Junior Drug Clerk's Fatal Mistake—New Circle Organized—Notes and Personal Mention.

Considerable local interest is manifested in the case of William J. Rogers, the young drug clerk, who is under arrest in New York city, charged with the death of two persons, through an error on his part in mixing a deadly poison with castor oil, and selling it to a little Italian girl.

Rogers was employed as a clerk in Justin Smith's Lincoln Heights pharmacy on South Main avenue, until a few months ago, when he went to New York to work and take a course of study in one of the pharmaceutical colleges. He is a son of Mrs. Susanna Rogers, and their home is at 31 Landis street, Bellevue Hotel.

The unfortunate case happened a week ago yesterday, and one of the victims was a baby boy or six months and the other was his grandmother, sixty years old. Rogers was employed as a "junior" clerk in the drug store of Theodore Renneberg, at Ninth avenue and West Seventeenth street.

His mistake was made in using oil of sassafras, or bitter almond oil, in place of oil of sweet almonds, to mix with castor oil. Oil of sassafras has hydrocyanic acid as its base, and like other cyanide compounds, it emits an odor like that of bitter almonds.

Rogers is 18 years of age, and is not licensed as a drug clerk. He was locked up without bail and has since been confined in the Tombs, where his mother and relatives have since visited him. Mr. Renneberg, the proprietor of the store, was also arrested, and held in $2,000 bail on the charge of manslaughter in the second degree.

The young man is quite well known in Bellevue, and while in the employ of Mr. Smith was known to be very careful in the handling of drugs.

the Happy Wedding." The popularity of this young pastor increases with each succeeding service.

SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES.

John Powinsky Spent Thanksgiving Day Trying to Ball Out the Roaring Brook.

On Thursday, a man who had his own notion of how to celebrate Thanksgiving, got into the Roaring Brook, just below the Robinson brewery, and for over an hour battled water with a leaky can in a fruitless endeavor to dry up the creek. Failing in this, he waded about, up and down and across, working his legs vigorously, with the evident intention of swamping or spilling up the water.

His strange actions attracted the attention of many people, and finally the police were notified. He was taken in custody by Patrolmen Rose and Boland and after a desperate struggle was landed in the station house on Alder street. Yesterday he gave his name to the police as John Powinsky, and his honor in return gave him the option of paying $5 for his liberty or going to jail. The money was paid.

Coming Concert.

The Junger Macnerchor, whose members have been hard at work all year under the excellent leadership of Prof. Hauser, have decided to give a concert in the near future, and with that end in view have appointed a committee of arrangements.

As they have been met heretofore in securing a hall on this side large enough, it was suggested that perhaps the Hickory street parish house, which is much the largest auditorium on this side, could be secured. With this end in view, a committee waited on the proper authorities, and were highly gratified to have their desire granted. The concert will take place Tuesday, December 2.

Fire on Market Street.

An alarm was turned in from Box 81, at 8:30 last evening, caused by a fire which broke out in the Regan building, at West Market street and Brick Avenue.

The second floor, where the fire occurred, was occupied by the kindergarten, and two of Janitor Burns' children were in the room playing when the fire started. Two young boys, who were standing on the opposite side of the street, discovered the fire, and men who were in Regan's hotel went upstairs and threw the burning material into the street.

The fire was slight, and the fire was extinguished before the hose companies arrived.

A public meeting will be held in the Auditorium tonight to protest against the service given by the Scranton Railway company. HUGHES, CRACKERJACKS' CENTER.

Hughes, center of the Crackerjacks, was the first-class aggregation, who have reduced the passing of the pigskin to a science. What they lacked in weight they more than made up in star plays and energetic work.

At the end of the first half the score stood 6-5 in favor of the home team, but the second half changed things. During this half the visitors had the locals at their mercy. The work of Hollowell, the left forward of Paterson, was much admired by the audience.

Hughes, of the Stars, played a great game for the home team. His dribbling and shooting was the best ever done by him in the Auditorium. The game ended with the score 23-14, in favor of Paterson. The teams lined up as follows:

Paterson—Forwards, McNab and Bommell; center, Brownlow; guards, Ramsey and Catehley.

Crackerjacks—Forwards, Davis and Jefferys; center, Hughes; guards, P. McCluskie and Jones.
