THE ANNUAL CONVENTION

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETIES ARE IN SESSION.

They Gathered in the Elm Park Church Yesterday and Reported on the Work Done During the Year and Listened to Helpful and Encouraging Addresses-There Will Be Three Sessions of the Convention Held Today-Delegates Who Are in Attendance.

annual convention of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Park church. There is a large attendof the Central church, Wilkes-Barre, presided. Mrs. Allen, of Wilkes-Barre. conducted the devotional exercises. Rev. ection was taken in response to a num-per of requests from persons who failed lowed by Mrs. Haskins, of Binghamton, and Mrs. G. B. Kulp.

Mrs. William H. Peck, president the Scranton auxiliary, gave a graceful address of welcome in behalf of the ladies of Elm Park church. She quoted from President Roosevelt's statement that "it is home missionary work that prevents the pioneer from sinking perilously near the level of the savage race. Without it the life of this country would have been a life of hard and barren materialism. Because of it we believe that through the national character runs the adherence to a lofty esterday arrested at the instance of ideal on which the safety of the nation will ultimately depend." She welcomed the visitors not as strangers, but coworkers

Rev. Dr. C. M. Giffin made a few happy remarks of welcome in behalf of the church. Mrs. J. W. Nicholson, of the blacks to paths of purity and right-Waverly, made the response in a pleasing vein. Mrs. Pierce B. Butler, of Carbondale, read the report of the last convention held in Wilkes-Barre, and Mrs. George C. Kulp, the corresponding secretary, gave her report, which was interesting as showing an enormous amount of work done during the

Mrs. W. J. Haskins, of Binghamton, read the report of the treasurer, showing the total sum raised in the conference was $2,841,20. The amounts raised by districts were: Binghamton, $574.49; Chenango, $44.30: Honesdale, $198.96; society cannot bridge the chasm be Oneonta, $1,054.93; Owego, $163.51; Wyoming, $858.67.

Roll Call of Districts.

Mrs. Mogg introduced Rev. O. L. Severson, of West Pittston; Rev. J. L. Race, of Scranton, and Rev. Dr. Samuel Moore, of Binghamton. The roll-call of districts followed. Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Childs and Mrs. M. D. Fuller were appointed a committee on place of meetng. Mrs. J. W. Nicholson, Mrs. Tuckley and Mrs. Santee were appointed as committee on resolutions.

Mrs, Goewey, secretary of the Binghamton district, read a report of work done there. Mrs. Kulp read the report of the Wyoming district, Mrs. Palmer that of the Oneonta district and Mrs Butler a brief report of the Carbondale

Mrs. George B. Kulp told of a proposal to name a room in Rust hall in honor of Mrs. W. H. Pearce, the dearly loved former officer of the missionary ety in Wyoming confere Philadelphia. A vote was taken and the money which had been raised for that purpose was specifically devoted to Miss Helen Santee, of West Pittston, gave an interesting paper on "The Young People's Work." She told of the vast amount of value the young people re doing in foreign and home fields. Miss Edith Kyte, of West Pittston, read a report of the work done in that society, which has a membership of forty-three, and which supports a bed in a Mississippi church home. She gave many valuable hints for service. The Young Ladies' society of Elm Park church has just been formed. The report was given by Mrs. T. H. Dale. Miss Bradshaw, of Plymouth, reported for the society in that church, which is a new organization.

Young Women's Society.

Mrs. T. L. Tompkinson, correspond ing secretary of the Central Pennsylvania conference, made an address upon the work of young women's socicties. She suggested the adoption of the name "Queen Esther Circle" for these organizations, and discussed a number of constitutional questions. The and bowling for chicken and turkeys session closed for a social hour, Rev. at the Arlington alleys, 929 Pittston avenue, tonight. The evening session opened with deotional exercises, conducted by Dr. Giffin. Mrs. C. E. Mogg presided with dignity and grace, the Elm Park choir street, sang an anthem. The address of the occasion was to have been delivered by Rev. Dr. Taber, of Binghamton, but owing to illness he was unable to be present. In his place appeared Mrs. T. L. Tompkinson, of Williamsport, the secretary of the Central Pennsylvania Wyoming conference opened its first conference. She is perhaps more fa-session yesterday afternoon in Elm miliar with home missionary work in all its varied details than any other ance of delegates and visitors from all person. Her advice is sought by many over the conference. Mrs. C. E. Mogg, denominations and her knowledge is considered of the greatest value.

She began her address by alluding to the place which mosaics hold in the world of art, where the naked eye can scarcely detect the joining. In the mosaic of the eternal plan women have been given one little piece to polish and perfect and adjust for the complete and beautiful scheme.

Organization is affecting much, and in this the Home Missionary societies are given the vast opportunity of the world. Mrs. Tompkinson gave a brief history of the foreign and home societies. The latter dates back eleven years, when a block of opaque crystal was placed by God in women's hands to prepare for the great picture which is to be per fected. It was the call of opportunity at the hour of pressing need. Woman was not only invited to foreign lands where she had hitherto been excluded but the needs at home cried out for her service. The hand of a Christian wom an was needed in the South to lead ousness. The railroads spanning the West opened up new territory. The immigrants were coming, many with religion no better than paganism, and the great Northwest was beckening into her land of gold. God called women to this work and laid the work at her door. It was then the Woman's Home Missionary society, of the Methodist church arose. It does a work that no other society in the church can do. The Foreign Missionary society cannot touch this work. The Freedmen's Aid tween the school life and the cabin life in the South. The address was filled with incidents relating to the work among the strange people, the black people, the Indians. and the immigrants who swarm over America. Mrs. Tompkins will speak again today. The convention will be in ession morning, afternoon and even-

JURORS HAD TO BE DISCHARGED

THEY COULD NOT REACH AN AGREEMENT.

After Being Out from Wednesday Afternoon Until Yesterday Afternoon Judge Newcombe Relieved the Jurors in the Case of C. L. Rice Against C. L. Smith from Further Consideration of the Case-Suit of A. S. Kime Against City of Scranton on Trial.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of C. L. Rice against C. L. Smith, which retired Wednesday afternoon, came into court and reported to Judge Newcombe that they were unable to agree and that there was no possibility that they would be able to agree. The judge thereupon discharged them from further consideration of the

Just before adjournment the jury retired to consider the case of A. S. Kime against the city of Scranton. Mr. Kime alleged that his property was damaged to the extent of $1,000 by water backing from the sewer into the cellar of his property. Kime was represented by Attorneys M. J. Martin and M. A. McGinley, and the city by Solicitor George M. Watson and Assistant Solicitor David J. Davis.

The city offered no evidence but after the plaintiff rested, asked for hinding instructions on the ground that it had not been shown that the city owned the sewer or was in any way responsible for its condition. Judge Newcombe refused the motion and allowed the case to go to the jury.

The case of the Connor Carriage com pany against William McBride, which is on next week's list was referred to Attorney M. A. McGinley.
