. There must be a good reason for this expansion—for this continued favor of the people of this city. There's only one reason we know of—that's the striving for that perfection which we never reach. Every department shows our best efforts this season. Our styles in Boys' Clothes were never so attractive—never embodied such cloth qualities at the prices marked. Every mother will admit that there's no economy in buying the common quality in Boys' Clothes. We've never handled such clothes and never will. When you consider our styles and our qualities the price we mark them is considerably lower than you would expect.

Here's a Few of Them

Vestee Suits Some very neat cloth patterns have arrived this week in Vestee Suits. $1.75, $2.50 and $3.00	Overcoats We want you to see these Boys' Overcoats. The stylish youth or young man will find here Long Trousers Suits that bear the same stamp of style as found in our Famous Clothes for Men.

The Stylish Suit for Men

It makes quite a difference when you are selecting a suit whether you have 5 or 25 cloth patterns to choose from. There's two double floors here, showing every new cloth pattern. It's a very easy matter to select just the cloth you want. New patterns are added from week to week, so you are sure of getting the very newest. This system of getting the up-to-date things from the tailors as soon as finished does not exist in every store, as you possibly know. See $10 and 12.50 these suit qualities.

The Stylish Overcoat for Men

The man who buys an Overcoat knows pretty well whether the style suits him or not. And we might tell you before going any farther that the Overcoat styles we are showing this season have suited quite a multitude of men so far this season. How about you? Have you seen the coat that looks well on you? The largest assortment in this city is in this store. Don't you think it's the very best place to select your Overcoat? Cloth quality governs the $10 to $18 price.

SAMTER BROTHERS,

COMPLETE OUTFITTERS.

The inhalation of fine particles of coal dust, which are constant irritants of the membranes. Post-mortem examinations have frequently shown to him the lungs of miners as black as anthracite coal. The disease, though incurable, is fatal only in very slight degree, but it has a tendency to superinduce fatal diseases.

Affects the Heart.

The disease also affects the heart nutrition and causes emaciation and general loss of vitality. Very few mine workers can escape at least a mild affection of this complaint. The inhalation of noxious gases also contributes to asthma. A man of forty years affected with chronic asthma is really as old and decrepit as a comparatively healthy man would be at seventy.

The sudden changes of temperature experienced by miners is conducive to catarrh. Stomach troubles among miners, the doctor ascribed to their being compelled to drink water impregnated with deleterious mineral matter. Rheumatism is superinduced by the dampness of the mines. Lumbago results from the crouched position in which the miner has to work. Tubercular diseases are common among miners and are due to lack of nutrition resulting from other diseases. All these diseases are decidedly more prevalent among miners than among other classes of the community.

On cross-examination by Mr. Torrey, of counsel for the Delaware and Hudson, Dr. O'Malley admitted he had never made a comparison of particular diseases of miners with particular diseases of other classes of workmen. He also admitted he had not examined the records of the health bureau here, with a view of getting statistics. The witness could recall the names of only two miners he treated for asthma during the past year and a half, although he was sure there were many more than that.

Amount of Air.

Mr. Torrey brought an admission from the witness that whooping cough is a form of asthma and that whooping cough patients are frequently taken into the mines as a treatment for the disease. A diminution of the amount of asthmatic diseases, the doctor admitted, is resulting from the better ventilation of the mines during the past ten or fifteen years.

The doctor would not admit that asthma has a tendency to prevent consumption. He hesitated to deny it. Mr. Torrey brought out that the law requires 200 cubic feet per minute pure air and the witness admitted this to be ample, though he qualified his answer by saying that many miners, in recesses, away from the gangways or air courses, do not get all the air the law allows.

Chairman Gray looking over the packed room, with direct ventilation on one side only, asked: "How many cubic feet of fresh air is in this room, Doctor?"

Mr. Torrey asked if freedom from consumption was not peculiar to this region. Dr. O'Malley admitted it was not as prevalent as it is in some places. In answer to questions by Chairman Gray as to health of iron mill workers who are subjected to sudden and extreme changes of temperature, said they have acquired a tolerance of these changes and are in a way immune.

About the Hospitals.

Dr. F. P. Lenahan, of Wilkes-Barre, was next called by the miners' side and was examined by Attorney John Shea. He testified that the hospitals of Luzerne county expended, last year $7,696 for maintenance, and of this amount the coal companies contributed only $5,500.

In the last five years the Mervy hospital at Wilkes-Barre, he said, had received only $74 dollars from coal companies. Of this amount $49, all that was solicited, was given by the Parrish Coal company, which has been especially liberal in donations to all the hospitals. The balance was donated by the Susquehanna Coal company.

Mervy hospital, last year, had 734 patients and the Wilkes-Barre city hospital 940 patients, and eighty per cent. of those were miners and members of miners' families.

Fully ninety-eight percent of the mine workers, the doctor said, were anemic and ninety per cent. of them who are fifty years of age are afflicted with rheumatism. The doctor had heard of asthmatic miners expiring of coal dust twenty years after he leaves the mines.

Summing up, the doctor said mining was a very unhealthy occupation. Dr. Lenahan was cross-examined by Major Everett Warren, of this city, of counsel for the Erie company. Major Warren first brought out that the Luzerne county hospitals receive large appropriations from the state and that the bulk of the state taxes are paid by the corporations.

The doctor further stated in answer to Major Warren's questions that he has treated cases of asthma in men thirty years of age and sixty-three years of age; that few miners leave the mines to go into some other employment; that those who do go into other laborious occupations as a rule give them up and go back to the mines, declaring they prefer to work underground.

Dr. Richard H. Gibbons, of Scranton, was called to the stand for the miners a few minutes before 4 o'clock, and was being cross-examined by Attorney James Lenahan at adjournment. Only a few preliminary questions had been asked the witness when the commission rose.

Further testimony of physicians and the re-direct examination of Rev. Dr. Roberts will occur today. It is probable that District President T. D. Nichols will be called to the stand before the day is over.

Proceedings in Book Form.

Recognizing the widespread interest taken all over the country in the testimony and argument before the Anthracite Strike Commission, The Tribune will print in convenient book form the reports appearing in its columns from day to day, and will offer a limited edition of copies for sale at $1 each. The volume will consist of several hundred pages, eight by eleven inches, and will appear as soon as the commissioners render their decision. The daily reports in The Tribune miss nothing of essential interest and are the fullest and most accurate reports printed in any newspaper. Orders should be sent to The Tribune now as the edition is liable to be exhausted.
