Judge Kelly Is Called Upon to Decide a Novel Question in Habeas Corpus Proceedings Instituted Yesterday-Suit for $10,000 Instituted on Behalf of an Eight-Year-Old Boy-Filling the Jury Wheel for 1903-Cases in Common Pleas Court-Will of Mary Snover.

A case that is likely to develop some interesting features was instituted yes-terday before Judge Kelly. An out-line of it is succinctly given in the following:

To the Honorable, the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Lackawanna County: The petition of Minnie E. Smith, or Scranton, respectfully represents.

That Edward Loughlin, who is a citizen of the city of Scranton, is unlawfully restrained of his liberty, and detained against his will by one, Dr. Charles E. Thompson, in the Thompson hospital on Wyoning the Company of the Co Wyoming avenue, upon no criminal or supposed criminal offense, whatsoever. That he is suffering from an attack of paralysis, or apoplexy, and was removed from his home in Green Ridge, Scranton, contrary to his own wishes, .

That he is desirous of being removed from said hospital and taken to his own home, to be cared for there by your peti-tioner and others. Your petitioner is his great niece and has had entire charge of his house since the death of his wife, more than five years last past, and this petition is made in his behalf, he having no other relatives in Lackawanna county. She, therefore, prays your honor, to issue a writ of habeas corpus for his rellef.

Minnie E. Smith.

Judge Kelly issued a writ directed to Dr. Thompson, to appear at 9 o'clock this morning to show cause why the petition should not be granted. Edward Laughlin, it appears, is possessed of considerable wealth, being worth somewhere in the neighborhood of $18,000. A brother, Edgar Laughlin, living in Moscow, who is represented by Attorney John M. McCourt, was re-sponsible for his being moved to the hospital. The grandniece, Minnle E. Smith, represented by ex-Judge J. W. Carpenter and Attorney E. H. Shurtleff, wants that she should have care of the invalid, believing that it is Laughlin's desire she should care for him, and inadvertently that he is desirous of making provision for her.

Judge Kelly, in the main court room. is engaged in the trial of the case of William Zucrae, a North Scranton Polander, against the Scranton Railway company. L. P. Wedeman and F. E. Boyle represent the plaintiff. Ex-Judge E. N. Willard and Hon, C. P. O'Malley, of Willard, Warren & Knapp appear Suit for $10,000 Damages.

Hon, John P. Quinnan and Thomas P. Hoban, yesterday brought suit in Prothonotary Copeland's office to recover $10,000 damages from the Suburban Electric Light company for per-sonal injuries to William, the eight-year-old son of Martin Canfield, of Hemlock street.

The boy, so it is alleged, was returning from school, Nov. 25, 1900, and was asked by one of the company's linemen to come up on the repairs wagon and assist in winding some wire. The wagon started up and the boy, falling off, got his legs caught in the spokes of a wheel. One leg was so badly crushed it had to be amputated and the other was fractured in two places. The company, it is claimed, became liable because of its agent having enticed a child into a dangerous position

MITCHELL TO WRITE A BOOK

IT IS TO DEAL WITH THE RE-CENT STRIKE.

For Some Time Past He Has Been Receiving Offers to Lecture and Write, and Has Finally Agreed to Write a Book for a Chicago Firm. A Good Portion of It Has Already Beeen Prepared and Only Needs to Be Arranged and Edited-May Be Out in Two Months.

In the face of the sorry experience before the strike commission of Rev. Peter Roberts, Ph.D., President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, is bent on writing a book.

This, however, will not occasion great surprise among those who know Mr. Mitchell, for they know, in the first place, that he is wont to take desperate chances, and, in the second place, that he is not Rev. Peter Roberts, Mr. Mitchell's determination was announced in this city to personal friends on Sunday. He has been importuned by lecture bureaus and publishers to enlist himself in their service, but, be-cause of his desire to devote all his time and attention to his organization, he refused one after the other of the enticing offers. When, however, he saw that he was soon to have some leisure, he agreed to accept the offer of a Chicago publishing house and give them

He proposes to deal with the subject of the 1902 coal strike and its outcome as applied to the great problem of the relations of capital and labor. In the book, he will give the inside history of the strike, as far as he can without betraying confidence.

Most of the matter is already in shape for the printer and requires only editing and arranging to make it ready for publication. The book will likely be out inside of two months.
